GUNS OF TWO NATIONS ARE READY FOR BATTLE AT DROP OF THE HAT

Russia Makes No Move to Evacuate Manchuria and Japan's Navy Bristles With Indignation.

CZAR'S ASIATIC SQUADRON PUTS ON THE PAINT OF WAR

Report Reaches Paris That a Formidable Russian Fleet Has Left Port Arthur to Occupy the Corean Coast.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

Port Arthur, Oct. 8.—It is denied here in the highest quarters that the Japanese are landing troops in Corea. The Japanese squadron is maneuvering. The Russian fleet is perfectly ready for action. It is lying with steam up and the vessels painted as in war time.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 8.—A telegram from Yin Kow today states that the Russians are taking no steps to evacuate Newchwang. Reports from the north show that they are holding their positions everywhere.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 8.—According to information received here, the Russian minister at Peking, M. Lessar, has informed the Chinese foreign office that Russia will never evacuate Manchuria unless her latest demands are granted.

According to all Chinese reports today, the date fixed for the evacuation of parts of Manchuria by the Russian troops passed without a Russian move toward the evacuation of Manchuria. In the meantime the Russo-Japanese negotiations regarding Corea and Manchuria are proceeding at Tokio between the Japanese cabinet and the Russian minister, Baron DeRosen. The latter is acting under direct instructions from Admiral Alexieff, viceroy of the far east.

The prospect is considered doubtful unless Russia makes substantial concessions. The rumor of the Japanese rejection of the Russians' demands is officially denied. The press today was officially warned against indulging in sensationalism.

China is understood to be waiting for the result of Japan's negotiation before further treating with Russia for the evacuation of Manchuria.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Although a Paris dispatch says that a formidable Russian fleet has arrived at Ma-Son-Pho bay, the latest report from Port Arthur appears to indicate that the bulk of the Russian fleet is still here. It has, however, been painted as in war time.

Ma-Son-Pho is in the southeastern part of Corea, on the sea coast, opposite Japan. Russia has long desired the occupation of this port, and negotiations for a concession there were in progress for several years. These were said to have been terminated on March 30, 1900, when Corea granted Russia a site there for a coaling depot and a naval hospital. Russia then renounced her purpose to acquire land on the mainland opposite Ma-Son-Pho harbor. The Russian minister at Seoul in May, 1900, informed the Corean government that Ma-Son-Pho would be used as winter quarters for the Russian fleet. Japanese vessels seldom go there, but usually select Fusan, a few miles further north, as a port of call.

Comparison of the Russian and Japanese naval forces in the far east, side by side in Corean waters, as reported in Paris dispatches, is regarded a development of the far eastern question which may be productive of sinister results.

Tinder Waiting for a Spark.

Neither state department officials nor diplomats here feel warranted as yet in using the word "war" in connection with the differences between Russia and Japan. It is realized, however, that the situation is like tinder and that a single spark might bring on a conflagration. The proximity of Russian and Japanese fighting ships at a time when national feeling is running so high, especially in Japan, is regarded an element of danger, not because of any premeditated engagement, but because of the possibility of an accidental clash between sailors or commanders which would cause events to move much faster than under ordinary circumstances. No advices have been received here confirmatory of the naval mobilization report.

While the sea fighting forces of the two powers were much in evidence six months ago when Japan took violent exception to Russian demands on China in regard to the evacuation of Manchuria, the situation was not then regarded as critical because it had not been preceded by a long period of rumors of preparation for war as is now the case.

Russia has steadily, during the last three years, been increasing her fleet in Asiatic waters until it is now stronger than the combined naval forces of any two powers, except Japan.

Russia's Force Complete.

The Russian naval force is complete in every detail. It includes transports which could be utilized for invasion of Japan by carrying troops from Dalney, the terminal of the trans-Siberian railroad.

The mobilization of the fighting forces of the two powers is taken as showing that they both have thrown off the mask and acknowleaged that the Manchurian question is of the past and less vital than the Corean situation. Japan is directing the protest against Russia's aggressive policy in Corea more than in Manchuria. The reported movements of Russian regiments to the frontier of Corea is regarded as the expected consequence of the declination of the request that Russian lumber concessionaires in Corea be protected, made upon the Corean government by M. Havlow, the Russian minister at Seoul. He was reported as declaring that if Corea did not protect the concessionaires Russian troops would be thrown into the troubled districts for that purpose. The report that Russia has proposed to Japan the partition of Corea, the upper half going to Russia, the lower to Japan, is not regarded here as well founded. It is, however, believed that Russia may have made some proposition in regard to the continuance of Russia and Japan in Corea.

War Expected in London.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(Special Cable.)—No surprise would be felt in well-informed circles here if the news came that Russia and Japan had come to blows in Corean waters. This was the day fixed for the Russian evacuation in Manchuria. Nobody has really felt that the czar intended to keep his promise, so no disappointment was felt over the fact that the Russian is as firmly in control in Manchuria as ever he was and that he is liable to remain so unless he is compelled by force of arms to relinquish his hold on the plifered provinces.

That Japan felt the situation was serious was evinced by the concentration of

MORGAN HASTENS TO DENY CHARGE

Statement Says His Company Had No Part in Shipbuilding Formation.

FIGURES LOOK SUSPICIOUS

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

New York, Oct. 8.—Messrs. J. P. Morgan & Co. made the following statement today in reference to the testimony given by Daniel LeRoy Dresser in the shipbuilding hearing:

"Neither the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. nor any partner ever had any connection with the inception, organization or financing of the United States Shipbuilding Company, nor have they ever received or owned any of its securities. As managers of United States Steel Corporation syndicate we held Bethlehem Steel Company stock until a purchaser was found.

"It was transferred to the United States Shipbuilding Company at exact cost and preferred and common stock which were received in lieu of interest and earnings of the company were sold at private sale for $75,000, and the proceeds were distributed as part of the profit of the United States Steel syndicate. Any statement that we were parties to any agreement for selling stock is wholly untrue."

The formal statement issued by Morgan & Co. was later amplified by a member of the firm who declared that the $75,000 mentioned in the original statement represented the sum which his firm has received for the $5,000,000 (par value) common and preferred shares of the shipbuilding company. It could not be learned when or to whom this stock had been sold, but the low price which it brought suggests that the sale was of comparatively recent date.

It was also denied by this same firm member that Morgan & Co. had been in any way parties to an agreement of the terms by which their shares in the United States Shipbuilding Company were to be marketed and sold before any other stock of the shipbuilding company was placed on the market.

The disclosures regarding the organization of the United States Shipbuilding Company have caused the severest criticism. The Herald will say tomorrow morning:

"Disclosures made in probing the formation of the bankrupt United States Shipbuilding Company have brought to light what Wall street and the banking world considered last night the worst financial scandal within the memory of this generation."

AUTOS WALLOW IN MUDDY ROADS

ARE RUNNING IN DRIVING RAIN

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Binghamton, Oct. 8. — Tonight some of the cars in the automobile endurance race from New York to Pittsburgh have reached here in a condition that tells the tale of a terrific battle with bad roads. Thirty-three of the 34 cars left Pine Hill this morning in a blinding rainstorm, and until the stop tonight it was a continuous struggle with the elements.

However, at 4:50 this afternoon the two Pilot cars reached here, having started 54 minutes ahead of the other contestants. One of the drivers, Fred Mikerson, said that in all his experience, including the driving of a car over the Rocky mountains, he had never been on such an uncomfortable ride.

Winsor T. White explained that his car had been in mud and water up to the hubs of the wheels for a great portion of the time, and that water frequently poured over the dashboard. Mr. White reported an exceedingly dangerous place about four miles from Binghamton, where the road runs over a narrow causeway for several hundred feet.

The officials sent a car with red light to the station at the entrance of the causeway to warn the drivers as they came in.

The first car in at 6:43 o'clock was No. 5, followed at 7:25 by No. 40. Up to 9 o'clock eight cars had reached the garage. All were covered with mud, and the operators were in many cases so chilled and weak that they could scarcely stand after leaving their machines.

H. W. Chapin, the observer assigned to No. 13, reported on foot at the garage shortly after 9 o'clock. He stated that the car had broken its transmission gear at 10:45 o'clock this morning after covering about 30 miles of the day's run. The machine was rendered helpless and the observer had a 14-mile drive to a railway station.

Car No. 55 was claimed by its operator, F. B. Stearns, to have been the first car into Unadilla. An accident during the afternoon caused by its skidding and running into a stonewall injured the steering gear and caused a slight detention.

Up to 12 o'clock, 15 cars had reached the garage. E. T. Fetch said today's run was the hardest with regard to weather and road conditions that he had ever experienced.

DYNAMITE FOUND UNDER HAYSTACK

Reserve Stock of Northern Pacific Blackmailers Discovered by a Ranchman.

REWARD INCREASED TO $5,000

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Helena, Mont., Oct. 8.—The Northern Pacific detectives, now making Helena their headquarters, have received word that two sacks of dynamite were found Tuesday near Townsend. The powder was found by Nick Rovig, a ranchman, who lives six miles west of Townsend, and whose place is on the line of the railroad. Four days ago Rovig drove to a stack after a load of hay. Arriving there he found a man asleep, who awoke at his approach. The man said nothing, but mounted his horse and rode off.

The horse looked nearly dead. Mr. Rovig thought, from its appearance, it had been ridden a long distance. The circumstance did not arouse his suspicion, and he gave the incident no further thought until Tuesday night, when, in getting a load of hay from the stack, he found two sacks of giant powder. Rovig at once notified the Northern Pacific authorities in Townsend. The powder was secured and placed in a safe place.

It was then thought to be part of that stolen from the powder house of the A. M. Holter Company three weeks ago. Rovig was able to give a description of the man who was found asleep in the hay stack. The officers believe that the blackmailers intended to use the powder near the point at which it was concealed.

Unless the dynamiters have been able to replenish their stock of explosives they are now about out of powder. Extraordinary precautions have been taken to prevent them securing additional supplies. Powder houses are being watched and all stores selling explosives are on the lookout for men who make inquiries concerning powder. The Northern Pacific Railroad Company has increased the reward it offered for the arrest and conviction of the blackmailers from $2,500 to $5,000.

DAMNING EVIDENCE HELD AGAINST TWO ATTORNEYS

Federal Grand Jury Returns Indictments Against Former Postoffice Officials for Accepting Bribes. Have Checks Used in Alleged Deal.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

Cincinnati, Oct. 8.—Daniel V. Miller, late assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, and Attorney Joseph Johns were indicted by the United States grand jury today charged with conspiracy to bribe.

Miller was employed as second assistant to Attorney General Tyner of the postoffice department. Johns was an attorney at Rockville, Ind., where he was arrested May 27. Miller was arrested the same day in his offices at Washington.

The charge is of conspiracy to bribe John J. Ryan of J. J. Ryan & Co., turf commissioners. A fraud order had been issued against the Ryan firm, suspending all its mail. Ryan and Judge Outcalt went to Washington to argue their case. Attorney Miller representing the other side. Ryan claimed his firm had enough money to pay all depositors in full and as a result of the hearing Acting Attorney General Christiancy recommended that the postoffice inspectors make another investigation and a second time a fraud order was recommended.

A few days later, according to telegrams produced before the grand jury, Miller telegraphed Johns to deal with Ryan. A meeting was held at the Gibson house between Johns and Ryan, in which Ryan paid $4,500, of which $2,500 was for a favorable decision on the scheme allowing Ryan's continued use of the mails and $2,000 was for revising Ryan's advertising matter so as to conform to the ruling of the attorney general. Ryan paid the amounts in checks, which are held as evidence against Johns and Miller.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—A bench warrant was issued today by Justice Pritchard for the arrest of State Senator George Green of Binghamton, N. Y., who was indicted on Monday by the district grand jury in the postoffice cases for conspiracy to defraud the government. The last indictment against Green is practically the same as a previous one charging him with fraud in connection with the sale of the clocks to the postoffice department.

William D. Doremus, who was recently indicted here as the result of the investigation of the supply by him of the stamp-cancelling machines, sold to the postoffice department, today appeared in the criminal court and gave $10,000 bail furnished by a guarantee company.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—George Beavers surrendered himself again upon another indictment returned against him recently in Washington, charging still another conspiracy to defraud the government through contracts made for supplies furnished the postoffice department. Mr. Beavers furnished $5,000 bail for preliminary examination on October 27. This indictment is the fifth returned against Mr. Beavers.

WILD MAN HELD POLICE AT BAY WITH LARGE STONES

Jumped Through Car Window and Was Picked Up for Dead; Then Terrorized a Town.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., Oct. 8.—Wesley Hedges, traveling on a Big Four train, accompanied by his wife and three children, en route from Jacksonville, Va., to La Harpe, Ill., suddenly became deranged while on the train, and after arriving here held the police at bay for a long time. While the train was running 50 miles an hour Hedges suddenly gave a wild scream, and seizing one of his children, plunged through the car window into the darkness. His wife grabbed the boy just as the man disappeared.

The trainmen stopped the train and with the assistance of the passengers a torch search along the track was made. The searchers soon came on Hedges lying near a telegraph pole. He was picked up for dead and placed in the baggage car and brought to this city. Shortly after arriving here he began to show signs of life.

Left in the station unguarded, Hedges again became violent and sprang out of the station and ran down the streets pursued by the whole police force. Large stones which he picked up he used in keeping his pursuers at bay. He was finally overpowered and taken to jail.

POLICEMEN GET THEIR ORDERS

Must Work for the Bigelow Ticket Under Penalty of Dismissal.

PLEDGE IS IGNORED

Supt. McTighe Has His Men Told They Must Pay No Attention to Reform Promises.

GRIMES IS THE MOUTHPIECE

"Support the Citizens ticket or you will be without a job."

This was the substance of the order given the Pittsburgh policemen yesterday before roll call at the 10 station houses. The order was sent out by Superintendent of Police John P. McTighe and it was imparted to the officers by his captains and lieutenants. The police were plainly told they must work for the Citizens party during the fall campaign or they would be looking for work.

The officers do not like the manner in which the order was issued. To be driven is not to their liking. And as many of them are holding their positions temporarily on the promise of something better, they did not hesitate to express themselves about the brutal manner in which they were instructed to gather in votes.

When the day officers assembled at the Central police station for duty, Lieut. Charles Grimes ordered everybody from the room and closed the doors. He told the officers what was expected of them. They are to get to work in their districts and drag the voters to the polls next month. Grimes told the officers that insubordination would not be tolerated. If any of the officers were dissatisfied naw was the time for them to say so. If there were any kickers before him they must speak out. Their positions would be filled at once. Orders of the same nature were issued to the squad that went on duty at noon and the night squad was also informed behind closed doors.

Officers from these different squads were seen on their beats and they protested against the methods of the bosses.

"It is pretty hard to have to take orders when promises have been broken with you," said a well-known officer on a downtown beat. "I worked in three fights for the Citizens under the supposition that I was to be made a captain. When the party took hold of the administration the best I got was a beat. Now orders are jammed in my face. Well it's a secret ballot we cast and what's the difference."

The broken promises of the bosses was a sore reminder to some of the officers. They had been promised positions from sergeants to inspectors. When the appointments came they found themselves walking the streets. Others complained of the partiality shown Supt. McTighe's relations. This was bitter medicine to them. The appointment of Capt. Matthew Gorman, Supt. McTighe's relative, was not popular with the officers.

"Still we will have to stand for it for a while," said an officer as he left the safety building last night, "so there is no use of kicking now. Wait until election day."

And these orders were given in the face of the promise to the public that if the Citizens party were given control of the government, city employes would be kept out of politics.

SHEET STEEL COMPANY CLOSES STRUTHERS PLANT

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 8.—Acting under instructions from superior officers the plant of the American Sheet Steel Company at Struthers was closed today and the employes paid in full. The only statement made is that the volume of business is not sufficient to have the mill continue in operation. The Struthers mill is one of the finest of the American Sheet Steel Company's plants and employs a large number of men. No statement was made as to when the mill might resume.

Davis Memorial Hospital Opened

CUMBERLAND, MD., Oct. 8.—The Davis Memorial hospital at Elkins, W. Va., built by ex-Senator Davis in memory of his son who was drowned off the coast of Africa while touring the world, was opened today. The building was erected at a cost of $84,000.

PRESIDENT TAKES HAND IN COLORADO MUDDLE

Advises Gov. Peabody to Avoid Conflict With the Civil Authorities.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

DENVER, COL., Oct. 8.—President Roosevelt, it is semi-officially stated here, has taken a hand in the Cripple Creek strike situation. The president, it is said, had been keeping in touch with the situation since it reached an acute stage and disapproves of the stringent methods adopted by the militia in dealing with the strikers.

While the action he has taken has necessarily been of an unofficial character, it has been none the less effective. He has advised Gov. Peabody that harsh methods are more likely to do harm than good and that the militia's function is not to coerce the miners' union but to protect property and prevent disorder. The governor has taken the president's advice in good part, and has directed that portion of the national guard that still remains on duty in the strike region to modify its methods and to avoid any conflict with the civil authorities.

The course pursued by Gens. Chase and Bell has had the effect of causing strife between the civil officials and arrayed public sentiment against the military. The legality of their assumption that martial law existed in the strike region has not been completely established and it has been decided to allow the civil authorities to deal with the situation as long as possible, using the military as an auxiliary when necessary.

ENGLAND AT MERCY OF ALL

Sir George Barkley Deplores the Nation's Commercial Helplessness.

CHAMBERLAIN TO WIN

He Foresaw a Crisis and Is Now Battling to Save Their Manufactures.

AN ELECTION IS PROBABLE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Penn Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 8.

Sir George Barkley and Lady Barkley of London are at the Walton. Sir George is in this country as a member of a commission appointed to examine into the electric railroads as applied to municipal traffic in large cities. He is one of the oldest members in years of service in the house of commons and is a Conservative.

When asked this evening if in his opinion Mr. Chamberlain was likely to have a large following in his new departure on the tariff question, he said:

"As things are at present England is at your mercy commercially. She has no means of defending herself. Now we may all say, all thinking men, will say, we do not like war, but if a man shoots at us we naturally wish to shoot back.

"England is at present the dumping ground for cheap goods of all kinds from your country and from Germany and France. You send to us everything you do not want, but you have built up a wall in the way of protection which prohibits us from sending our goods in return. Our only hope is to adopt similar tactics, not that I believe in a protective tariff, but I think it would set you people to thinking, and you would in time open your doors to us so that we could find a market with your people for our manufactures. I would like to see the whole world adopt free trade.

"As to Mr. Chamberlain's chance of success, I do not think he will gather a very large following at first. It will be a long and arduous fight, but in the end I think he will win. I have stood for contests in my district, and expect to have another soon."

"Then you think a general election probable in the near future?"

"I do not see how it can be avoided. I do not see how the cabinet, as at present constituted, can hold together longer than the early spring. I think Mr. Chamberlain foresaw this and withdrew so that he might be ready and free when the time came. I do not think our party can expect a victory, and imagine that there will be a short turn of the other side, when we will come in again. We have been in a long time now, and you know the people demand a change once in a while."

CHESTER D. POTTER.

PLEADED NOT GUILTY

Mrs. Johnston to Fight Charges of Embezzlement Made Against Her.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Mary Layton Johnston, who is charged with the embezzlement of several thousands of dollars from the United States Playing Card Company of Cincinnati, entered a plea of not guilty in the court of general sessions today to five indictments charging forgery and grand larceny. Her counsel gave a notice of a motion to inspect the minutes of the grand jury, alleging the defense had no opportunity of presenting its side of the case.

The defense insisted that an officer of the company is the guilty person and had witnesses in court yesterday to support this contention. Bail was fixed at $1,200.

NEW WESTINGHOUSE COMPANY ORGANIZED

The officers elected were: George Westinghouse, president; H. H. Westinghouse, vice president; F. H. Taylor, vice president; Paul J. E. Myler, general manager and treasurer; John H. Kerr, secretary.

PITTSBURGH TRAINMEN CRUSHED UNDER WRECK

W. D. Nelson Killed and George Beale Fatally Injured—Allegheny Freight Crashes Into Landslide and Locomotive Plunges Into River.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Oil City, Pa., Oct. 8.—A landslide on the Buffalo & Allegheny division of the Pennsylvania railroad caused the death of one man and fatal injury of another shortly after 6 o'clock this morning.

THE DEAD.

W. D. NELSON, fireman, Pittsburgh; crushed under locomotive; taken to East Brady.

THE INJURED.

GEORGE BEALE, engineer, Pittsburgh; pinned under locomotive and burned by escaping steam; taken to East Brady, will probably die.

The train on which the men met their death was a heavily loaded southbound freight. It was running at a good rate of speed in the fog of the early morning as it passed through Tillville, eight miles north of East Brady. It is not known at what time the slide occurred, but it took the track with it for 30 feet. This was not seen by Engineer Beale until he was almost upon it, and then the engine, tender, and five of the cars plunged from the hanging rails and crashed down the embankment for 50 feet to the water.

The locomotive rolled over and sank into the river. The fireman and engineer were the only ones in the cab of the locomotive, and neither had time to jump. Back in the rear of the train were Conductor Joseph Magee and Brakeman J. F. Hogan, and they escaped with a severe jolting, since that part of the train remained on the track.

Fireman Nelson was terribly crushed, and was tossed out of the engine before it reached the river. He died in a few minutes. Engineer Beale also was thrown out at about the same spot. Both were pinned under the engine.

The tracks were blocked until a late hour tonight. Twenty cars had to be burned. All through trains between Oil City and Pittsburgh are being sent via New Castle. Engineer Beale leaves a widow and several small children, one of whom is a two weeks' old baby.

BRITAIN STRONG IN BATTLESHIPS

BERESFORD'S GREAT FLEET

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Col. Robert M. Thompson of New York, well known for his interest in the affairs of the American navy, has been telling his friends in Washington of his observations while a guest of Lord Charles Beresford on the flagship Majestic during the recent maneuvers.

"When the three fleets participating in these maneuvers were combined," remarked Col. Thompson, "there were 72 battleships and cruisers, with nearly 40,000 men, all under the command of one admiral—probably the strongest fleet ever brought together in the history of the world. This enormous assemblage of vessels was handled without a single break; when the entire 72 ran to anchor in eight lines, had there been a straight edge placed in front of them it would not have shown a ship, it seems to me, a foot out of position. They made a flying moor, and when you consider that in point of time, at the speed the ships were going, they were only one minute apart, every seaman will appreciate how wonderfully they must have been handled.

"The British navy is in a splendid state of efficiency. The target practice is excellent; the drill is excellent. The esprit de corps is as near perfect as anything can be. The entire force works together, and every man from the bottom up takes the greatest interest in what he is doing. That navy, with our own, could meet the navies of the world.

England Could Whip Two.

"The British alone could overpower any two of the continental nations, and were she to meet three, while that is not to be thought desirable, there would be certain elements in England's favor not ordinarily reckoned. No combination of navies, for example, could by any stretch of endeavor make so effective a single fleet. There would be a lot of disjointed units. Their coaling stations and cables the world over give the British a great advantage; their fleets would be able to keep at sea longer than those of any other power.

"I believe England could bottle up the Red sea by her fortifications at Aden so that no enemy could sail through, unless by stealth, or perhaps by getting a start before hostilities opened, or by some subterfuge. The Indian empire is her vulnerable point, but this weakness is offset by her strength at the approaches of Suez canal, the great artery of the world's commerce. It would be no small penalty to compel hostile ships to go around the Capes, and this she would be able to do.

"The British naval program has for years been to build as much as any other two nations. She does not count us in this calculation, for she never intends to challenge our Monroe doctrine, the defense of which is our chief reason for needing a large navy. But a side from us, England is maintaining this relation.

Strength of Foreign Navies.

"She has 42 battleships; France has 39, Russia 13 and Germany 12. England is building 16. France and Russia are together building that number. We are building 11 armored cruisers she is building 23, while France and Germany are together building 18, we are building 11.

"Of the seven nations which have navies of consequence, the United States stands sixth in the number of completed battleships; but with the completion of those already authorized, our navy will be second in this respect only to that of Great Britain. While France may challenge this rating in point of numbers, anyone who examines the equipment of a French ship with one of our own of equal size, will see that the superior strength of the individual unit would greatly tell in our favor."

OPINION FAVORS MR. CHAMBERLAIN

South African Colonies Indorse Fiscal Proposals of Former Secretary.

EDWARD VII. IS IN LONDON

King Will Hold a Privy Council on Cabinet Changes—No Attempt at Counter Campaign Against the Movement for Tariff.

[Associated Press Cable To The Gazette.]

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 8.—Interviews with the leading men in the South African colonies show that the general trend of opinion strongly favors Mr. Chamberlain's Glasgow program. Reports from Bloemfontein, Orange River Colony, Pietermaritzburg, Natal and Pretoria, Transvaal, show that the proposals are keenly discussed everywhere. It is expected that preferential duties in the case of South African wines and fruit will greatly benefit these industries. The Dutch, who essentially are protectionists, will support the principle of reciprocity.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The king arrived in London from Balmoral castle tonight and proceeded to Buckingham palace, where he will hold tomorrow a privy council to receive the seals of the retiring cabinet ministers and transfer them to the new appointees.

The discussion of Mr. Chamberlain's proposals continues keen, but so far the liberals have made no organized attempt at a counter campaign. Mr. Asquith, the Liberal leader, spoke at Cinderford, an iron and coal center in Gloucestershire, yesterday, and in the course of his speech contended that it was impossible to retaliate upon the protected countries without taxing food or raw material, and in which he showed that the retaliation did more harm to the retaliators than the retaliated. The adoption of Mr. Chamberlain's proposals would foment quarrels with the colonies. It was a calumny on the colonies to say that the unity of the empire was impossible without preferential tariffs.

James Bryce, M. P., speaking at Lancaster, expressed similar opinions and characterized Mr. Chamberlain's statements as "grotesquely untrue and worthless."

Gerald Balfour, president of the board of trade, addressing a meeting at Leeds, reaffirmed that the government was pledged not to give effect to the fiscal reform proposals until after an appeal to the country had been made, and he intimated the possibility that after Mr. Chamberlain had concluded his mission it might be found that the taxation of food was within the range of practical politics.

Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian expremier, presiding at a meeting in London, expressed his complete approval of Mr. Chamberlain's policy.

GLASGOW, SCOTLAND, Oct. 8.—Joseph Chamberlain is losing no opportunity of spreading his fiscal gospel. He started this morning on a day's visit to a friend in Fifeshire, Scotland, and was welcomed on his arrival at Cupar by a large crowd of people. The former colonial secretary made a short speech which captured his hearers, remarking that no one had benefited more than himself in the past by the support of the working class and he hoped to have the same confidence and support in his present undertaking. Upon the right solution of the great question he had raised depended the continuance of the workman's employment. Without a fiscal change the worker would have to decide between accepting an insufficient wage and leaving the country.

The sentiment of his fellow-citizens in the colonies must also be considered. They were not free traders. Their material assistance and moral support it was that enabled Great Britain to hold up her head during the recent war, in spite of the criticisms of foreigners.

TILLMAN TAKES WITNESS STAND

THIRTEEN WITNESSES HEARD

Conversations Touching on Trouble Previous to the Murder Given as Evidence Yesterday—Tillman to Take Stand Again Today.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LEXINGTON, S. C., Oct. 8.—James H. Tillman went on the stand today as a witness in his own behalf in his trial for the murder of N. G. Gonzales one hour before adjournment. With perfect self-composure he arose from his seat among his attorneys and walked to the clerk's desk to take the oath. He will continue his testimony tomorrow. Thirteen witnesses were heard today.

James Davis, the first witness for the defense, was riding on a train with the defendant from Johnson to Columbia. His attention was called to the testimony of Mr. Terrell, one of the state's witnesses, relative to a conversation the defendant was said to have had with O. D. Black, a flagman, about Gonzales. The witness said he did not hear Tillman make any threats against Gonzales. On cross-examination he said he did not know Terrell or Black.

Col. L. L. Blease, who said he was a member of the legislature and was with the defendant throughout the campaign of 1902, was asked if he was present in the defendant's room in a hotel in Columbia on the night of August 20, or 21, 1902, at the time Dr. Adams was there. Upon answering in the affirmative his attention was called to the testimony of Dr. Adams relative to a conversation that took place in the room.

Plenty of Threats Made.

The witness said Dr. Adams advised Tillman "to go to the State office and fight Gonzales," and that the defendant said he was lieutenant governor and could not afford to have a difficulty, that he would be impeached. The witness added, "somebody about that time made a remark about something which Gonzales had said about what he would do to Tillman." Col. Tillman said: "You needn't be uneasy about that, if he undertakes to attack me I will snuff his life out with this."

Asked with reference to another statement attributed to the defendant the witness said that when that part of an editorial referring to mock theatricals was read, what Mr. Tillman said was that, "if he attempts to carry out one of his threats I will make it the d—— ——— tragedy that has ever happened in South Carolina."

J. A. White of Edgefield, a doorkeeper in the state senate at the last session of the legislature, said while he was sitting in the lobby of the senate, a man whom he did not know, came up to him and asked where Mr. Tillman was and among other things the witness said the stranger said he had made Mr. Tillman show the white feather twice and would do it again. He was told by Mr. Holsonback, who was present, that the stranger was N. G. Gonzales. He said Mr. Tillman had appointed him a doorkeeper.

Witness of the Shooting.

Richard H. Holsonback verified White's statement. He said also he was just behind Senator Talbird, Lieut.-Gov. Tillman and Senator Brown as they approached the transfer station in Columbia on the way down town from the state house, on January 15. He said as he crossed Gervais street he saw Gonzales coming in the opposite direction. He said Gonzales crossed obliquely to the left. He could have passed on the outside, he said, instead of cutting diagonally across the inside. Witness said he heard Tillman say: "I got your message."

He said that Gonzales put his hand down deep in his pocket and added that he thought Gonzales was going to shoot Mr. Tillman. He heard the shot, but said he did not see where Tillman drew the pistol from. The witness was closely questioned on cross-examination with special reference to certain conversations with persons named.

M. C. Lorick testified that he was standing across from the transfer station, that he saw Mr. Gonzales coming up Main street, that he saw Mr. Tillman and two other men coming in the opposite direction, the defendant being in the middle. He said that when Mr. Gonzales got within four or five steps from Mr. Tillman he changed his course, obliqueing to the left. The witness said Mr. Gonzales had his right hand in his pocket and acted as if he was trying to get it out. He heard a report, he said, and saw a pistol in the defendant's hand.

On cross-examination the witness said it was on the opposite side of the street from where he was that Policeman Boland arrested Tillman.

Tillman on the Stand.

J. H. Tillman, when he took the stand, was asked by Mr. Croft to explain incidents to which reference had been made during the trial. After giving his explanation of the South Carolina club incident he was asked with regard to any messages he sent to Gonzales. He said he had sent a verbal message to him by George S. Legare, asking him to meet him in Georgia. He said Gonzales wanted the invitation put in writing, but he was afraid it was a trap.

He said also that he didn't want to violate any of the dueling laws of his state. Answering further questions, the witness said when he was correspondent in Washington for some southern papers, Gonzales was applicant for the position of consul general to Shanghai and that he wrote his papers that Gonzales would not be appointed, and said he had some words with him in a hotel lobby in Washington.

As to the cigar incident, he said on the next day he went up to the hotel cigar stand and bought some cigars, and turning around offered them to those standing there. He noticed Gonzales then, he said, and saw he had made a mistake. Asked as to Gonzales' attitude toward his military career, he said:

"It has always been bitter toward me since I was 21 years old." The question of his military career and the comments of the state was then taken up. Tillman stated among other things that Gonzales wanted to have him court-martialed because of an incident which he related.

Relative to the organization of a company of Indian scouts which has been referred to, the defendant said he wanted to organize such a company to take to the Philippines, but that President McKinley and the army officers in Washington opposed it.

Asked how he was treated by Gonzales in his campaign for governor, the defendant replied:

"I think these editorials are fair samples of it."

He denied that he had ever been a traitor to his uncle, and said he had not intentionally been discourteous to the senate. He was next asked what had been the attitude of Mr. Gonzales toward him prior to 1902, to which he replied:

"I think the paper has been pretty well devoted to me since 1890," and in answer to a further question said the editorials in the state had been extremely abusive to him.

ALLENTOWN, PA., Oct. 8.—Rain today marred the state firemen's parade. As a climax to the annual convention, arrangements had been made for 15,000 men to march, but owing to the heavy rain fully one-half of those in attendance did not turn out.

Engagement Occurs at Gumenjo, 35 Miles from Salonica—Fighting Still in Progress—Consul Magelssen's Assailant Still at Large.

[Associated Press Cable To The Gazette.]

SALONICA, Oct. 8.—A serious engagement occurred October 6 between Turks and insurgents near Gumenjo, 35 miles from Salonica. About 300 Turks are reported to have been killed or wounded. Fighting near Gumenjo is still proceeding. The Turkish troops there are commanded by Ibrahim Bey, who has asked the military authorities at Salonica to send him two mountain guns. No such guns are available.

It is reported that 10,000 Albanians, irritated by the raids of Servian bands, threaten to cross the frontier. A strong Servian band is ready to cross the frontier near Numanovo, about five miles north of Uskub.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—In spite of the presence of the American squadron off Beirut and the energetic demands of Minister Leishman, the Associated Press learns that the Mussulman who fired at the American vice consul, William C. Magelssen, has not yet been apprehended.

It has been established by Admiral Cotton, the American commander, that the would-be assassin had no personal feeling against the vice consul. The assault has been traced to the hostility of the Musulmans toward the Christians.

SOFIA, BULGARIA, Oct. 8.—The feeling prevailing today is generally more hopeful than for some months past. It is based on reports, which, while unconfirmed, appear to be well founded. These reports are to the effect that the government is preparing to discharge the recruits summoned for three weeks' drill and that—this report on the authority of the Dynek—the Turkish and Bulgarian governments have reached an understanding on the question of demobilization whereby Bulgaria will release 20,000 men and Turkey 40,000. If this agreement is carried out Bulgaria will disband all the reservists recently summoned. Twenty-four thousand recruits will come under the colors October 9.

A telegram from Tchernaskala says that the frontier guard was called out last evening and proceeded to Kuan, when they found the whole country across the border in flames.

GUNS OF TWO NATIONS ARE READY FOR BATTLE

a powerful fleet at Ma-Sau-Po on the south coast of Corea, the accumulation at convenient depots of war munitions, the preparations for the rapid mobilization of the fighting force of the empire and the organization of a transport service competent to take her troops wherever they might be needed. Now comes the news that Russia also has concentrated her fleet in Chinese waters at Ma-Sau-Po and has marched several divisions of troops to points near the Corean border. This furnishes all the material for a clash and if it does not come it will be because one of the parties backs down. The best opinion here is that there will be no backdown.

Must Fight for Supremacy.

It is believed that Japan and Russia both realize that a fight has got to come for supremacy in that section of the world and that both have come to the conclusion that no time is likely to be better for the inevitable contest for supremacy than now.

Japan realizes that Russia is likely to become stronger rather than weaker as time progresses and that if she is ever to drive the Bear back she is more likely to be able to do it now than at any time in the future. Russia realizes that she must either fight or give up Manchuria, and it is not believed she has any more idea of doing that than Great Britain has of getting out of Egypt. Hence the danger of war is regarded as very real.

Another feature of the situation in which lies much danger is in the disposition of Corea. Japan regards Corea as peculiarly her own. She had it after the war with China and it was taken from her by the powers, mainly Russia, who has need of a part at least of the peninsula to round out her Asiatic domain. It is said a proposition has been made by Russia to the Japanese government to divide Corea and that it has been rejected. Japan wants all of it and had rather fight than give up her claim.

English May Take a Hand.

The Japan minister treats the situation in a characteristically diplomatic way and the foreign office officials are discreetly silent. If the war should be confined to Russia and Japan the chances would be strongly in favor of Russian success, but on this question there is the treaty between Great Britain and Japan under the terms of which Great Britain could only keep out of the fight by a clear disregard of her treaty obligations. This would be almost if not quite as disastrous to British prestige and influence as an unsuccessful war. With Japan and Great Britain on the one hand and Russia on the other the chances should rather favor the allies.

The developments of the next few days will be watched with keen interest. For the moment they have in large measure overshadowed the Balkan situation and the political crisis.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The Patrie today, in a special dispatch from Darmstadt, gives an interview with Alexander Savinsky, secretary to Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, who, it is claimed, spoke on the authority of his chief upon Russo-Japanese relations. M. Savinsky is quoted as saying:

"Our agents at Tokio have informed us that Japan desires war and is prepared for it. We have enough troops in Siberia to resist all the Japanese forces."

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—The Chinese minister is in Essen, where he is buying arms and other war material.

PRITCHARD ELECTED.

McKeesporter Chosen President of Retail Druggists.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Retail Druggists' association today elected E. E. Pritchard of McKeesport, Pa., president, and re-elected Secretary T. V. Wooten of Illinois. A resolution in favor of a reduction of the tax on grain alcohol to 70 cents a gallon, and also favoring the admission of imported alcohol free of duty in the arts free of duty, was adopted.

The committee appointed to confer with the manufacturers of proprietary articles reported that the manufacturers are not willing to adopt the serial number contract system approved by the druggists, but that they would accept a modified form of contract.

FOUND BLEEDING TO DEATH

Italian Robbed of His Money and Discovered With Razor Slashes About Head.

Mike Vearoldi, 21 years old, an Italian laborer of Braddock, was brought to Mercy hospital this morning about 1 o'clock in a serious condition. Razor slashes were cut about his head in every direction. One cut about 6 inches long extends from his left ear around the back of his head. Another extends along his left cheek for five inches and another slash several inches long laid open the right side of his neck. A long gash also extends along his left cheek.

Inspector Milton Bailey and Officer George Clabber of the Oakland police station, heard of the man lying along side of the Pittsburgh Railways Company's track between Braddock and Rankin and they went to the place and brought him to the Mercy hospital. Vearoldi and two other Italians left the car at a point between Braddock and Rankin and the other two set upon him with razors and left him to bleed to death. About $50 was taken from him.

The police have captured Angelo Caruso one of the Italians and have a good clue to the other. Robbery was evidently the cause of the assault. Vearoldi will probably die.

AIMING TO FORM NEW LABOR BODY

Leaders Seek to Organize Big Federation to Adjudicate Union Affairs.

MEN OF PROMINENCE THERE

Proposed Federation Will Work in Harmony With Other National Labor Organizations—Committee Now Working on a Constitution.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

INDIANAPOLIS, October 8.—Leading representatives of the national and international organizations of building trades met this afternoon in conference for the purpose of bringing their respective organizations into an international federation, having for its object the arbitration, adjudication and conduct of building trades affairs.

Among those attending are M. P. Carrick, secretary and treasurer of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers; James Hannahan, grand trustee of the International Union of Steam Engineers; P. Guggina, president of the National Union of Bricklayers and Masons; J. R. Cavanaugh and W. A. O'Keefe, president and secretary-treasurer of the Operative Plasterers International association; Frank Buchanan, president of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers International union; Herman Lillien, president of the International Hodcarriers and Building Laborers union; Frank Duffy, secretary, and Thomas Neale, treasurer of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and John Maloney and S. R. French of the Electrical workers. They represent 700,000 workmen.

A committee was appointed to frame a skeleton constitution to be submitted to the conference. It consists of M. P. Carrick, P. Larson, Joseph Carey, W. J. Spencer, J. G. Hannahan, George Gubbins and Theas Maloney. A committee on rules was named consisting of W. M. R. Tilden, T. Neale, Herman Lillien, Frank Buchanan and W. O'Keefe.

There is a very general disposition among all of the delegates to have the new international federation work in perfect harmony with the American Federation of Labor and other national federations in which different ones of the building trades are represented. All of the organizations propose to remain in their present federation alliances and to pay their per capita assessments.

TREATY IS AT FAULT.

City Attorney Folk of St. Louis Consults President About Boodie Fugitives.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Joseph Folk, the city attorney of St. Louis who has been active in the prosecution of legislative and municipal wrongdoers in Missouri, was a guest of the president at luncheon today. Mr. Folk has encountered some difficulty in the performance of his duties on account of the escape of a few of those whose indictment he had secured into Canada and Mexico. He is anxious that the extradition treaties be strengthened to admit of the return to this country of the persons indicted for bribery and embezzlement. He desires that the president, if possible, should have the suggested amendments to the treaty made.

After luncheon at the White House the president and Mr. Folk had a further conference at the executive office, at which Secretary Hay was present. Together the three went over the matter of amending the extradition treaties very carefully. Subsequently Mr. Folk had a brief conference with Attorney General Knox.

GIRL CONFESSED TO THEFT.

Had Taken Some Jewelry from an East End Residence and Gave Ring to a Man.

Annie Marshall, aged 21, of Verona, Pa., was arrested by Policemen Frank and McCarthy yesterday afternoon in Hamilton avenue on charges of being a suspicious character. Miss Marshall was employed as a domestic by Mrs. H. H. Patton of No. 7783 Hamilton avenue, and she was charged with having stolen a diamond-studded locket and several rings from the family for whom she worked. The back of the locket on which was engraved the initials of the owner was torn off and the front piece was taken to Jeweler W. Wiley Warrick of No. 6109 Penn avenue to be repaired. Miss Marshall went to the jeweler yesterday for the locket and the police arrested her. William Richards was also arrested, as he had one of the rings in his possession. This was given to him by Miss Marshall, and it is not thought that he knew it was stolen. The woman confessed to the theft.

WASHINGTON COUNTY WANTS AYMER'S AID

Aymer to assist him in hunting down the murderers or murderers of Samuel T. Ferguson, who was blown to death near West Middletown on September 25, when $3,600 in cash was taken. The sheriff has some new and important clues and desires the assistance of the local detective, who was sent to the scene of the tragedy soon after it occurred. It is understood Aymer will go on the case today.

AWAITING THEIR LOAD OF BRICKS

PLAYING FOR THE ORPHANS

Bosses Cannot Afford to Turn Down Stevenson at This Time--Pension Agent Nesbit Has a Meeting of His Democratic Committee.

The Breck faction in the Citizens party in the Fourteenth ward is watching for the arrival of the drayman. The followers of the captain would not be surprised to see a load of golden bricks delivered from Bigelow headquarters. It is apparent to them that the bosses intend to play into the hands of the Stevenson faction in the hope of bagging the "Orphans."

County Chairman Murry A. Verner is still dodging the Breck men. They have not been able to learn from him whether he intends to send the committee on contests to the Fourteenth ward to take evidence. The investigators were to have gone there last night, and now there is a rumor that they will go tonight. Capt. Breck admits that he has no definite information on the subject.

The Democrats of the ward were to have held a meeting last night, at which plans for the taking over the Breck faction were to have been discussed. The call for the conference was signed by D. F. Crawford and W. J. Brennen. A few men responded at the place of meeting in the Soho school house, but as the representation was so small no action was taken.

When asked last night if he would consent to being absorbed by the Democrats, Capt. Breck replied that he would be bound by the action of his committee.

Scheme to Get the "Orphans."

Capt. Breck is not being fooled by the actions of the leaders at headquarters. He sees the purpose of the friendship recently shown the Moore-Stevenson faction.

"The plan is to bring the 'Orphans' into the fold," said the captain. "They think that it would not look well to have it go out over the city that the reform leader in councils had been turned down in his own ward by the powers at headquarters.

"We are not fighting Stevenson. I am his friend and I have told him so. I am in favor of any man who stands for the redemption of the pledges of the party. Several weeks ago our organization adopted resolutions indorsing the course of the councilmen and he sent a nice letter of thanks. I see that at the meeting of his committee Tuesday night it refused to indorse the action of the 'Orphans.'"

In discussing the recent ruling of Verner relative to Democrats serving on Citizens ward committees, Capt. Breck said that the ruling was made especially for the Fourteenth. He says that if it were applied in all the wards of the city, the majority of the committees would have to be reorganized. The case of the Nineteenth ward was cited where D. F. Reighard is chairman and also a member of the Democratic county campaign committee, but there are no "Orphans" in the Nineteenth.

The Breck committee will meet at its headquarters tonight. If the committee on contests arrives, much testimony will be given. Breck says that the Verner ruling would remove but five or six members of his committee and that he has a majority without them.

Nesbit's Democrats Meet.

The first meeting of the reorganized Citizens committee in the Sixth legislative district was held at Third avenue yesterday. Many of the precincts were not represented. Of the men present at least one-third of them were Democrats. This is the organization that Pension Agent John W. Nesbit has formed to fight the regular Republican party. Nesbit is now doing most of his fighting for the anti-Republican outfit under cover.

Some of the men present yesterday reported that the district is in extremely bad condition for the Citizens. Effort was made to minimize the revolt of the Campbell faction, but the reports of conditions did not bear this out.

"Oliphan" Charles C. Crawford has issued a statement that he is loyal to the "Orphans," and in the future will do no work for the Citizens party until the pledges have been redeemed. He endeavors to show that he has been active, but admits that he has acted as attorney for the machine and that he procured the speakers for the meeting at Old City hall Saturday night. "Orphan" Crawford will find that when the boss makes up his slate for common council in the Twentieth ward next spring that he will not be on it. This will be true whether or not he continues to be an "Orphan" in public and in private an adherent of the Bigelow machine.

SOUTH SHARON THE MAGIC CITY.

With the largest and finest equipped works in the world, South Sharon is truly a magic city. Three years ago its site was a wilderness; today the busy hum of industry may be heard day and night.

The town has passed the experimental stage. It was planned by shrewd business men backed by an immense aggregate of capital, and the results as seen today justify the foresight of these capitalists; but what its ultimate outcome will be no one can tell.

South Sharon boasts of $100,000 worth of school houses, attended by over 1,200 scholars, with a high school department and every equipment of this most important feature in our American civilization.

It has a postoffice with over 1,000 boxes. There are 13 churches, including every denomination, which are well attended and liberally supported. It has two trust companies, and six magnificent hotels costing from $50,000 to $75,000 each.

Everything that you meet with in old and large cities is here—city water, natural gas, electric light, paved streets and a modern sewerage system. Its population is housed in from 1,500 to 2,000 cosy and comfortable residences. The electric street cars pass through the principal street, giving direct communication from Wheatland on the one side to Sharon, New Castle and Youngstown on the other.

Five railroads pass through this great new city. The mills of the United States Steel Corporation require an army of 6,000 to 8,000 workingmen. The monthly wages aggregate $500,000, and, by the far-sighted and liberal-minded policy of the originators of the city, there are no company stores, hence every dollar is available by the merchants for the upbuilding of home trade.

The great cry is for more homes. The steel company has expended over $750,000 in erecting houses, but there are not nearly enough to go around. The Pennsylvania railroad runs a special train every day to New Castle for the accommodation of some 500 workingmen, who would undoubtedly live in South Sharon if they could get houses.

The sale of the South Sharon Trust Company plan of lots tomorrow promises to be one of the largest in the history of real estate. Hundreds of free tickets have been given out and inquiries have been pouring in all week. The lots are larger than the usual run and the prices lower. Special train will leave the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie station, South Side, at 8:30 o'clock, city time.

Veteran Theatrical Manager Is in a Serious Condition

HARRY WILLIAMS WALKER.

Harry Williams Walker, better known as Harry Williams, the veteran theatrical manager, the head of the Academy of Music and the Duquesne theater, is seriously ill at his home, Pennsylvania avenue and Chartiers street, Allegheny. Mr. Walker's illness dates back to the early summer, when he suffered a stroke of paralysis. Since that time he has been confined to his home. Several times he has been able to drive out, but since last Saturday he has been growing worse.

Mr. Walker is the oldest theatrical manager in Pittsburgh. More than 30 years ago he managed Trimble's Varieties, one of the oldest houses in Pittsburgh, located in Penn avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets. Later he engaged in several enterprises with Bartley Campbell, the playwright, and for a time was associated with Fred Ames, another pioneer. The Coleman heirs some years ago engaged Mr. Walker to manage the Acadamey, which for years was the best theater in the city. With his experience and business ability Mr. Walker immediately brought wonderful success to the theater which now bears his name. He has managed the Duquesne also, for about six years, and has made it successful.

Mr. Walker is one of the prominent Masons of Allegheny county, having been especially active in the affairs of Syria Temple, of the Shriners. For several years he was the potentate of that large body.

WILL CONSIDER TAX ORDINANCE

Select Council Finance Committee Obeys the Citizens Leaders' Orders.

ASKS CORPORATIONS TO COME

The linear foot corporation tax measure will come up before the select council combine for scrutiny at 1 p. m. tomorrow, when the rump finance committee has been called to pass upon the ordinance. The combine met privately on Wednesday, all the members being present, but what instructions concerning the treatment the tax ordinance was to receive tomorrow was not disclosed. Mayor Hays and other leaders of the Citizens party have said that the measure would be brought up in the select council meeting on Monday, so it would appear that the measure is to be reported out of the rump committee, orders to that effect having been issued. There has been some talk of amending the measure but the combine would not talk on that phase of the subject.

Samuel J. Wainwright, who is the chairman of the rumpsters' finance committee, said Director Edward M. Bigelow had given him the information asked by the committee, but he had not looked over the figures and did not know whether the new information made necessary any changes in the rate of taxation to be imposed by the ordinance. If amendments are made the ordinance will have to be reprinted to go before select council on Monday.

Chairman Wainwright said he had received no requests from corporations for a hearing before the committee, but he told the city clerk to notify all the corporations interested that the committee was to meet and asking them to be present to give their side of the case. Among the public service corporations notified are the Pittsburgh Railways Company, the Philadelphia Company, Allegheny County Light Company, Monongahela Water Company, Western Union Telegraph Company, Central District and Printing Telegraph Company, Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company and others.

The passage of this ordinance was demanded by the "orphans," the Citizens party's independent members of councils. Another measure demanded is the one creating a purchasing agent's bureau, to be under the charge of the city controller. The Citizens party's leaders say the ordinance may conflict with those provisions of the city charter which require the purchasing of supplies to be done by the mayor and the heads of departments, and therefore the ordinance has been submitted to the city solicitor for an opinion on its legality. The city solicitor is out of town, and the joint finance committee meeting which was to hear his opinion today may not be held.

That the orphans seem to be determined to make the Citizens keep some of their pledges before consenting to support the party in the coming election is supposed to have been demonstrated by President Charles S. Crawford of common council, who yesterday announced that he would do nothing in support of the Citizens ticket until the old pledges had been kept.

Mr. Crawford signed the orphans' latest manifesto. He said he would not resign from the Citizens party's campaign committee yet, because he hoped the orphans' demands would be heeded. The reform measures passed by common council have been "held up" in select council, and the orphans have asserted that the Citizens leaders control select council and are, therefore, responsible for the delay.

STRIKE OF PATTERN MAKERS CALLED OFF

Business Depression Given as One Reason for Their Defeat. Shops Declared Open.

The Pittsburgh Association of the Pattern Makers' league has called off the strike against the Manufacturers' association. All the shops in this district have been declared open and the men are working for the wages the manufacturers offered before the strike was inaugurated.

The pattern makers came out on strike over four months ago. Last year's scale was $3.78 a day and they demanded $4 a day. This the manufacturers refused to grant and the strike resulted. Several conferences were held, but both sides remained firm. An effort was made three weeks ago to reach an agreement but it again failed. Realizing their defeat, the pattern makers sent a communication to the manufacturers stating that they would be willing to return to work at last year's scale, but they received a reply that all negotiations were declared off at the last conference and that no proposition was before the pattern makers. This answer induced the pattern makers to take the action as stated.

Secretary Lew R. Thomas, speaking of the matter, said:

"It was a combination of circumstances that compelled the action. Business conditions have taken a decided change for the worse and many of the employing firms not involved in the strike were laying off men. The deplorable fact that Ohio firms were reaping a harvest by reason of the strike in Pittsburgh was proven. These jobbing shows were supplying all the patterns necessary to keep the firms with whom we were contending from feeling very seriously the effects of the strike."

Toy Pistol Still Active.

Charles Carman, 6 years old, a son of Charles Carman of Railroad street, McKeesport, is threatened with blood poisoning from a wound caused by a toy pistol a few days ago. The wound seemed to heal, but the boy's hand began to swell yesterday and his doctor says his condition may become serious.

Anti-Vaccination Lecture.

The Anti-Vaccination society will have a meeting in the Monongahela house parlors tonight, to complete arrangements for a lecture by Dr. M. R. Leverson of Brooklyn, at Carnegie Music hall on "The Folly of Vaccination."

SHARP ROAST ON A HIGH SCHOOL

Unsanitary Condition of Fulton Street Structure Denounced by Inspection Committee.

ITS USE ALMOST A CRIME

Architect Appointed to Devise Method of Rendering Building More Fit for its Purposes—Warm Debate Over Basketball in South Side High School.

"It's little short of a crime to use the old Central High school building in Fulton street to house children. If I had a dozen children I would not send one of them there. The teachers and the management are good, but the building is rotten. The walls are good and strong and that is all that can be said in favor of it," said D. L. Gillespie in a report he made to the high school committee of the Central board of education last evening. With several other members of the committee Mr. Gillespie had visited the three High school structures. The Fifth avenue and South Side buildings were found in good condition, but the other was denounced.

Mr. Gillespie said the building was entirely without a ventilating system and had very poor heating and lighting arrangements. The sanitary system was something awful and if the building was to be retained as a school, the entire inside should be torn out and rebuilt. Money had been voted in sums of $500 to $2,000 to patch it up, but the day to patch was gone. It was bad 30 years ago, and he had been told that at that time, two years after the school was built, committees had complained about it. To make it habitable $25,000 would be required and possibly $50,000.

Used Gas to Burn Foul Air.

He said that in one place to get a little relief a hole had been chopped in a wall with an ax and a gas jet put in to burn up some of the foul gases. The building was full of foul odors and the books of the children told the sort of atmosphere they were compelled to breathe. He said, too, that some of the desks used by pupils 16 years old were of a size to suit a child of 7. He was ready now to employ an architect and engineer and ascertain the cost of putting the building in shape.

Chairman James McElwan indorsed all of what Mr. Gillespie said, except that about the small desks, but Mr. Gillespie insisted that he had seen them. John P. McTigh said there was only one other public school building in the country as bad and that was the Chicago city hall.

President Fox Wants Action.

Mr. Gillespie added another charge. He said the gas jets were old and worn out and gave a constantly flickering light. President John T. Fox of the Central board said it was his knowledge of the bad condition that led him at the last meeting of the board to insist on the high school committee visiting the school. Mr. Gillespie said the building was substantial and was good for 100 years. It was the interior that was bad and this should be remodelled if the building was to be retained as a school. John McElroy said he had known the building was bad for years; it was built before ventilation and sanitation were looked after very closely.

Mr. Gillespie said that was no reason for keeping it in its present shape. On his motion the sub-committee on repairs was directed to go over the building with Architect E. S. Stotz and report to the committee a plan and estimate of cost for placing the school in proper shape. It is the intention to get the money in the appropriation bill of 1904, so that the work may be done next summer.

Long Dispute Over Basketball.

The members of the committee wrangled for a long time over the question of removing the chandeliers in the basement of the South Side High school, which are in the way of the basket-ball games played there. Principal R. H. Holbrook ordered them taken down, but Mr. McElroy, as chairman of the sub-committee on repairs, countermanded the order. When the question of cost came up it was estimated at anywhere from $3 to $20. John P. McTighe thought the games should be allowed. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," he quoted, and Mr. McElroy came back with "All play and no work makes perfect fools. It's time for more study and less nonsense in the schools." A motion to let the chandeliers remain as they are was lost by a vote of 5 to 4, but no motion to remove the obstruction was made and in the absence of action the chandeliers stay.

Bids for coal for the Fifth avenue and South Side buildings were opened. They were so much alike that the cry of "trust" was raised and action was postponed until other dealers can be seen.

Several Teachers Resign.

The resignation of Miss Jean M. Craig, teacher of Latin and reading in the normal department, and Miss Mary L. Jobe, teacher of English, were presented and accepted. Miss Craig is now in Europe for her health. Miss Jobe had accepted another place before being notified of her election here. Miss Frances Parry and Miss Emma K. Mulhelm were recommended to fill the vacancies. A new position was created owing to the increased attendance. Miss Frances Heath was recommended for this place.

Director Rynearson's monthly report showed a total enrollment of 1,926 pupils, with an average enrollment of 1,844. This is the largest enrollment the school has ever had. Since the June examination 81 pupils have been admitted.

Director Rynearson was instructed to notify all teachers that they must report at 8:30 a. m. and remain until school is dismissed, and it was made his duty to report all delinquents.

No doubt VESSELLA has made a conquest of EXPO. audiences. You cannot afford to miss hearing him, therefore should join the great crush tonight.

WHICH COURT IS THE QUESTION

Private Dowd Is Certain to Be Tried for Shooting Crowley by Civil Authorities.

COURT MARTIAL IS UPHELD

Maj.-Gen. Adna R. Chaffee Issues Orders for the Release of the Soldier from His Confinement in the United States Arsenal.

That Private John Dowd, the soldier who shot and killed William H. Crowley outside the Allegheny arsenal grounds on September 10, will be tried by the civil courts is practically admitted by all those concerned, but by what court is causing some speculation. Lieut. R. W. Drury, commandant at the arsenal, yesterday formally released Dowd from the confinement under which he has been held since the shooting, Maj. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee having fully upheld the finding of the court-martial in the case which proclaimed the soldier not guilty of an offense in shooting as he did.

District Attorney John C. Haymaker is at present out of the city, and none of the local authorities will act until he has been consulted. United States District Attorney Young claims he can have nothing to do with the case unless it is brought into the United States courts. Lieut. Drury says that in his opinion there is no necessity for the man being tried again, although he thought he would probably be turned over to either the city, county or United States authorities.

Mayor Hays, Director Moore of the safety department and Supt. John P. McTighe of the police bureau yesterday held a conference on the case. At its conclusion Mayor Hays stated it was a question of law and that if the city or county government has the right to the body of the accused soldier he will be tried in accordance with the laws of the state. "If we have the right to have the case tried in the local courts," said the mayor, "the warrant, which has already been issued, will be served if it takes the entire police force to serve it."

After the conference was over McTighe went to the arsenal and talked with Lieut. Drury. He was apparently satisfied with the result of his interview, but declined to make any statement. Director Moore said he was not sure of the department's jurisdiction in the matter, but if the local authorities were entitled to the man's body the police of Pittsburgh would secure it, he said.

It is thought by many that the case will be regularly tried in the county courts. The inquest, for which a date has not yet been set, will be conducted by Coroner Jesse M. McGeary. The finding of the jury will be made, and if the jury holds Crowley came to his death by being shot by Dowd the coroner will order the arrest of the soldier and the case will go to the grand jury for the finding of a true bill in the regular course of law. If such a bill is found then the case will be tried in the county courts. Should the grand jury ignore the presentment, that would end all further proceedings. The coroner was very reticent yesterday concerning the matter. He stated the date of the inquest will be set in a few days.

The order issued for Dowd's release is in full as follows:

Headquarters Dept. of the East.
General Order No. 52.
Governors Island, New York city.
October 5, 1903.

Before a court-martial which convened at the Allegheny arsenal, Pittsburgh, Pa., pursuant to paragraph No. 7, special order No. 219, headquarters Department of the East, Governors Island, New York, September 18, 1903, and of which Col. James Regan, Ninth infantry, was president, and First Lieut. Fred R. Brown, Ninth infantry, was judge advocate, was arraigned and tried Private John Dowd, Company A, Ninth United States infantry.

Charges—Manslaughter to the prejudice of good order and military discipline in violation of the 62d article of war.

Specifications—In that Private John Dowd, Company A, Ninth United States infantry, did unlawfully, willfully and feloniously shoot one William Crowley, civilian, with a United States magazine rifle loaded with ball and cartridge, thereby inflicting on the said Crowley wounds from which said Crowley later died at Pittsburgh, Pa., at about 10 o'clock a. m., and at about 8 p. m. on the 10th of September, 1903.

To which the accused pleaded as follows: To the specifications, not guilty; to the charge, not guilty.

To finding: Of the specifications, not guilty; of the charge, not guilty.

The sentence: The court does therefore acquit him. Private John Dowd, Company A, Ninth United States infantry. After full investigation of all the facts in the foregoing case the court is of the opinion that the measures resorted to by the accused in this instance were justifiable, and an examination of the findings by the reviewing authorities confirms this opinion, and the proceedings, findings and acquittal are approved. Private Dowd will be released from confinement and return to duty. By command of ADNA R. CHAFFEE, Major General.

Countersigned:
C. G. STARR, major of infantry, assistant adjutant general.

ONE DOLLAR SECURES A REGINA MUSIC BOX AT ONCE.

There is as much difference between the Regina and other music boxes as there is between a pipe organ and a hurdy-gurdy. The Regina has a sweet, full, pure tone that at once distinguishes it from all others. Moreover, the Regina has interchangeable tunes and plays 24 tunes in succession without any manipulation. SAID HE WILL ENTER SUIT IN GRAFTING CASE Manager Crawford of National Tube Works Declares Charge Is Not Sustained.

Manager H. G. Crawford of the National Tube works at McKeesport issued a short statement yesterday to the effect that the charge of grafting among the mill bosses preferred by Alexander Fisher, a former employe, had been investigated and not sustained. Mr. Crawford admits, however, that the taking of money from the laborers had been discovered in the mill some time ago and that three of the foremen were under suspicion. One of them was subsequently discharged. The present case is said by the management of the mill to be an echo of the first one.

Fisher says he has engaged an attorney with a view to entering a civil suit for the recovery of the money paid out to the foreman during the last five years. Data are being gathered by the attorney, he said, and it is expected that the suit will be entered within a few days. Mr. Crawford considers the incident closed.

YOU WLL BE ALL SMILES AGAIN

Forget Your Stomach and You'll Have a Santa Claus Face.

HOW TO DO IT.

If there is one thing more than all others that will give a man a forlorn and friendless appearance and make him morbid and "cranky" and disagreeable, that thing is dyspepsia. It makes one forget his friends and become morose and irritable. He is so wrapped up in his own misery that he is inconsiderate of every one else. Relieved of this terrible and depressing ailment, he again becomes a good fellow and a man among men.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are beyond question the most effective and popular remedy ever offered to the sufferers of this terrible disease. The thousands and thousands of cures they have brought about and the enormous increase of their sales fully attest the truth of this statement.

They are, above all, a natural remedy. They possess exactly the same properties that the gastric juices and other digestive fluids of the stomach possess, and they actually do the digestive work of the stomach and enable that organ to rest and recuperate and become sound and well. They act in a mild, natural manner and cause no disturbance in the digestive organs. They prevent any fermentation of the food which causes sour stomach. In fact, under their influence the subject forgets that he has a stomach and his resulting cheerfulness presents a great contrast to his former dejection.

Millions of boxes of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold annually and they are but in the dawn of their popularity. Every mail brings letters of thanksgiving from grateful ones who have been cured of this terrible disease. The following is one of hundreds received each week:

Rev. J. R. Hoag of Wymore, Neb., writes: "For six years I have been troubled with dyspepsia. Last fall I became very much alarmed at some symptoms of heart trouble and came to believe there was a sympathetic relation between the two diseases, or rather, that the stomach trouble was the cause of the heart disturbance. I hit upon Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for a remedy and invested a dollar and a half for three boxes which lasted me three months, and I can eat any kind of food I want and have a good, vigorous appetite. Although I am 77 years old, I now feel perfectly well and without being requested by anyone I make this statement as a compliment to the virtues of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets."

JOSEPH HORNE CO.

Weather—Fair. Friday, October 9, 1903.

Prof. Takahashi and His Art.

Things quite often go by paradoxes, the best ladies' tailors are men, the most noted teachers of vocal music in the world are women, and today we have with us a noted exponent of Art Needlework in the person of Prof. Tsuneo Takahashi, from Tokyo, Japan, who gives free lessons daily—another paradox, such instructions are generally charged for.

Our large and roomy Restaurant has been chosen as the place to give these lessons, and the morning hours, until further notice, will be from 9 to 11, the afternoon hours from 3 to 5. Both of yesterday's sessions were well attended, and of course the interest will grow.

A Remarkable Overcoat for Men, $25.00.

Yesterday we went into detail on our lines of clothing for both men and boys. This morning we ask the attention of men to a fine overcoat for $25.00.

We would like to give you the name of the maker of this overcoat, but as it is a set rule of this department to say nothing about the people who fashion our clothes we cannot make an exception in this case. Suffice that the tailors are the most noted makers of fine clothing in the United States. If we were to mention the name of the firm you would recognize it as the leading New York firm of tailors.

This special overcoat is made of oxford gray cheviot, a color that adapts itself either to young or elderly gentlemen. It is a coat that hangs gracefully, and it is 33 inches long. The coat is lined through and through with best quality of satin. As a dress coat for every day Autumn wear it is high over anything we ever exhibited for a like amount of money. We have sizes to fit either regular or irregular figures.

California Blankets, $5.00 Pr. instead of $7.00.

The California Blankets are selected from our immense stock for special mention simply because they are the best blankets made. They possess a softness and at the same time a fluffiness that is hardly ever present in a wool blanket. All wool is more or less soft, but when you come to the fluffy part you must also come to California Blankets.

These special blankets are known as eleven-quarter size, big enough for all purposes. Why we choose to sell a $7.00 blanket for $5.00 is merely a little notion of our own. Fine and perfect in every way.

And while looking at blankets today you may as well take some moments to look at the inexpensive Pillow Cases and Sheets we are selling.

8c each instead of 12c is the price we are charging for Pillow Cases that have the hems torn. Women know what a torn hem means.

65c each for an 85c grade of bleached muslin Sheets, the muslin of an extra weight. The hems on these sheets are torn. Sizes, 81x93 inches.

Women who have many uses for muslin are invited to see a 9c grade of Bleached Muslin that we are now selling for 6½c a yard. It is a full yard wide.

Flannels and Flannelettes.

In this Basement Store you can find any sort of flannel you have in mind—from flannel in handsomest of embroidered effects down to the flannel with a plain surface. Two numbers to point the way both to economy and inexpensiveness, although inexpensiveness is not always economy:

Soft and fluffy Outing Flannels, at 6c a yard for a grade that generally sells for 10c.

Full yard wide Flannelette, a 15c grade for 10c a yard.

A Great Lot of New Coats for Women.

Any style that you have in your mind's eye, any particular cloth that you seem to like best, and prices that hint of inexpensiveness, and at the same time a lot of style.

$15.00. 27-inch Coats of black cheviot, lined with satin. The seams are all lapped. This line of coats was made to sell for $20.00.

$15.00. Long 44-inch Coat of medium weight kersey, military cape. The coat is lined with satin, edges piped with silk and the high collar is stitched in a fancy way.

$17.50. A pretty coat trimmed with velvet and gunmetal buttons, fancy military cape, coat lined with satin, the sleeves and cuffs what may be called fancy.

$25.00. Long 42-inch Coats of rough cheviot, inlaid straps of plain kersey, fancy stitched edges piped with satin; Skinner's Satin used for the lining. A very stylish coat for the price.

We are showing quite a variety of Novelty Coats in many different styles and in different cloths, the price range being $50.00, $60.00, $75.00, $100.00 and on up to $200.00.

Four Glove Wonders.

Women's, and the price is $1.00 a pair.

Two-clasp Glace, $1.00.
Two-clasp Mocha, $1.00.
One-clasp Cape, $1.00.
The new "Slip-On", $1.00.

All are made of the best kid. The glace glove has embroidered back, and is light in weight; the Mocha is a desirable street glove; the Cape glove is a heavy street glove; the "Slip-On" has no buttons and no clasps.

These gloves come in black and all colors, and a finer lot from which selection is only $1.00 cannot be found anywhere.

In finer gloves of course the famous French productions of Reynier and Jouvin & Cie are here in great variety—the range of Jouvin & Cie gloves beginning at one button and running up to 20 buttons.

New Colored Umbrellas, $5.00.

Special mention of these new Umbrellas because of their being very fine. Solid colors, as well as stripes and polka dot effects. New and handsome borders.

One new style, very striking, has large black polka dots on plain blue, and a very deep black tape edge.

All these Umbrellas have fine natural handles. For something neat they will be found entirely satisfactory.

Women's New Suits.

We assume that women know they can get any style of good suit here, whether it is the inexpensive medium grade or the finest imported from Paris. On that assumption reference this morning is had only to one number in Walking Suits and one in Dress Suits—both full of style, both low in price.

$15.00. Applying the word bargain to this suit we can truthfully say it was one of the best we ever had for the money. It is a blouse suit of fancy mixtures, having fancy sleeves and cuffs, the jacket having patent leather belt, the back finished in what is known as coat strap seams; skirt of coat also has strapped seams and is further set off by neat buttons.

$20.00. A handsome Dress Suit of Zibeline; coat is lined with satin, has velvet collar and is fastened with fancy basket cloth buttons; skirt of coat has strapped seams.

Football Requisites.

Interest is not so great as to who's who in the fight for supremacy in the game of baseball as to detract from the interest in football. Every youngster, and a good many grown-ups, have their eyes centered now upon the long-haired game. Everything here for playing the game. Sixth Floor.

Footballs from 75c each up to $4.00.
Football Trousers from 50c per pair up to $2.50.
Football Jackets from 50c each up to $1.00.
Nose Guards, $1.50.
Shin Guards from 50c each up to $1.00.

Friday, October 9, 1903.

Samuel J. Parks, walking delegate of the Housesmiths and Bridgemen's union, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for blackmail and was released on bail pending action upon an appeal, predicts that the building strike now going on in New York will be extended all over the country. The strike is to be one of sympathy with the New York union, which has stopped building operations in that city. This is the sort of management which prostrates industry and checks the national prosperity. The effect is already visible in the industrial situation, and the greatest sufferers by this ruinous policy are the trades unions themselves. However, President Buchanan of the union declares the strike will not spread beyond New York.

The arguments in the Alaska boundary arbitration have been concluded and there does not appear to be much left of the Canadian case, but it will probably be some time yet before the decision is announced, as efforts will be made to reach an agreement. There is no expectation that Canada will secure the heads of the inlets, which is her great desire, so as to obtain an all-Canadian route to the Pacific through the Canadian northwest, but no doubt a strong effort will be made to obtain the consent of the American commissioners to some concessions. The surrender to Canada of some portion of unoccupied territory is of no great importance, provided our control of the entire coast line is not disturbed, and concessions of that nature in order to secure a settlement would not be resented by public sentiment in this country. Lord Alverstone is not likely to support the Canadian contention in the main, and if he inclines that way on some minor points it might be wise for the American commissioners to concur with him.

The situation in the far east is certainly becoming very threatening. A strong Russian fleet is reported to be concentrating on the Corean coast, where a Japanese fleet is already stationed. Japan has a strong navy, including six first-class battleships, and is probably superior to Russia in effectiveness, if not in number of vessels. Several brigades of Russian troops are now encamped on the border of Corea, and the news from St. Petersburg is to the effect that Russian official opinion is rapidly setting into the belief that now is as good a time as any to fight it out with Japan. Russia's action in conceding the demands of the United States in regard to open ports in Manchuria might also be construed as a sinister indication, as Russia would naturally desire to placate this country before going to war with Japan. Considerations which favor peace are, however, weighty, as the Russian government is well aware that it has always been able to accomplish more through diplomacy than by war, and the fact will be appreciated that if war breaks out between Russia and Japan it will hardly be confined to those two powers.

The acquittal of Private Dowd of the charge of manslaughter for killing William Crowley raises some nice questions of jurisdiction. Crowley was a citizen of Pennsylvania, but the military authorities refused to surrender Dowd to the civil authorities and he was tried by court-martial. Some time ago an effort was made to bring to trial in the civil courts a national guardsman who had killed a man while acting in obedience to the orders of his military superiors, but it was decided that he could not be held personally responsible, and the decision was generally approved as sound, as otherwise there would have been an end of military discipline. Is the principle affected by the fact that Dowd is not a guardsman, but a regular? Another point is whether the constitutional provision applies that no one shall "be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb." Crowley was a citizen of the United States, as well as of Pennsylvania, and Dowd has already been tried on the charge of killing him. The case is one in which it would be wise to defer action until the legal aspects have been thoroughly considered, and, meanwhile, it would be well to refrain from such talk as that in which Mayor Hays and Superintendent McTighe have been indulging. It is simply foolish to say that Dowd will be arrested if it takes the entire police force to do it. Just fancy Johnny McTighe leading his remarkable collection in a war against the United States! The military authorities will surrender Dowd when directed to do so by competent authority and not otherwise.

The mischievous effects of the anti-canteen law are widespread. By prohibiting the canteen, through which the army officers were able to exercise some supervision and control over the use of liquor by enlisted men, the law directly promoted drunkenness and has caused it to increase. The result has been a deterioration in the health of the army. In his annual report the surgeon general attributes the steadily increasing prevalence of one type of disease "to the loss of the canteen, where the soldier could get his beer throughout the month, but was not subjected to the intemperance and vice now attendant upon the expenditure of a full month's pay at the low resorts infesting the outskirts of our military reservations." The passage of this anti-canteen law was extremely discreditable to congress, as most of those who voted for it knew that it was foolish and pernicious, but as a piece of buncombe it was passed through the house in the expectation that it would be defeated by the senate, as had been done before, but the senate, too, acted in a spirit of buncombe and passed the law which has had and is having nothing but mischievous results.

Boodle revelations in Missouri are extending to Pennsylvania. A St. Louis physician has informed Circuit Attorney Joseph W. Folk that he was approached by members of the Pennsylvania legislature, who wanted to sell him some legislation concerning osteopaths for $1,600. This story tallies with the revelations in this state of a 10 per cent rake-off upon appropriations to public institutions. The organization and procedure of American legislatures give easy opportunities for business of this sort, and such scandals will doubtless occur from time to time until better constitutional safeguards against such practices are adopted. In the British house of commons and the Swiss federal assembly no appropriation can be made unless recommended by the administration and for no greater amount, and the procedure is such that no hold-up of public business is possible, so that there is no chance for levying blackmail. When the administration finds that public interests require action of any kind, the matter can be brought to vote and members must go upon record. Eventually similar methods will have to be introduced in this country. If the general public were aware how legislative work really goes on the demand for improvement of method would be irresistible.

An Important Treaty.

Considerable satisfaction is felt in Washington over the news that the American-Chinese commercial treaty was signed at Shanghai yesterday. It will not become operative until ratified by the American senate, a matter that may be attended to during the extra session, thereby starting the new year with the new privileges.

Probably the best-known provision of this treaty is that which opens the ports of Moukden and Antung in Manchuria to foreign commerce. That clause has become conspicuous on account of the Russian occupation of Manchuria and its probable opposition to any further extension of commercial privileges in that province to other nations. Russia, however, has agreed with the United States that treaties made by China affecting the Manchurian territory must be recognized as valid, so it can make no proper objection to this concession.

While the concession of two new ports is best known to the public it is not the most important provision of the treaty. The first article abolishes the vexatious "likin" tax, imposed at will by the provinces, and provides that but one tax shall be collected upon American imports, and that at the port of entry. This will be of advantage not only to the foreign traders, but to the Chinese government, since it frees the importer from endless blackmail and ensures the revenue for the government, whereas the district taxes have too often stopped in the pockets of dishonest viceroys, or lesser officials. The second article declares the right of residence of Americans throughout the empire for missionary work.

In the third article protection of American patents, trade marks and copyrights is guaranteed. This is highly important. American goods are in favor. Russians and others have violated American trade marks in order to sell their products. In the matter of cotton goods this abuse on the part of the Russians has reached great proportions in Manchuria. The fourth article grants mining rights; the fifth relates to the opening of the Manchurian ports and the sixth and last grants to Americans the right to carry on trade, industries and manufactures in all of the open ports of the Chinese empire.

It will readily be appreciated that nearly all the other concessions are of more moment than the addition of two ports to the open list, the prominence of that clause being wholly due to its political aspect as affecting Russia. Some of the other clauses really affect Russia more than that one, and it is gratifying that Russia's assent was given unconditionally before the treaty was signed. No matter what the outcome of the Japanese-Russian threatenings at Ma-San Pho; no matter whether Russia evacuates Manchuria or continues to occupy it, American commerce has been granted its rights in that province in common with the other provinces of the empire. Mr. Conger is entitled to congratulations upon his successful negotiations and the nation upon having so conducted itself as to be given this acknowledgment of the confidence of both China and Russia.

The Panama Situation.

The latest advices from Bogota state that Senor Rivas Groot, to whom was referred the Panama canal treaty, has reported to the senate that the treaty is unconstitutional because of its cession of sovereignty, and that while he anxiously desires that the canal shall be built, such changes in the constitution as would be required would meet with invincible resistance. A semi-official statement issued in explanation of the defeat of the treaty, says that "the Colombian people abhor the idea of the dismemberment of their fatherland. Swayed by the ideal of the integrity of its territory" Colombia has shown herself "untainted by mercenary motives" and, consequently, "deserves the sympathy of the whole world." Persons who might doubt the existence of these high motives are dismissed from notice as saturated with that "baneful commercialism whose highest aim is the accumulation of wealth." This resounding sentimentality may be valued at its true worth when it is remembered that Colombia used its best efforts to induce our government to adopt the Panama route, and entered into engagements as to the compensation which would be expected, which as soon as an agreement with the Panama Canal Company was negotiated were repudiated. The importance of the constitutional difficulties now invented as preliminary to further exactions may be estimated when it is considered that they have never stood in the way of anything the ruling clique of politicians wanted to accomplish. Colombia has had no fewer than seven constitutions, three changes in the very title of the republic and revolutions innumerable.

The intimations which have been made that the department of Panama might revolt are founded upon strong probabilities. In fact, the large sum of money which would be paid to Colombia under the treaty has been an obstruction to confirmation, from doubts and perplexities as to who is going to get hold of the money. It strikes the Panama politicians as pretty hard that they should give up to the Bogota crowd when the property to be conveyed is all in their own territory. The Bogota government is keenly aware of the weight of the inducements in favor of the secession of Panama and are taking every possible precaution. The Panama politicians have some constitutional points of their own. Previous to 1885 the constitution of Colombia contained this remarkable provision:

> When one state of the union shall be at war with another, or the citizens of any one state shall be at war amongst themselves, the government of the union is required to preserve the strictest neutrality.

The canal concessions were granted while this constitutional provision was in force, and it is a sore point with the Panama politicians that the Bogota crowd were ever let in at all on the canal deal, and they are ripe for breaking away now. As a glance at the map will show the department of Panama is only connected with Colombia on the east. There are no roads through the country in that direction, and all travel between Colombia and Panama is by the sea. With the help of the Panama Canal Company it would be quite a feasible undertaking for the department of Panama to declare and maintain its independence, and it would not be at all surprising if a revolution of that character should take place.

The Whole Truth.

Much attention has been attracted in this country by Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's speaking campaign. The former British secretary for the colonies has not hesitated to point out to his hearers the folly of a policy that lost to the United States the bulk of its tin plate manufacture, and that now threatens to admit to Great Britain thousands of tons of American iron and steel. Mr. Chamberlain may not succeed in establishing a protective tariff in the United Kingdom this year, but he is sowing the seed that will result in a harvest by and by, when the American manufacturer and the American farmer will have to pay for admission to the British market. But in denouncing the free trade policy of Great Britain Mr. Chamberlain has not told the whole truth. He criticises without giving praise where praise is due.

If Mr. Chamberlain or Mr. Balfour would tell the whole truth they would say that had Great Britain not applied a wise protective policy to its shipping it would not now have any trade worth protecting. While it has lost to the protected nations some of its industries, it has recouped its loss by carrying their foreign commerce—principally that of the United States—and kept alive the remainder of its industries by favorable shipping rates. Britannia rules the wave by a protective policy as vigorous as that applied by the United States to its home market, which Mr. Chamberlain is pleased to characterize as an "abomination."

The point where this matter touches the American people is in the question whether they propose to sit idly by while Great Britain applies protection to itself and preferential rates to its colonies to the detriment of American trade, or whether they will anticipate the result by beginning at once to build up an American merchant marine. When Mr. Chamberlain will be able to levy a tax upon the product of American farms entering British ports in British bottoms he will have the American farmer handicapped as compared with the farmer in Canada, Australia or India. On the other hand, if the American farmer can send his product in American bottoms he can meet the Chamberlain tax and yet have a fair show in the market.

At the coming regular session of congress the proposition to give protection to American shipping will appear again. It can only take one form, that of a subsidy to American built ships, sailed by American masters, with American seamen. The admission to American registry of foreign bottoms would be a step toward free trade and then would not solve the problem. The purchase of English steamship lines by American capitalists has been promptly met by an enlarged subsidy to the Cunard line by the English government. The way to meet that move and to meet Mr. Chamberlain's propaganda for a tax upon American products sold in the British markets is to subsidize American shipping so that, at least, American merchandise shall have equal facilities for carriage with the products of any other nation.

A lot of people when they read that a Pittsburgh philanthropist was overcharged $100,000 for the building of a sanitarium for consumptives at Denver will be able to reflect that the same misfortune couldn't overtake them. But, after all, there isn't much of either comfort or satisfaction in such a reflection.

Testimony for the defense has it that Gonsales was heard to say that he would fill Tillman full of lead, and it is, of course, admitted by the prosecution that the editor certainly did pour hot shot into the accused through the columns of his newspaper.

On other matters beside politics the editorial mind of the Post is confused. Thus it speaks of the "initial inertia imparted" by a motor impulse contrary to the accepted scientific dictum that inertia is an inherent and not imparted property of matter.

PITTSBURGH'S SUPREMACY.

Philadelphia Newspaper's Tribute to Our Carnegie Museum.

Philadelphia was the first of American cities to have the organized museum. A century ago, Independence hall had the first important collection ever gathered in this country when it was the germ of the various museums which this city holds. These have grown until the Archaeological museum at the university, the Pennsylvania museum in Memorial hall, the Academy of Natural Sciences, the historical collection in the rooms of the Historical society and other lesser collections constitute together a most important group.

If, instead of being divided up into all these different buildings, far apart, these collections could all have been gathered into a single building like the Carnegie museum at Pittsburgh, they would constitute a collection which would rank with any but the larger collections in the old world. Group these, and add the scattered pictures of the city in the different public collections, of which there are now five, if one includes the portraits at the American Philosophical society and the Historical society, the American pictures at the Josephine Widener Memorial library, the academy and the Wistach, the city would have a gallery equaled only by two public collections in this country, and not matched by those. As it is, it takes a day's hard work to see the paintings in Philadelphia alone, and most of the day will go in passing from gallery to gallery.

This, however, is the Philadelphia fashion, which has always divided the city instead of uniting it, and which today stands in the way of its progress. Such as they are, however, the museums are not used as they should be in connection with education. At Pittsburgh, the Carnegie museum offers prizes for compositions upon subjects illustrated by the collections in the museum. These compositions must not exceed 1,200 words, and are written after the visits which pretty nearly every school in Pittsburgh pays to the museum. The prizes are small, but they are enough to stimulate visits and study and last December 813 essays were submitted. "I like the Carnegie museum," says one of these essays, "because it teaches me to think."

This sums the whole duty of education and one which is avoided with great success by a large number of teachers who insist on their pupils learning things instead of things to learn. The first museum which adopts this simple plan of stimulating attention and interest in its work will make a great step forward in the education of this city.—Philadelphia Press.

Answers to Correspondents.

A. N. T.—In a civil case the fees are taxed by the attorney for the winning side, who gives an order for the costs which are paid by the prothonotary. In a criminal case if the county is to pay the costs the clerk of court taxes them and issues an order on the treasurer. If the prosecutor is to pay the costs the sheriff does not pay the fees until he collects the costs from the prosecutor.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Fine October weather is certain to recall to the soldiers of the army of the Cumberland the battle of Perryville, which was the first taste of real war for the 200,000 who answered Lincoln's call in July, 1862.

There isn't anything new or fresh to write concerning this big battle, but the stories of it as recorded in the field diaries of those who were in it, will never grow old or stale. They are not flowery stories; but they possess an element which no story writer can inject into his work. They were written on the spot, with the smell of burnt powder in the air, the moans of wounded and the rush and roar of a battle field camp everywhere.

These, are, therefore, the real thing, and inspired by conditions which no writer of fiction can understand or realize. They create a feeling which no other war stories can, and give one a view of a battle which cannot be obtained from a general description of it, no matter how well it may be written.

No man ever saw all of a battle, for the reason that it covers too much ground, and the conditions for seeing are very bad.

Following are a few pages from a field diary leading up to the field of Chaplin hills:

* * * * *

CAMP LOUISVILLE, KY., Oct. 1, 1862.

Were relieved from the rifle pits this morning. There wasn't much firing in front during the night. The rebel cavalry seem to be feeling for a weak spot, but it will be hard to find, for our rifle pits are everywhere, even through the cemetery.

Hardly had we reached camp when orders were received to move at once. Hastily loading our haversacks with crackers and such grub as we had, we moved out to the cemetery and waited until Rousseau's division passed. We then followed, leading Gen. Jackson's division. The rebel line and camp had been evacuated during the night. We camped eight miles from Louisville. There must be something ahead of us, judging from the heavy firing in front.

There is a lot of guessing as to what is coming, but the general opinion is that Bragg has chosen a line, fortified it, and intends to make a fight for Louisville, and if successful, carry the war across the river.

IN THE FIELD, KENTUCKY, Oct. 2, 1862.

Stood in line from 3 o'clock this morning, shivering, sleepy and hungry, waiting for the fight to begin. After daylight we proceeded to get breakfast. Had goose and chicken. These birds must have flown into camp, for we are not allowed to forage for them. There are not as many grapes on the vines as there were yesterday, but enough for family use.

Moved out the Lebanon pike at a brisk pace, but the walking was good, and we were allowed to rest often. At noon Col. C. L. Poorman passed to the head of the regiment, amid the cheers of the boys. He had been disabled by a slight accident yesterday. He is very popular with the boys because he is a fighter, and has lots of nerve.

Filled our canteens from a running stream of clear water, which we don't often find in this section.

Passed through Fisherville, a town of four or five houses, and dear only knows how many people. The rebels passed through early this morning, so we are not far behind. We marched steadily until dark, and then went by stops and starts until we found camp at 9 o'clock.

It was my luck to go on special picket, and it rained all night. Our beds, or shake-downs, were soaked. But that belongs to soldier life.

IN THE FIELD, KENTUCKY, Oct. 3, 1862.

This morning did not find me in a very amiable mood, for I was soaking wet, and very chilly. Did not get into camp until after daylight. Breakfast was over, and it was with difficulty that I got any, the cooks having packed all the utensils ready for moving. And then I found that I had been forgotten when the rations were parcelled out. The boys in the mess said I could live with them until next ration day. He's a poor soldier who starves in the midst of plenty.

We struck out along the Lebanon pike, Gen. Terrell's brigade in advance. The only water we could get to fill our canteens was from an old green-scummed pond, and not fit for anything but a mule or a soldier to drink.

Passed Rousseau's camp down by Salt river, and went up on the hill opposite Taylorsville, where we camped. There was a mighty pretty girl in town, and she was greatly admired by the boys, as she was the first good-looker we had seen in this forlorn country. Our company cook, Ike Green, announced mutton for breakfast in the morning, which sent a thrill through every stomach. He may have bought the sheep, or may not. The doctor gave me some bitters on account of the cold I got last night. The company went on picket, but my "trick" last night let me out.

IN THE FIELD, Oct. 4, 1862.

This morning I slept until daylight, the first time in a month, having to get out at 3, or 3:30, and stand to arms, or lie in rifle pits until after the break of day. There isn't much enjoyment in soldiering in the field, and yet the boys manage to have a good deal of fun, even in the rifle pits. It happened that the company was not needed for picket duty and came back to camp about midnight.

We had mutton for breakfast, and it was good, too. Maybe it tasted better than if we had been living on good things right along.

The report is now that Bragg, having gotten us away from Louisville, is going to turn on us.

After passing through Taylorsville, on Salt river, we took in the hills, moving irregularly on account of the troops ahead not making good time. Our route lay along the crests of various hills. These remind us of our own "Captsen" hills, back in old Belmont, but they are not nearly as productive, nor anything like as well settled. It rained some, and the wind blew up quite cool, but the going was much better on account of the dust being well laid.

We passed a regiment of cavalry, the Fourth Michigan, which is said will accompany our division. The presence of a lady at the head of this regiment excited a good deal of curiosity. Some said she was in command of it, but we learned later that she is the wife of the adjutant; has been with the regiment in all its engagements, including Pittsburg Landing and Shiloh. She is a fine, noble-looking woman, and is said to be greatly beloved and highly respected by the men. She serves in the hospital during an engagement. A lot of stories are told about her killing rebel officers, taking prisoners and leading charges. One story is that her husband, a major in command of a battalion, was killed at Pittsburg Landing, and she took his place and led the command to victory.

The cavalry was in Bloomfield last night, the rebels having left a short time before. A fiery "sesesh" woman fired at the cavalry from an upper window. The salute was, promptly returned and she disappeared. No dead bodies were found. The cavalry go to Bardstown, to which point we seem to be heading. Camped a mile and a half east of Bloomfield.

SUNDAY, Oct. 5, 1862.

Last night was very cool, and a heavy dew fell on the earth and on the soldier alike. Were up at 3 this morning and stood in line until daylight, but we didn't stand still—had to dance to keep warm.

Timber is becoming more plentiful as we get away from the Salt river hills, but the land is poor, being very thin soil over a deposit of blue limestone. A peculiarity of this stone is that it has shells embedded all through it and attached to the surface. Some of these look like small oyster shells, while others are different from anything I have ever seen. And then there are roundish pieces from the size of a walnut up, that are limestone outside and a clear flinty stone inside, and very hard.

All ready to march this morning, but orders came to unsling knapsacks and turn in and cook beef and prepare rations. Orderly Sergeant Reece G. Lewis and I went down to the creek and washed a shirt or two. The creek bank was lined on both sides with washermen. A large mail arrived and every man in the regiment got letters from home and from her.

NEAR BLOOMFIELD, KY., Oct. 6, 1862.

Watched the gray dawn come again. Would about as soon watch the rebs coming. Turned out in full equipment. Some said we were going to drill. We have only been in uniform for about seven weeks, and had no time whatever for drilling.

But we didn't drill. We passed through Bloomfield—a pretty town of 250 inhabitants—and turned east on the Lexington pike. At noon we passed through the town of Chaplin, a regular Bitte reseeh hot-bed. Lieut. Saunders of Company C arrested a loud-mouthed "secesher," but let him go again.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The news that the trolley route between New York and Philadelphia has been completed has aroused considerable interest here. Now the question arises of what one is the through trolley line? It can hardly compete with the steam roads, and unless one cares to make a tour by electric railway for the mere pleasure of the experience, it does not appear to the average New Yorker that it matters much whether the route is completed or not. There was a large gap in the neighborhood of Dunnellen, N. J. That gap has been just closed, and you may get on a trolley car in Jersey City or Hoboken and ride straight to Camden, with no more walking than is involved in stepping from one car to another at intervals. The achievement is regarded by its projectors as a notable one, and they are pardonably proud of what has been done. The thoughtful New Yorker, partly for whose benefit the road has been laid out, allows that the public service corporation controlling the road may be proud of its work, but asks to be excused from felicitating himself on it. He does not see that it will be of any material assistance to him, because the small sum he may save in fare would be consumed in buying provisions on the way. It may be that the ordinary individual who has not given the matter much consideration is mistaken in his summing up, but certainly that is the prevailing sentiment in Manhattan, so far as I have been able to learn it.

An Anonymous Protest.

Someone hung a mutilated British flag on the statue of Nathan Hale, in City Hall park this morning, with the legend attached: "Lest we forget. A. A. R." It was intended as an affront to the members of the Honorable Artillery Company of London, who were in this city yesterday, and who are guests of American military organizations. The police tore the bunting down before it had been generally noticed. One man, who seemed to regard the flag display as in good taste, said that the initials were not "A. A. R.," but "S. A. R.," signifying "Sons of the American Revolution," to which society he said he belonged.

Japanese Anxious to Fight.

New York has a considerable Japanese population. Many of them are merchants of standing, while others are students who are in some cases paying their expenses by acting as messengers or valets. All of them are full of war spirit tonight. Of all the Japanese young men that I have come across today I have not found one who is not eager for a fight with Russia. The feeling is intense. If the same kind of attitude is taken officially in Japan as is displayed by the mild-looking natives of that country in New York tonight than the Russian Bear should prepare for trouble and plenty of it in Manchuria.

Charges Made by Grout.

Comptroller Grout, who was dropped from the Fusion ticket last night, came out with a statement today, the upshot of it all being that the Fusion party has sold itself out to Platt. It is the general opinion that Tammany is more responsible for Mr. Grout's trouble than the bridegroom-elect of the United States Express Company.

Enterprising, but Indiscreet.

Enterprise distinguishes the junior fire brigade of Flushing, L. I., a popular home for New York commuters. The brigade is composed of lads of rather tender age, but with the ambition of full-grown men. There was a tournament between juvenile fire companies on Monkey hill, in Flushing on Saturday night and the junior brigade won first prize with a gorgeous red boscart carrying 100 feet of hose on the reel. Now it turns out that the boys stole the apparatus from the premises of a wealthy resident named Schumacher, who was in the habit of using it in watering his lawn. Mr. Schumacher told the police and the junior brigade were compelled to haul the machine back to his grounds to escape dungeon cells. And the worst of it is they forfeit the prize.

Equine Aristocracy on Parade.

Horse shows continue to be a favorite outdoor amusement in this part of the country. That at Morristown, the exceedingly swell New Jersey suburb, was opened today. The place of exhibition is the race track. It has rained all day, but the weather has not prevented a large attendance and many a roll-top desk in Manhattan was closed through its owner being at Morristown, watching the judging of the horses. A horse show will play as much havoc in some parts of Manhattan as a three-ring circus will in a country town. Tuxedo's horse show will open tomorrow.

Fear of Blindness Causes Suicide.

John T. Love, an artist, became afflicted with a monomaniacal fear of losing his sight. Oculists and physicians assured him that his apprehension was utterly groundless but he could not be persuaded and yesterday he committed suicide by swallowing carbolic acid. Mr. Love, whose home was in Passaic, N. J., was an authority on the technique and aesthetics of color and had written more than one monograph on the subject.

Discontent in "L" Circles.

Dissatisfaction is rife among employes of the elevated railway. The painters are in the forefront of the quarrel this time, declaring that their pay is not commensurate with the value of their labor. They are holding a meeting this evening and rumors of a possible strike have already filtered through the chinks of the closely-barred doors of the hall. It is said that the motormen, too, are ready for trouble. They are paid regular locomotive engineers' wages, but are afraid the company intends to put motormen in their places at the lower wage prevailing for that kind of work. With all this, it is the opinion of the public that the "L" is running more satisfactorily than it has for many months. There is no more crowding in the rush hours than there ever was, and at other periods in the day it is usually possible to get a seat.

Troubles of the Voters.

Voters in New York will have their first personal experience of the hustle required to get in ballots in the metropolis. They are required by law to go to certain places and register their names and addresses. The proceeding is simple enough on its face. The trouble of it lies on the fact that there are watchful representatives of the several political parties ready to catch any unlucky citizen whom they do not know personally, and who may intend to try to deposit a ballot illegally. It has happened that there have been as many scraps over registering as at the polls on election day. Considering that the present situation is a complicated one it would not be surprising if there were to be several fights and a few arrests tomorrow.

Why They Howl.

The Democrats of Maryland know there is no more danger of negro domination in this state than there is of anarchistic domination in the United States. And yet they keep up their hypocritical howl for the sake of catching a few votes.—Baltimore American.

Chamberlain's Plan

The basis of Mr. Chamberlain's program is the necessity for preferential trade with the colonies, for the permanent binding together of the empire. As the colonies are Great Britain's best customers, it is an obligation to buy their products in preference to those of other countries, and to promote this end he would impose an import duty upon foreign products which compete with those of the colonies. As these are chiefly articles of food, the proposal amounts in effect to a restoration of the "Corn laws." Wool is one of the most important of the colonial products, but, as Mr. Chamberlain is seeking the support of the manufacturers, he rejects a tax on raw materials. The chief tax he proposes is on foreign wheat, in order to encourage the trade with Canada. He would not tax maize—the American corn—because, as he says, it is used as food by the poorest classes, and in its farm uses may be regarded as raw material, but also obviously because it is not grown in the colonies. Imported meats and meat products would also be taxed, with a lower rate on bacon, as a concession to the British breakfast table, and with an added tax on flour, for the protection of the millers. To compensate for this tax on food he would reduce the duties on tea and sugar, now chief sources of revenue, and to cover deficiencies he proposes a duty of 10 per cent on all manufactures.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

\+ \+ \+ \+

Great Britain is booked for the greatest stumping she has known in many years. Mr. Chamberlain's topic appeals to every person in the realm, and he possesses both the courage and the ability to handle it. His opening speech at Glasgow was heard and applauded by thousands, and we may safely expect the interest to continue. * * * Mr. Chamberlain commits himself fully to protection. He would build up his country by the policy which has wrought such wonders in the United States and in Germany. It will require, of course, adjustment to suit the local conditions and resources, but he has the fullest faith in his country's ability to respond to such an adjustment to the advantage of all. This necessarily means a contest with us as even sharper than the one in existence, but as we are so firmly on our guns we shall not shrink from the engagement if the British electorate accepts Mr. Chamberlain's suggestion. Business is business, and we have not reached a place in the front rank of the world's commercial figures without learning and being able to apply the art of war.—Washington Star.

\+ \+ \+ \+

Since there have been gains in British exports to colonies and dependencies, while there have been less elsewhere, and since it is a patent fact that Great Britain's salvation lies in those colonies and dependencies, Mr. Chamberlain proposes to increase these gains in British colonies and dependencies by means of preferential tariffs, shutting out other countries as other countries shut out Great Britain from their markets. That this plan was inevitable we warned the American people long ago, as we studied the trend of the British foreign trade. It was something plain for any man to see who would take the trouble to investigate the facts and figures in the case. Yet the cheerful idiots in our own congress ignored them all, and, when they came to consider foreign trade, hit upon the imbecility of Cuban reciprocity! The imbecility, we say, because when this country really does anything in the way of trade concessions it must be with Great Britain and the British colonies and dependencies, which, in self-defense, are now planning to shut us out of their markets, where we sell much more than half our total exports.—New York Press.

\+ \+ \+ \+

Thanks to the Republican party, we are 40 years ahead in seeing the advantages of protection. Our ring-fence is up and it is John Bull tight. We have in Cuba and the Philippines—to say nothing of other lands to come—our tropical markets and products. Thanks to the high wages of protection we produce cheaper per unit. Our wheat, meat and manufactures can pass any tariff, as Germany has discovered. But with all our advantages, the fight will be bitter. England is our big market. One-third of our exports go there and half of these exports will be taxed under Mr. Chamberlain's plan. Whether he carries the British electorate or not is another question. He has a fighting chance. If protection does not win in England at first, it will in the end, because it is sound in principle and practice. But it is so plain as day that when England is turning toward protection is no time for us to drop a high tariff. Instead, it must be retained and used under reciprocity treaties to extort concessions. Suppose the English-speaking race faced the rest of the world in a vast mutual reciprocal tariff arrangement, what chance would any other trade or manufacturer have?—Philadelphia Press.

\+ \+ \+ \+

Joseph Chamberlain's speech at Glasgow in support of his policy of a protective tariff which shall embrace the British empire is even more notable than the recent address of Balfour on the same subject. Balfour's utterances were important and interesting as the words of a prime minister who gave at least a qualified adherence to economic doctrines which Englishmen for half a century have been taught to consider the rankest heresy. Chamberlain's outspoken demands are those of a man who, whether in office or out, is one of the strongest forces in British politics today. To him and not to the premier, is due the aggressive campaign which has been started in behalf of an innovation which is not only radical in itself but which contemplates the erection of a complete and comprehensive tariff barrier around one-third of the human race.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

EVENING CLASSES ARE BOON TO Y. M. C. A. MEN

Nearly 1,000 ambitious pupils have been enrolled in the evening classes of the Young Men's Christian association, which are being organized this week. At the central association rooms at Penn avenue and Seventh street, there has been a most encouraging attendance, and two new classes, Latin and descriptive metallurgy of iron and steel, have proved immensely popular. Experienced teachers and practical business men have charge of the classes, and excellent progress is anticipated for the students.

The studies which are being taken up this year are French, Latin, Spanish, German, English and spelling, freehand drawing, mathematics, vocal music, penmanship, bookkeeping, mechanical drawing and metallurgy. The sessions are held from 7:30 until 9 o'clock p. m., one meeting of each class being held each week. The instructors are: French, Prof. J. E. Charles; drawing, George H. Schwan; stenography, William A. Terry and William E. Clark; Spanish, Santiago Monguio; mathematics, Henry Harper; elementary drawing, W. J. Bruner and J. L. Brown; English and arithmetic, Clifford G. Dunnells; Bookkeeping, W. J. Ward and J. C. Hahn; Latin, Prof. J. B. Hench; music, Prof. J. P. McCollum; metallurgy, Samuel Groves; German, Prof. John Launitz; penmanship, George E. Campbell.

PICTURES ARRIVE AT CARNEGIE GALLERIES

Big Collection Intended for Annual Exhibit Is Unpacked and Will Be Viewed by Art Jury Next Week.

Nearly 200 oil paintings offered to the Carnegie art galleries for the forthcoming exhibition, beginning on Founder's day, November 5, were unpacked yesterday and arranged for the preliminary view by the art jury, which will convene here next week. The pictures came from all parts of the country and represent artists of all classes and the advocates of every school. It is probable that not more than 50 per cent of the canvases will be accepted.

The names of the art critics selected on the jury will be announced within a few days, and next Thursday they will meet in Pittsburgh to select the paintings intended for the American collection which will supplement the paintings of the International Association of Sculptors, Painters and Gravers in the annual exhibition. For several days scores of express wagons have been arriving at the Institute burdened with boxes containing the pictures. Artists—famous professionals, obscure amateurs and some who have but lately entered the realms of art—are entering with enthusiasm into the competition.

A double rail has been built through the length of the main gallery, and against this the pictures will be placed. The jury will meet in an adjoining room and the pictures to be judged will be carried in one by one. Tickets of various colors typifying the merits of the canvases will be attached by the jury, and these will decide the fate of each entry. Some of those seen yesterday were magnificent in the mass of color and bold in treatment like some master works of Rinehart. There were a few portraits, but as a whole, those seemed conventional. Landscapes predominated and a large number were distinguished by a strong impressionistic flavor. Some have little claim as art and will pass before the jury in a moment. Others are regarded off-hand as some of the most artistic productions that have been seen here.

Andrew Carnegie is not disposed always to discourage the painter of freak pictures, and when a canvas without perspective or tone-quality is found it is frequently considered as a possible curio for the museum.

THIEVES VERY BUSY AROUND BRADDOCK

Evidence of Spite Work in Barber Shop—Harness, Watches and Clothing Are Stolen.

The barber shop of Louis Corell at No. 617 Braddock avenue was entered early yesterday morning and the contents of the place were wrecked and several coats and vests in the shop were slashed into ribbons. Carson Bros.' harness store, next door to Corell's place, was also entered and $100 worth of tools and goods were stolen.

The work is believed to have been committed for spite, as Corell discovered a negro in Roy's jewelry store, next door, Tuesday night and caused his arrest. It is believed that his place was entered by the negro's companions. Nothing of value was taken from Corell's shop, but the damages will amount to nearly $300.

A sneak thief yesterday morning stole a gold watch valued at $55 and $25 in money from the home of Hugh McWilliams, in Brown avenue, Turtle Creek.

A suit of clothing and $25 in money was stolen from the home of Mrs. Mary Argyle, in Second street, Duquesne, yesterday afternoon.

About $20 in money and two rain coats were stolen from J. Schoenfield's clothing store, in Eighth avenue, Homestead, yesterday morning.

Just two days longer will there be opportunity at the new exposition to hear the wonderful, stirring music of Vessella, as his engagement comes to a close tomorrow night. Vessella, in addition to intensely temperamental interpretative powers, has the uncommon gift of interpolating compositions that are on everybody's tongue and set loose a hurricane of boisterous approval.

NEW GUSHER GAVE OUT 220 BARRELS IN A DAY

Oil Well in Indiana Township Still Flowing by Heads, but Not Up to First Reports.

Official facts brought to light yesterday do not carry out very well the ideas of greatness regarding the oil well struck in Indiana township Wednesday by the American Oil & Gas Company. The well is on the farm of Mrs. Mary Light, two miles north of Undercliff.

From 4 p. m. Wednesday to the same hour last evening the well produced 220 barrels, as shown by the pipe line gauge. At the hour first named it was connected up by the Southwest Pennsylvania pipe line and the oil was run by gravity to the pipe line company's station at Crugger. Last evening the well made 3-barrel flows at intervals of 15 minutes.

The oil and gas were encountered in the 30-foot sand. The well is located in territory that has been tested many times in the last eight years, but this particular location was passed over. It is claimed by oil men that there is not room for anything better than a small pool and that it is more than probable that not another producing well can be drilled in that locality.

Eight years ago the local talent had some unpleasant experience on account of a few wells coming in with something of a flourish.

RAISED TROUBLE ON SHIP.

Italian Coal Miner from Carnegie, Charged With Theft, Tried to Debark at New York.

Henrico Stephano, a young Italian coal miner of Carnegie, was the center yesterday of a sensational fight on the French liner La Touraine just before she left New York. Stephano, or Dalzon Antoni, which the chief of police of Carnegie, George E. Foster, says is his right name, was attempting to leave this country and get back to Italy. He is charged with stealing $51.30 and several valuable articles on October 9 from the home of Anthony Derl of Carnegie, with whom he boarded.

Chief Foster notified the New York police, and two detectives found Stephano among the steerage passengers. He fought the detectives and was taken from the ship after a struggle lasting several minutes. He attempted to enlist the sympathies of the other passengers, but they would not interfere. He will be held in New York until the necessary requisition papers can be received.

ELECTIONEERING FOR LOS ANGELES

Seventeen Laymen Want to Represent the Pittsburgh Methodists There.

PASTORS' TURN HAS COME, TOO

Reports of Presiding Elders at Methodist Conference Show the Five Districts Are Prospering—Memorial Services for Deceased Members Are Held.

A. M. Schoyer.

The second day's session of the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist church was held yesterday, the business session in the morning being taken up with the reports of the presiding elders of the five districts in the Pittsburgh conference and the memorial services honoring three deceased members of the conference. The afternoon session was spent by the members in hearing the annual missionary sermon by the Rev. W. S. Lockard of Rochester, Pa.

The conference will meet at 10 a. m. today, the ministers in the Emory church and the laymen in the East Liberty Presbyterian church, to elect delegates to the general conference which is to meet in Los Angeles, Cal., in May. It has been the custom to send three presiding elders and some representative clergyman like the Rev. Dr. C. W. Smith, president of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, but this year the conference is entitled to five instead of four ministerial delegates and the pastors of the churches are being heard from. They hold there is no reason why the presiding elders should always be sent as delegates and that therefore at least one pastor and perhaps two ought to go this year.

Presiding Elders as Candidates.

The presiding elders are candidates for the honor, and among others mentioned this time are the Rev. Dr. Joseph Horner, in charge of the Methodist book store; the Rev. J. A. Ashe of New Brighton and the Rev. Dr. J. B. Risk, pastor of the First church in Washington, Pa.

There are 17 candidates for lay delegates. Among these is A. M. Schoyer, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania lines west, active in Sunday school, Epworth league and church work; Samuel Hamilton, Attorney Harvey Henderson and Attorney James W. Kinnear. The friends of the candidates have been actively canvassing for votes and chances for the election of Mr. Schoyer and Mr. Hamilton look bright.

The session opened yesterday with devotional services at 8:30 a. m. in charge of Bishop W. F. Mallalieu. The service lasted half an hour and then the business session began with the calling of the roll, which showed that only 13 members of the conference were absent.

Presiding Elder S. T. Mitchell of the Blairsville district reported that there were 48 charges in the district. The average salary of the pastors last year was $1,055, but 15 appointments had increased the average to $1,100 a year. The missionary receipts increased.

The Rev. G. W. Terbush, presiding elder of the Pittsburgh district, reported that the year was prosperous, several church debts were wiped out, new churches were built; there were more than 800 accessions during the year, and the average salary of pastors was $2,500.

Activity in McKeesport District.

The Rev. Dr. J. F. Murray of the McKeesport district said there had been much activity in church and parsonage building and the average pastoral salary had been increased to $2,500.

After the reading of the report resolutions expressing the thanks of the conference to Mrs. Hattie F. Ballentyne for the gift of $30,000 for the education of children of members of the conference were adopted.

The Rev. Dr. T. N. Boyle, presiding elder of the Pittsburgh district, reported that evil had invaded the social life, business circles and political arena of the district. The district had contributed to missions $27,000, an increase of $11,000 over last year. He suggested that a committee be appointed to report on the fund acquired by the sale of the Liberty Street church. The presiding elder of the Washington district, the Rev. Dr. James Mechem, reported that several large bequests had been received and that work among foreigners ought to be extended.

The regular order of the day was the service in memory of the Rev. Sylvester Lowther, the Rev. J. W. Kessler and the Rev. T. C. Hatfield, who died during the year. The Rev. W. F. Conner of the Perrysville Avenue church, Allegheny, presided and made an address. The memorials to Mr. Kessler and Mr. Hatfield were read by the secretary and the memorial to Mr. Lowther by Dr. Boyle. The addresses were adopted as the report of the memorial committee.

Spoke in Behalf of Freedmen.

The Rev. Dr. M. C. B. Mason made an address in behalf of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Educational societies of the church. The Rev. Dr. J. Krantz of New York spoke in the interest of the book concern.

At the afternoon session Dr. Lockard began his sermon by saying that it was no sin to be discouraged, but the sin lay in not earnestly working on in the face of discouragement. He added:

"I am discouraged today because, with all our work and prayer and earnest endeavor in the missionary fields, we are only on the outermost edge of the work of bringing the world to Christ. But I shall preach on and work on and add my mite to help accomplish that work. I sincerely believe that the day is not far distant when the whole world will be saved, when Christ is King indeed.

"Therefore, brethren, work on and preach on unfalteringly. Don't sit down and sing and pray alone, but work, work, work. When Christ comes to claim His own the saints will be those who have worked and toiled in His name.

"Then the spirituality of the church must be greater. The ministers cannot accomplish the redemption of the world alone. The members of the congregations must work and sacrifice and give of their world's goods to help the cause along. There is not enough self-sacrifice among us.

"Why, many ministers would gladly trade their missionary collections for the tobacco bills of members of their churches. I hold that a church member who will not give to the Lord the tenth of his earnings is living below the plane a Christian should occupy.

Prayer Followed the Sermon.

The sermon was followed with prayer by the Rev. Dr. Latshaw Maguire, one of the oldest members of the conference, in which he thanked the Lord that he is still working for His glorification, although the statement is being made that he is to go on the retired list.

The night session was taken up with a speech by the Rev. M. C. B. Mason, D. D., the negro secretary of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education society. The Rev. A. M. Doak, presided.

The speaker of the evening impressed upon his hearers the importance of establishing and maintaining schools for Christian education in the southern states. The negro problem must be met by the church, he said. The negro race had progressed, although it was not yet "out of the wilderness." The race was paying taxes on $500,000,000 worth of property, whereas before the war the negroes did not own the clothes on their backs.

Envelopes were distributed and a handsome contribution to the cause was made.

The Rev. J. F. Berry of Chicago, the editor of the Epworth Herald and general secretary of the Epworth league, will be at the conference tomorrow. He will preach for Dr. Rees in the old Smithfield Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday evening. The attendance of the league of this old historic curch is phenomenal. The pastor is having printed a souvenir program for distribution on Sunday evening. Special music and a rally of leaguers in honor of Dr. Berry's presence will be features. Dr. Boyle will be present and make the opening prayer.

The members of the college fraternities belonging to the conference will banquet tonight at Youngson's cafe in East Liberty, when an association comprising members of fraternities will be formed. The toastmaster will be the Rev. Dr. J. E. Knox of Greensburg, and responses will be made by the Rev. Dr. Daniel Dorchester, the Rev. J. P. Marlett of Tarentum, the Rev. H. N. Cameron of California, Pa., and the Rev. W. F. Conner.

CHURCH HAS SURPLUS.

First Presbyterian of Braddock Has Pleasant Annual Meeting.

The congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian church of Braddock, the twenty-second annual event of the church, of which the Rev. William G. Geagle is pastor, shows that the church is not only out of debt, but has a balance in the treasury of $124.70.

A feature of the congregational meeting was the presentation to George Speidel, baritone soloist, who is director of the choir, of a handsome silver tea service, the gift of the congregation. Supper was served at the close of the meeting to 300 members. Dr. M. L. Glenn was re-elected chairman of the congregation; John A. Glant, treasurer, and John S. Colmery, secretary. Two new trustees were elected to fill the expired terms: Philip Sharah and S. A. Stright. The auditors chosen were Frank Cyphers and O. M. Sloan.

GETS RURAL FREE DELIVERY.

Postmaster Campbell of McKeesport Notified of Plans for Varsailles.

Rural free delivery from the McKeesport postoffice is now assured, according to Postmaster William V. Campbell, who has been greatly interested in this work since he became postmaster. His endeavors to have the system inaugurated have met with success and he has been notified that D. F. Dolin, special agent of the rural free delivery department at Washington, D. C., will be in McKeesport next Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of conducting an examination of rural free delivery carriers and clerks. An eligible list will be established from which any assistants may be selected.

The district to be benefited by the new system is Versailles township, east, southeast and south from the McKeesport postoffice, taking in a large and thickly populated district.

PERSONALS

Judge U. S. Kendall of Fairmont, who was in Pittsburgh yesterday, gave a glowing account of the amount of coal speculation in the West Virginia districts. He said: "During the past few weeks several large coal deals have been made. Business depression has not retarded the development of the coal territory in that district. The West Virginia Short line, which runs from New Martinsville to Clarksburg, is building several branch lines to tap new coal mines. One interesting feature of the coal in that country is the discovery of several veins nine feet thick. In the Pocohontas fields the coal has to be blasted in the mines and when such is the case its quality is superior to the average. There are hundreds of acres of coal land not developed because of the inability to get it to market. The West Virginia Short line, reaching the river, will be the best coal-carrying road in the United States within the next two years, providing there is market for the product."

Miss Mary Chalfant Moore, a teacher in the free kindergarten of the Ralston school, has been appointed missionary to Shantung, China, by the Presbyterian board of foreign missions. She will teach in the girls' high school of Wei Hsien. Miss Moore is a daughter of J. Chamberg Moore, a business man of Saltsburg, Pa. She will leave for her new field on October 28 with the Rev. W. P. Chalfant and family, to whom she is related.

G. T. Maloney of Greensburg spent yesterday in Pittsburgh. Before leaving for home he said: "Greensburg has the appearance of a farm yard. During the week nearly every farmer around the town has been bringing in hay for shipment, and the local stables have been filled for the winter. The hay crop in Westmoreland county has been good, but the wheat crop is far below the growth of last year."

Lieut. J. G. Muir of the United States Marine corps left Pittsburgh yesterday for a trip through the east. He will return to his duties in Pittsburgh in about a week.

Martin L. Jennings, D. D., editor of the Methodist Recorder, is in New York attending a conference of the Methodist Protestant church.

LIKE AN ELEVATOR

Food Sends One Up or Down.

Good food sends one up or bad food sends one down.

Health depends on food more than on anything else and particularly where one gets but little exercise care must be used not to eat greasy, pasty, starchy foods that do not nourish but cause trouble.

A big man whose normal weight is 220 pounds thought he was a skeleton when he fell off to 185. He says: "I had been housed up for four years and was run down from my normal weight of 220 pounds when in health to 185 pounds. I was very nervous and generally careworn mentally and felt sick and miserable all the time, getting very little pleasure out of life.

"Then I commenced using Grape-Nuts regularly twice a day and in a short time I had gained back to 215 pounds at which weight I am now getting strong and well and active both physically and mentally. All my troubles have disappeared and I am lively and happy.

"I am not a youngster any more in years but Grape-Nuts has made me feel younger and stronger than for a great many years past." There's a reason.

GROUT TALKS BUT HE FAILS TO ACT

His Rumored Opposition to Filing of Fusion Ticket Did Not Materialize.

ISSUED A LONG STATEMENT

Deplores the Situation He Finds Himself in and Says Hard Things About the Republicans—President Fornes Also Takes to Language.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The entire fusion ticket was filed and accepted at the bureau of elections today by George R. Manchester, secretary of the Republican county convention. The rumored opposition of Fornes and Grout over the removal of their names from the ticket did not materialize.

Just why there was no protest against the filing of the ticket cannot be learned, as both men announced they intend fighting the removal of their names to the end. The fusion party, however, now that their ticket is complete announces that its campaign will be run only on the lines of the "continuance of good city government."

While Comptroller Grout lacked activity in fulfilling his threats to prevent filing of the fusion ticket, his pen was not inactive and today he issued a lengthy statement in reply to the actions of last night's convention. He charges the Citizens-Union with being under Senator Platt's rule and devotes much space to his intention of fighting being taken off the ticket.

In part Mr. Grout said:

"All parties, all newspapers, agree that I have been an honest and efficient comptroller. I shall stand for reelection on that record which all have approved. Before I went away on my vacation I made known to some fusion managers the very details of my private business affairs which made me unwilling to continue in office. I accepted at Mr. Low's personal request and in spite of every other inducement and argument. Then I was offered an indorsement by the Democratic party.

"I did not seek it. I did not bargain deal or dicker for it. I was not bought, sold or gagged. I made no concealment of my belief that, if taken sincerely by the fusionists, such indorsement would help Mr. Low. And I am abused, outraged, expelled. Why? Because I say that the campaign should be fought by argument, by proofs, by appeals to reason, not by denunciation, bitter words and appeals to passion. I shall ask every taxpayer whose bill this year is reduced to remember that it would not have been less if I had not been comptroller.

"As a Democrat I shall ask the Democrats of this city to notice how this situation has been made at the direction of Platt and his intimates, and to say whether this Democratic city shall be thus turned over to Platt. I believe that municipal business should be managed upon its merits. I have so conducted it and will so continue if re-elected. The position of the Republican machinists and of Mr. Cutting has become the acme of partisanship."

President Fornes of the board of aldermen issued a statement this evening, containing the following:

"Because I consented to have my candidacy indorsed by the regular Democratic organization, I am declared unworthy of going before the electorate upon the fusion ticket—and by whom? Mr. Bruce recently from Delaware county and now chairman of the Republican county committee; by Mr. Platt, the 'easy boss' of the Republican party, and whose official life has been conspicuous chiefly for his actual successful brokerage in public offices in order that his henchmen might strengthen him in the primary contests of the Republican party; by Mr. Odell, a partisan Republican governor, who, previous to his election to that exalted office was distinguished chiefly for his ability to control legislation through the unsavory meshes of the lobby, and whom the people of this city repudiated at the last election by the most overwhelming defeat that any candidate for public office ever suffered at its hands.

"These are the men and these are the forces which have cast a blight over the cause of fusion and struck the deadliest blow at non-partisan municipal government which it has ever received."

ORDINANCES IN ALLEGHENY.

P. R. R. Officials to Be Conferred With in Regard to Stockton Avenue Wall.

At a meeting of the public works committee of Allegheny councils last night the ordinance for a retaining wall in South park to connect with the Pennsylvania railroad's wall supporting Stockton avenue, was referred to a sub-committee that will confer with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company regarding the payment of the costs.

The following ordinances were ordered printed for councils: For sewers on Euclid avenue and a 10-foot alley in the Fifteenth ward; authorizing the purchase of two smoke stacks for the electric light plant on Braddock avenue; granting the Crucible Steel Company the right to lay a switch from the Pittsburgh & Western Railroad Company's tracks in Belmont street, to the company's works; and the grading, paving and curbing of Compromise street.

A resolution that hereafter all sewer ordinances be referred to the standing sub-committee on streets and sewers before being considered by the general committee was also ordered printed.

CHURCH DEBT PAID.

Calvary Presbyterian Congregation of Braddock Subscribes Amount.

At last night's annual meeting of the congregation of the Calvary Presbyterian church of Braddock $650 of the $1,200 needed to pay a debt of $500 and make improvements was subscribed in a short time.

The election of church officers resulted as follows: David F. Collingwood and Richard Stevens, elders; F. G. Bishoff, A. B. Stevenson, Harry W. Benn, G. W. Smith, John S. Donnellon and C. A. Stokes, trustees. A. B. Stevenson, congregational chairman; Samuel D. Hamilton, treasurer, and Walter S. Colmery, secretary. D. F. Collingwood was elected Sunday school superintendent; John Rinard, assistant superintendent, and George W. Smith, treasurer. Fred W. Pilgram was elected choir director; Prof. Floyd J. St. Clair, organist, and Mrs. J. F. Clokey, organist for the Sunday school.

Shooting Crap Shooter Shot Dead.

It was the other fellow who shot in the Youngstown crap game, and the result is that Jerry Hughes, a Pittsburgh negro, is dead in that city. Hughes had been wanted here by the police for shooting Carry G. Campbell during a crap game in Mathilda street several weeks ago, but he fled the town. Campbell is recovering from his wound. Word of the fatal ending of the Youngstown affair was received here yesterday.

NURSES LIKELY TO MEET AT ST. LOUIS NEXT TIME

Convention City Will Be Chosen and Officers Will Be Elected Today.

An excursion full of interesting social and educational features is promised for the American Society of Superintendents of Training Schools for Nurses in next year's convention if the St. Louis exposition is chosen today as the meeting place. Last night at the banquet at the Hotel Schenley the one topic of informal discussion was the anticipation of the exhibits which will have a practical interest to members of the profession. The afternoon had been spent in the amphitheater at the West Penn hospital, and there a demonstration was given which was attended with much interest. Pittsburgh has provided a fund of instructive sightseeing for the visitors, and all favor visiting the great fair in a body in order to enjoy its scientific advantages.

A hospital established in the grounds of the St. Louis exposition will be provided with every requisite in an up-to-date institution, and in this the society feels the kindliest interest. Many of the suggestions offered in papers read at the Pittsburgh convention will be adopted in St. Louis, and the society will be officially recognized.

The banquet last night closed the social program for the local meeting. At 9:30 o'clock this morning the closing business session will be held. St. Louis is almost certain to be chosen for the next convention, and officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Among the papers read yesterday much interest centered in the name of Miss Anna Goodrich of the New York hospital, whose subject was "Some Common Points of Weakness in Hospital Construction." Miss Goodrich pointed out many needs in the large institution and deplored the scarcity of compiled information on the subject. She suggested that notes of the plans of all the hospitals in the country could be taken and entered in a manuscript volume for that purpose. Miss M. McKechnie of the New York infirmary described the efforts that had been put forth to obtain a state law regulating the registration of nurses. She said that recent legislation had resulted in countless benefits for members of the profession in the Empire state and declared that nurses everywhere should join appeals for uniform laws to this end in all the states. Other papers were read by Miss L. L. Dock and Miss C. Louise Burdette of New York.

VETERANS WERE SCARCE.

Very Few Old Soldiers Responded to the Call of the Bigelow Machine.

An attempt was made last night by the citizens party of Allegheny to hold a meeting of old soldiers in Kenyon hall. Invitations were mailed to all the veterans in the city, but that there was no hope of a large attendance was evidenced by the fact that no arrangement had been made for speakers.

In the absence of the invited, the chairs in Kenyon hall were warmed by 100 or more pay-rollers and a few followers that still cling to the Citizens on the North Side. From the rear of the house the gray heads could be counted on one's fingers.

Chairman Jackson, in opening the meeting addressed the crowd as "Old soldiers and fellow-Citizens" and out of respect for their chairman the pay-rollers kept straight faces and apparently saw no humor in the situation.

A "Veterans' association, to be an auxiliary to the Citizens party, was organized. Col. William H. Cowell was elected chairman; Capt. Thomas Dunlap, vice chairman, and W. H. McCune, secretary. This organization, like Hoyt's regiment in "A Milk White Flag," has no private.

While this was going on in Kenyon hall the Veterans' Republican club in North Diamond street was holding an informal meeting which was attended by about 200 of the old soldiers of Allegheny. Maj. H. K. Tyler, Charles Zimmerman and others made short addresses.

Delegates Made Explanations.

Local union No. 3 of the structural iron workers met last night and heard the reports of the eight delegates who attended the Kansas City convention. All violated their instructions, but they were justified in doing so. They voted against their instructions after the majority had already voted, and so as to be in the majority they went to the winning side. One of the questions was in regard to affiliating with the American Federation of Labor. Nearly every delegate present voted to affiliate.

THREE KILLED BY TRAINS.

Fred Avery, a Conductor, Met Death at Guyasuta—Millic Held in Kelly Case.

Fred E. Avery, aged 38 and married, of Baden, Pa., conductor on the Fort Wayne railroad, was ground to death between two freight cars on the West Penn railroad near Guyasuta station late yesterday afternoon. He was coupling a string of cars to his train when the train backed, squeezing him. He was taken to the West Penn hospital and died an hour later.

Peter Zonsone, a laborer of West Elizabeth, was struck by a train on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad near his home at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and instantly killed. He was 25 years of age and single.

Andrew Barkansky, married, aged 33, of No. 3 Irwin street, was killed yesterday afternoon by being run over by a car in the yards of the Elliot furnaces of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company.

Dusan Millic, a young Italian, was held by a coroner's jury yesterday for the murder of Policeman Andrew J. Kelly last Sunday night. Evidence was shown that when Millic was arrested and placed in a patrol wagon near the scene a revolver containing two empty chambers fell from his pocket.

Steamship Ticket Agents Met.

A meeting of local steamship agents was held in the office of J. J. McCormick & Co., Smithfield street, yesterday to talk over matters connected with their business. Inroads are being made on their profits, it is claimed, by ticket sellers, and they want to adopt measures to stop the rate cutting and commission-splitting, both of which are forbidden by the steamship companies. Nothing was done at yesterday's meeting, but another gathering will be held shortly.

Charged With Embezzlement.

G. H. Kerns was arrested at Fourth avenue and Smithfield street yesterday afternoon by Special Officers Dennison and Duffy on a warrant charging him with embezzlement. The warrant was sworn out by M. Pettinger, a book agent. It is alleged while Kerns was employed by Pettinger, about six weeks ago, he embezzled $14. He was not located until yesterday.

UNIVERSITY IS IN GOOD SHAPE

Trustees of Western Pennsylvania Institution Heard Reports.

CHANGES IN THE FACULTY

Increases in Attendance in All Departments Except Two—Raising Standard Kept Out Students in Lower Grades. Success of Law Graduates.

The trustees of the Western University of Pennsylvania held their fall meeting yesterday afternoon in Mayor William B. Hays's office. The acting chancellor, John Brashear, reported an increase of scholars this term of 57 in the collegiate and engineering departments, but said raising the standard of admission had reduced the number of new applicants in the freshmen classes. This was partly made up by those entering the sophomore class from other institutions.

There had been an increase in all the departments except two, which latter was attributed to the recent increase in the courses. Mr. Brashear especially praised the work of the law department, which, he said, was without a peer in the state. The records show there was not one failure in the university students who were examined for admission to the county and state supreme courts, and the members of the examining board were loud in their praise of the class of 1903. Prof. Brashear renewed his plea for a large endowment fund and a new site for the university. Those matters were discussed, but no plan of action was adopted.

The finance committee reported a deficit at present of $950 91, but in view of the fact that other institutions annually report deficits of many thousands, the board was well satisfied. The same committee reported that the Home Realty Company had assumed the mortgages formerly held by W. H. Skivington on property of the university in the East End district.

The committee on observatory reported that the dome of the new building will not be finished until the large telescope now being built is ready for delivery, possibly a year hence. The instruments and library are now being moved to the new building in Riverview park, and the power house engines and dynamos, given by George Westinghouse, are already installed there.

The committee to nominate a chancellor which was dissolved at the June meeting, was reappointed, and Dr. W. J. Holland was added to it. The committee on betterments was also reappointed in addition to a committee to revise agreements with professional schools. The latter consists of Benjamin Thaw, Dr. W. J. Holland and T. D. Carnahan, and their duties are to inquire into the legality of the faculties of professional schools, sitting on the board and other matters relating to the co-ordinate interests of such schools with the university.

The action of the executive committee in appointing Dr. S. N. Taylor to the chair of electricity to succeed Prof. S. M. Kinter was formally approved, as were the following changes in the medical department: Dr. A. F. Judd, demonstrator of pharmacy, succeeded by Dr. W. W. Westerly; Dr. E. S. Montgomery, professor of anatomy, succeeded by Dr. W. J. Lange; Dr. C. S. Milligan, professor of physiology, succeeded by Dr. F. A. Rhodes; Dr. William Anderson, demonstrator of biology, resigned, whose work was given to the professor of physiology.

Rump Public Safety Committee Fails to Face a Bill for Pneumatic Truck Repairs.

The "rump" public safety committee, the close corporation consisting of members of the famous select council combine, was supposed to meet yesterday, but a quorum could not be obtained. Director Harry Moore was on hand. After a half hour's wait it was concluded to have a meeting of the committee, if possible, on next Monday at 2 p. m., just previous to the meeting of select council.

The committee was called to pass upon warrants, and particularly the question of paying $1,500 for the repair of the aerial pneumatic ladder truck, which was bought two years ago and has been a source of expense and no benefit to the city. The machine cost $9,000 and the latest bill for repairs is for one-sixth of the original cost. The truck has been unlucky. It was first put out of commission during a drill of the crew entrusted with its operation, was sent away and stayed away for many months, and the first time it was used after its return it broke again. The Fire Extinguisher and Manufacturing Company, from which it was bought, repaired it and had to send to Germany for parts.

The machine operates ladders, which are shot up into the air by pneumatic power. To elevate the ladders and lower them the apparatus must stand exactly in a vertical line and if it stands a little at an incline the machine breaks.

Director Moore said it seemed to him as if an assortment of plumb levels would have to be taken along in future, and he nodded in facetious approval of a suggestion that a surveyor with compass, theodolite and other instruments be detailed to set the machine at and after a fire.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION.

Twenty-eighth Annual Session to Be Held at New Kensington.

The twenty-eighth annual convention of the Young Men's Christian associations of the Pittsburgh district will be held in New Kensington on October 16, 17 and 18. The Pittsburgh district comprises nearly all of the associations in the cities and colleges of Western Pennsylvania and a large attendance is expected.

William K. Jennings of Pittsburgh, chairman of the Pittsburgh district, will preside at the first session, Friday, October 16. The Rev. Maitland Alexander, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, will address the session on "A Work for Every Man." J. E. Griggs, general secretary of the Pittsburgh association, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Work of the Young Men's Christian Association." Several other local and state workers will take part.

IT TAKES ONLY $2

A friend said to another: "Are you holding onto your stocks and bonds or unloading and putting your money into West Park?" The reply was: "I don't know what to do. If I sell my stocks I get back a poor man's sum after having paid a rich man's sum. Wish to goodness I had bought real estate in the first place."

This conversation was a fact. It occurred yesterday in McKees Rocks not three hundred feet from the property. You can draw a lesson from it.

Then think how you may improve that lesson by bringing $2 to the great closing-out sale of the last and finest piece of

This last piece of West Park is the fourth plan of a property on which miles of houses have been built in less than thirty months. Such a record was never equaled.

The number and quality of city improvements which have been made in West Park in this short time stands unparalleled.

There are graded, sewered and paved streets, city water, both gases, electric lights, fire protection, police protection, schools, churches, and everything that a civilized being could wish for.

That's what makes the fact that you can buy a lot for $2 so remarkable. We do not want you to forget something else. This property is right in the center of the most growing industrial neighborhood in Greater Pittsburgh. Within a few steps of it the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company is erecting new car shops that will cost a million dollars. The Pressed Steel Car works will build next spring near the property a half million dollar addition to its enormous plant. Then think of the new Panhandle shops, to cover two hundred acres, which will be only two squares away.

Remember that it will not be necessary for you to come during daylight to select your lot. There are electric lights stationed close together located all over the property. West Park at night is lighted up brighter than Fifth Avenue.

GEORGE GETS THE CHIEF CLERKSHIP

Governor Pennypacker's Wishes Carried Out by Soldiers' School Commission.

CAPT. SKINNER IS RETAINED

Commission Turned Down Petitions from Franklin County Asking for His Dismissal from the Scotland School on Account of His Being a Democrat.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 8.

Gov. Pennypacker today landed Capt. William J. George of this city in the $2,000 position of chief clerk of the Soldiers' Orphan school commission, to succeed the late ex-Mayor John P. Patterson. George received the votes of the governor and six other members of the commission to three cast for J. Henry Holcomb of Philadelphia, who was backed by Col. Thomas G. Sample of Allegheny, and one for James Matthews, former superintendent of the Harford school.

The ballot was secret and the commissioners profess not to know how each other voted, although it is thought the vote for Matthews was cast by Senator Stineman of Cambria county.

George is a personal friend of Senators Quay and Penrose and they wrote letters to members of the commission recommending his election.

The commission turned down the petitions from the Republican office holders of Franklin county and the members of the Franklin county Republican county committee asking for the removal of Capt. George W. Skinner, Democrat and former United States pension agent at Pittsburgh, from the position of superintendent of the Scotland school, and the appointment in his stead of John F. Pensinger of Chambersburg, chairman of the Franklin county Republican committee.

Representative Cooper of Delaware county settled the matter by offering a resolution which was adopted, deploring the fact that the petitions were based on political grounds, and that this or any other school board expending state money "should ever permit politics to inject its way into any part of our school system and in any consideration which this board may give the situation at Scotland, it not only disclaims, but rejects any and every political or partisan demand." Skinner has written a letter to all members of the board stating that he is tired of the constant criticism against his administration at the Scotland school and if permitted to serve out his term, which expires May 1, he will not ask for re-election.

BETTING IN NEW YORK.

Pool Formed to Boost McClellan Stock Begins Operations.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Where the money came from no one seemed able to tell, but unexpectedly in the Hoffman house corridors today appeared a fund of money which its holders were anxiously looking to place on the election of George B. McClellan, making him the favorite at 50 to 7. It was rumored that this was part of the Tammany big fund that had been raised by the Sullivan-Considine combination.

On the heels of this sudden boom in the betting odds for McClellan it was announced authoritatively at the Hoffman house that Jacob Field, a prominent member of the stock exchange, who a few years ago won $40,000 on Mayor Low's election, today bet $5,000 against $5,500 that McClellan would sweep the city by a larger majority than that by which Low was elected.

Mr. Field is a Republican and good worker in the Republican cause, but it was said that so certain was he of McClellan's election that he has at least $50,000 to bet at the odds that he offered today. Who the taker of the other end was has not been ascertained.

SAILORS DRINK WINE.

Jackies on Kearsarge Raid Officers' Wine Locker and Take Only Best Brands.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Sailors on the battleship Kearsarge, now at the navy yard, broke open the officers' wine locker last night and for 24 hours revelled in the luxury of champagne jags. The officer of the deck noticed that a number of the men were intoxicated, but neglected to report the fact to his commanding officer until after he came off watch. For this he is now confined to his quarters serving 30 days' sentence. An apprentice is also confined. An investigation is under way.

The Kearsarge is the flagship of the North Atlantic squadron and if for no other reason than to be prepared to entertain distinguished visitors, the officers' mess is that a certain locker in the ward room is well stocked with their favorite brands. When the ward room attendant started on his tour of duty he noticed the open locker. An investigation showed that the fare concerned had made a most discriminate selection, taking only the brands marked "extra dry" and "Scotch Imported."

CONVICTED OF FORGERY.

Hotel Beat Sentenced to Fine and Imprisonment by Cleveland Magistrate.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—Orville B. Smith, was sentenced today to pay a fine of $200 and to serve three months in the workhouse on the charge of defrauding an innkeeper. Smith contracted a bill at the Hollenden hotel and presented a fraudulent check in payment. He also operated in other cities.

In his possession were also found sheets of paper on which the signatures of prominent business men had been closely imitated.

CALLED ON GOVERNOR.

Eastern Penitentiary Inspectors Present Report on Recent Investigation.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 8.—The inspectors of the Eastern penitentiary called on Gov. Pennypacker today and presented a written report on the recent investigation into the management of that institution. The governor had a long interview but declined to make any statement.

The inspectors were also reticent as to what occurred at the meeting and would not disclose the contents of their report.

OLD MAN WEEPS WHILE HIS PET DOG IS KILLED

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The gray-haired old man and his little fox terrier, seen daily for years by those who enter Central park at the Seventy-ninth street gate on the Fifth avenue side, will be seen together no more. The terrier became mad today and a policeman was forced to shoot it as the old man wept for the constant friend of his old days. All the children and the park policemen knew the man and dog. The man is said to be a retired merchant.

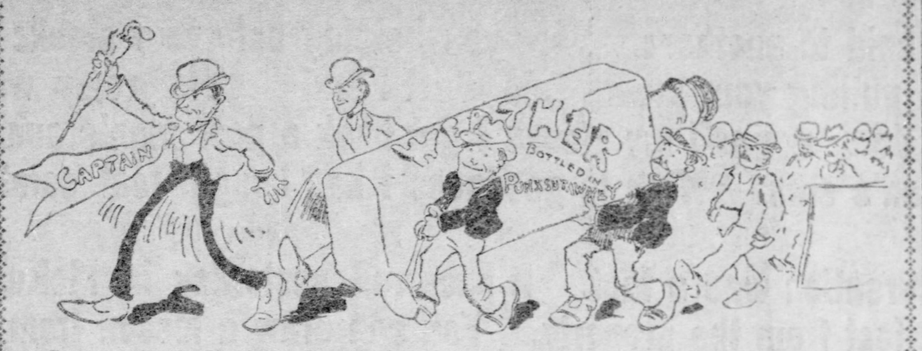
Punxsutawney Rooters Came to Town With Good Weather, But Failed to See Pirates Win



Bent on seeing the Pirates win the world's championship and to promote the national game by providing ideal weather, the ways and means committee of The Pittsburgh Gazette Groundhog club came down from Punxsutawney yesterday to boost the great sport. The committee did its work well and delivered Punxy's most desirable brand of autumn weather, but their disappointment was great when they saw the players from the effete east carry off the victory. The committee will remain in town today and will root for their favorites in Exposition park this afternoon.

Last night the visitors attended the theater and paid formal respects to Col. Frank Ridgway, their local rival in the weather business. The party includes some of the most famous groundhog hunters in Jefferson county. The chairman of the committee is Capt. Lemon Chambers, the organizer of the famous club, with W. R. McCartney, Frank Dickson, D. M. McQuown and William Gregg.

AN OHIO MERCHANT IS ARRESTED IN IOWA

Charged With Leaving His Wife and Eloping With Clerk in His Store.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 8.—Three weeks ago A. B. Gettleman, a merchant at Smithville, Wayne county, kissed his wife and daughter goodbye, and took a train for Norwalk, where he was to attend the Methodist conference as a delegate from the local church. He failed to return and it was then observed that Mrs. Amanda Mishler, who was a clerk in his store, was also missing and it was at once charged that they had eloped. Nothing was heard from either for nearly a week, when it was learned that Gettleman had visited his old home, at Mansfield, O., and borrowed money from old friends.

The next word that came from Gettleman was a letter from Marion, Ia., which, it is alleged, stated that he and Mrs. Mishler had been married. Mr. Mishler at once began proceedings for divorce. It was alleged that Gettleman was short in his accounts as treasurer of the Masonic lodge, and steps were taken to cause his arrest. Yesterday word came that Gettleman was in custody, and that he was penitent, and willing to come back without requisition papers. Sheriff Brown took a train today for Iowa.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION REVISES CONSTITUTION

CANTON, O., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The state convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union occupied practically the whole day adopting a new constitution and by-laws. The point on which the delegates divided was the board of trustees, which heretofore controlled all finances of the association. But if this is the case he is unable to understand why they do not assist in attempting to unravel the mystery. As every turn of the investigation apparently strengthens the possibility of this fact, he wants the matter settled.

TEAMS ARE NOW TIED FOR THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

DINEEN SHOWED HIS FINEST FORM

Pirates Could Do Nothing With His Delivery and Collins' Crew Took the Game.

LEEVER WAS VERY ERRATIC

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.
Pittsburgh	3	3	.500
Boston	3	3	.500

The world's championship series between the Pittsburgh and Boston teams is now a tie. This condition of affairs was brought about yesterday afternoon, when the American league champions won the sixth game of the series, 6 to 3. It was a fine battle all the way and was witnessed by 11,504 enthusiastic lovers of the game.

Schoolmaster Sam Leever, who has been under the weather with an attack of rheumatism in his pitching arm, thought his salary maker was in good enough condition to take a fall out of the Collins crew, and he was assigned to the post of honor. Sammy's arm may have been rid of the rheumatism, but the lay off he has had seemed to have told on his cunning as a pitcher, at any rate the assortment of curves and other pitching specialties that he served up yesterday were very much to the liking of the Boston batsmen, and in four of the nine innings they pounded that ball to their hearts content and much to the disgust of the spectators.

Dineen Can Pitch Some.

Billy Dineen, who had been such a mark for the Pirate batters on Tuesday, was on the rubber again for the visitors and this time he was very much to the good. For the first five innings he held the Pirates to a solitary hit an inning, and he shut them out in the sixth, but in the seventh the boys found his measure and for a short time there was more fun than could be furnished by a box of monkeys. There was also a display of rooting such as opened the eyes of the delegation of the Boston faithful who had journeyed all the way here to cheer their heroes on to victory. That this rooting had an effect on the Boston pitcher is certain for he wore a worried look and when the Pirates chased three runs over the plate Big Cy Young went out to warm up so as to be ready in case Dineen did not steady down.

Previous to this inning the Boston rooters had things their own way, and they danced and sang and waived top parasols which they carried, in fact their merriment knew no bounds and they flaunted their joy in the faces of the Pittsburgh faithful much to their disgust. This display of merriment was kept up until Sebring crossed the plate with the Pirates' first run, then the Boston crowd shut up as tight as clams and were not heard from until the third Pirate had been put out, and it was certain that the run getting rally was really over. The way the Pittsburghers rooted in the meantime was a caution. Every mother's son of them was up on his feet and yelled until they were red in the face. It looked and acted very much like a trained chorus, the yells being in unison and were continued until Hitchey ended the tuning by forcing Bransfield out at second. It was a grand display of local patriotism and even the visitors had to admire it.

Little All Right Was All Wrong.

This was the only inning in which the Pirates stood a ghost of a chance and had Hitchey only been equal to the emergency there would have been a good run for a victory. Sebring opened this inning with a single to right field and Phelps followed with a pretty single to center. Leever made a strong bid for a hit, but Purtell nailed his grounder down and fielded him out at first, the runners advancing to third and second. Here is where the crowd started to root its hardest and Beaumont answered their yells with a single to center on which Sebring and Phelps scored. Clark doubled to middle, sending Beaumont to third, from which point he scored the third run on Lachance's fly out to Stahl. Ferris struck at once stole third and Dineen showed visible signs of distress when he gave bases on balls to Wagner and Bransfield, thus filling the bases. This put Hitchey, who made a gallant effort, but the best he could do was to force Bransfield out at second and that ended the Pirates' only chance.

It was again a boisterous crowd, there being a heavy fringe of people all the way around the playing field and ground rules were necessary, so that a hit into the crowd counted for three bases. This rule worked in favor of the visitors, Stahl and Parent driving the ball over the ropes and each of these hits counted for a run. The Pirates on the other hand could not hit hard enough to get the ball into the crowd. The luck of the game was also with the visitors and things managed to break just right for them and that means a lot in a game, because plays will be tried that otherwise would not be thought of. The Boston team played fast, snappy ball all the way, the only blunder being a wild throw by Criger that did not do any harm. The Pirates also played the game to the limit, but a failure to bat seemed to take the ginger out of them. Leach made a couple of slip-ups at third base, one of which was costly.

Boston Bunched Hits.

Both teams are credited with the same number of base hits, but the visitors managed to bunch their safeties and that is what produced the runs. The Pirates could do no better than a hit an inning for five rounds, but in the seventh they managed to bunch four safeties and runs were the result. The visitors got three runs in the third inning with two out. Dineen reached first on an infield single. Then followed a base on balls to Dougherty and singles by Collins and Stahl, and a fumble by Leach let in three runs. In the fifth Stahl poked the ball into the crowd in left field and he got three bases and scored on Beaman's fly out to Beaumont. Parent reached first by stopping one of Leever's curves with his arm and the hit and run was successfully worked, Parent scoring on Ferris long single to middle field. In the Seventh Parent drove the ball into the left field crowd for three bases and he scored on Lachance's double to left.

At the conclusion of the game the Boston rooters rushed out on the field and fairly hugged the players of their team. The Pirates' sympathizers also showed their loyalty by cheering the players as they made their way to the club house at the conclusion of the contest. Among the spectators at the park were a number of out-of-town people who took advantage of the excursions to the exposition to come to town and take in the game. Score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Boston got three hits and no runs in the fourth inning.

Jimmy Collins came back of Dineen for Leever's grounder in the third and retired the runner at first on what looked like a hit.

Wagner made an extra base hit front Pat Dougherty in the fourth by breaking down his vicious liner between short and third.

Young and Gibson, pitchers, and Charlie Farrell, catcher, went back of the grandstand to warm up when the Pirates were hitting Dineen.

Sebring got a lucky hit in the second inning by hitting to Ferris, the ball taking a bad bound just as the Boston man was about to accept it.

Clarke made a pretty steal of third in the seventh when Dineen still had the ball. Criger tried to catch him, but Clarke got the bag by a nose.

Leever made a good stop of Ferris' hard liner in the third inning. The ball was just a few inches off the ground, but Sam reached down and pulled it in.

Ferris broke down Sebring's liner in the seventh and Buck Freeman, who was backing up the play, got the ball back in the infield in time to hold Sebring at first.

Parent made a very pretty pickup of Leach's grounder in the first inning. He got the ball and jumped on second, retiring Clarke, but missed Leach at first by a step.

Clarke got on first his first time up by hitting over Dineen's head. Dineen got lost with the ball and Clarke was over the bag before the big pitcher had the sphere off the ground.

Hank O'Day called Sam Leever for his dilatory manner between innings. Leever keeps back the game by insisting on warming up even when the batter is ready to get in the box.

Freeman had three balls and two strikes in the third inning when he hit a foul back to the grandstand. While Phelps was chasing the ball Freeman took a big quid of chewing gum out of his mouth and stuck it in his cap. Lench's error put him on first.

Cushman, the former Millvale pitcher, who was brought out in this section by Burgess Ed Hickey, practiced with the Boston team yesterday. Cushman was the star pitcher on the Des Moines Western league team this season. He is a former university twirler.

Parent stopped one of Leever's inshoots with his forearm in the fifth inning. It gave him much pain for awhile. With Parent on first Wagner went over to take a throw at second for a steal, and Ferris followed with a line hit in the position where Hans had been standing.

In the ninth inning Beau, who was first up, singled, and Clarke followed with a hot liner, which Parent got not six inches from the ground, and the little fellow shot the ball to first, but La Chance was off the base and the ball was relayed to Ferris and Beau was caught at second. It was a fast bit of work.

Pat Dougherty gave a fine exhibition of fielding his position when he not-footed after Clarke's hit in the seventh and kept it from rolling into the crowd in left. Dougherty picked the ball up just as it was about to roll into the crowd. Clarke was held at second, when he would have been given third had it got among the spectators.

Criger retired Bransfield and Ritchey on foul flies in the sixth. Bransfield sent his near third, which was taken in nicely, but Ritchey's was more difficult and proved to be one of the fielding features of the game. Ritchey sent the ball near the grandstand and made Criger hustle to get to it. Criger took it off the players' bench, and his efforts were appreciated by the spectators.

There was a scramble for seats in the right-field bleachers by the late-comers. One rooter, who got in late before the game was called, spied a place that he thought big enough for him well up in the bleachers and tried to get to it through the crowd, but he was pulled back. Every time he tried to get up dozens of hands caught his coattail. He finally gave it up, although in good humor.

ANOTHER FOR CLEVELAND.

Beat Cincinnati, but Second Game Was Called Because of Darkness.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 8.—Wintry and rainy weather made it possible to play but one of the two games here today, between the Cleveland American league and the Cincinnati National baseball clubs for the state championship. The first game was a victory for Cleveland, 6 to 5, and the second game, which went only three innings, was called at that point because of darkness, with the score 2 to 1 in favor of Cincinnati. Score, first game:

	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	0	1	0
Cincinnati	0	0	1

Batteries—Donahue and Abbott; Suthoff and Peitz. Attendance, 4,000. Umpire—Hurst.

In the second game there was no change in the make-up of the teams except in the pitchers' box, Moore going in for Cleveland and Ewing for Cincinnati. Cleveland made one run, one hit and one error; Cincinnati two runs, two hits ad two errors.

RESPASS WILL NOT SELL DICK WELLES

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Dick Welles and E. E. Smathers have kept turfmen guessing all day as to the report from the west that Rome Respass will not sell the horse for even $40,000, and so the New Yorker has little hope of receiving him. Respass says he is going after some of the eastern stakes next year.

Ohio Works Has the Luck.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Ohio Works had all the luck today in the game with Zanesville. Smith was hit hard, but fast fielding kept the visitors from scoring enough runs to win. Score:

Wind-Up at Burgettstown.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The third and last days of the races at the Burgettstown fair were exciting in the extreme. The track record made years ago of 2:21 was shattered when Texas Queen, in the free-for-all race, lowered the record to 2:19¼. More than 15,000 people were in attendance, mainly from Pittsburgh and Steubenville. Texas Queen, in the free-for-all pace, won the race in three straight heats, but in a game, because plays will be tried that otherwise would not be thought of. The Boston team played fast, snappy ball all the way, the only blunder being a wild throw by Criger that did not do any harm. The Pirates also played the game to the limit, but a failure to bat seemed to take the ginger out of them. Leach made a couple of slip-ups at third base, one of which was costly.

White Sox Win from Cubs.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—The American team defeated the Nationals in easy fashion today. Nearly all of the South Siders' hits counted, while those of the Nationals were wasted as far as run-getting was concerned. The score:

American	0	1	2

Batteries—Taylor and Kling; White and Sullivan. Umpires—Johnston and Sheridan. Attendance, 1,100. Time—1:05.

WILLIAM M'MAHON,
The Pittsburgh Boy Who Is Trying for Fullback On the Yale Eleven.

THE REAL TEST GAME TO BE PLAYED TODAY

Phillippe and Young Are the Pitchers Selected and Battle Will Be Very Warm.

Today's game between the Pittsburgh and Boston teams is regarded as the real test for the world's championship and the battle promises to be one of the hardest fought ball games ever played. The pitchers selected for this important contest are Phillippe for Pittsburgh and Young for Boston, and it can be set down for a certainty that each twirler will strive with might and main for victory.

There was much feeling on today's games last night, as there was not a great amount of Boston money in sight. The admirers of the Pirates were offering odds of $100 to $80 on the chances of Clarke's team, but there were very few takers. The Boston people now want to bet on the result of the series, but will do no better than even money.

The Pittsburgh players were rather disheartened over their defeat yesterday, as they had built on winning the game and finishing the series in this city, and to have to go back to Boston is certainly hard, not that the players do not like the town or its people. Some of the players, notably Clarke and Beaumont, had made every arrangement to pull out for their West grit. He was very badly cut up by the time the fight was over, and the knockout blow was the best thing that could have come his way, for it put him out of his misery.

WATERMAN IS SLATED.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Cameron Beach Waterman of Detroit, captain of the varsity crew last season, is slated for the head coachship for next season, according to statements made here, although Capt. Cross says that he is not ready to make any formal announcement.

Waterman has returned to college and is taking the law school course. John Kennedy, the veteran professional, will have charge of the technique in the coaching of the crew another year.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Mud runners were in demand at Morris park today and the betting contingent had a hard time in picking winners. Only one favorite won. The Ramapo handicap, a 3-year-olds at one mile and a furlong, the feature event on the card, went to River Pirate, with the favorite, Injunction, second. TITLE FORFEITED BY E. M. BYERS

Allegheny County Club Golfer Does Not Defend His Championship at Schenley.

W. C. FOWNES, JR., IS AHEAD

E. M. Byers of the Allegheny Country club, runner up in two national golf championship tournaments and last year winner of both the open and amateur events for Western Pennsylvania, yesterday forfeited his title as amateur champion by not appearing again as a contestant in the qualifying rounds on the Schenley course for the title.

It was a big surprise when announced that he would not defend his title. No official reason for his refusal to enter was given, although it was advanced by an intimate friend that close attention to business was the cause. Byers did not play in the open event Wednesday.

Byers' presence in the playing yesterday would have caused more interest in the tourney, but there nevertheless was some very good golf offered and keen interest was manifested by all. W. C. Fownes, Jr., of the Highland Golf club, led the field home in the first eight and captured the bronze medal. Next to him was George A. Ormiston, the consistent golfer, also of the Highland club. Ormiston played in hard luck, or he might have tied Fownes for first placeon the day's playing. On the sixth hole, the first time up, he missed a two-inch putt, and on the twelfth he again experienced some tough luck. The scores for the day follow:

M'MAHON REPORTS TO TRY FOR YALE TEAM

Pittsburgher After Fullback on 'Varsity—Scrubs Beat Harvard Through Rushes.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 8.—William J. McMahon, the old Bucknell college football captain, reported for the first time this season today. He has been detained at his home in Pittsburgh. Although two weeks late, he will make a great bid for playing full back at Yale. He did not line up, but worked an hour getting into fast playing form.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The Harvard varsity was beaten this afternoon by the scrub team in a 15-minute lineup. The varsity fumbled almost everything. The second eleven put up the best game of the season and tore through the varsity line in great shape. They got the ball on varsity's 20-yard line on a fumble and Ford, there, plunged over the goal line in half a dozen rushes.

BUNTON IS ELECTED.

Coach James Scores the High School Boys Who Will Not Work for the Eleven.

Kennedy "Powes" Bunton, who has been captain pro tem. of the East Liberty academy eleven since practice began, was yesterday elected captain at a meeting held at the academy. Watt, Carr, Lew Edwards and Johnson were also candidates. Bunton plays quarter back and is the smallest player on the team. He is also captain of the hockey team of the Interscholastic league. The East Liberty team had its hardest practice of the week yesterday. All the men reported to Coach Hill, and the first team lined up with the scrubs for two 15-minute halves. Sutton, right tackle of last year's team, reported yesterday. He may be used before the season ends. Washington High school this afternoon, which will be played at D. C. & A. C. park.

Coach Asbury James of the Pittsburgh High school team yesterday delivered a most apropos speech to the boy students of the academic department, in trying to get out all the available material for the eleven. Coach James said: "I noticed that there were 150 boys here. The boys are enrolled as students but 14 or 15 report on an average for football practice, and I noted the absence of the proper school spirit. The boys should support their team, shoulders and take their girls to the games, came in for a censure by James. They, he said, should be out on the field at every practice, and working for the credit of the team and the school. High school has excellent material for a winning team, but, as he said, it is difficult to realize much good results when the boys who should work for the team stay away from the park.

Speeches were also made by Capt. Charles Harper, Fred Harper, president of the association; Profs. Cooper, Grant and Sleeth, as a result of the meeting about 15 new men reported for practice, bringing the total of the squad to 30. Smaller squads will be cut, the beginning of next week 40 or 50 men will be out. The Washington & Jefferson academy team will play High school this afternoon at Friendship park.

The other man showed up, as did a junk dealer. The later was captured, but the man with him escaped. The junk dealer denied all knowl of the theft and was not arrested. At a late hour last night the fourth member of the gang had not been captured.

BURTON TALKS ON RIVER DEEPENING

He Suggests Three Plans of Alloting Money for Their Improvements.

METHOD DIFFERS IN EUROPE

Waterway and Harbor Projects Over There Are Undertaken by Private Corporations or by Districts or Municipalities.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.

Representative T. E. Burton of Cleveland, chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, has returned to Washington after spending several months in Europe studying the systems of water way improvement. When asked if his investigations had influenced his position with regard to the improvement of the Ohio river he declined to discuss the matter further than to say that he stands now just where he did before he left Washington.

This can be construed as meaning that Mr. Burton, while not an opponent of a nine-foot channel, believes it impracticable to authorize such an immense work so long as the policy of the government remains as it is at present. The rivers and harbors bill carries appropriations aggregating from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 annually, and so long as this sum is not increased he thinks it would not be fair to take a larger proportion of the amount each year for improving the Ohio river to the neglect of other deserving public works. If the government will double or treble the appropriation Mr. Burton would be found among the advocates of the Ohio river improvement.

It is Mr. Burton's intention to make a thorough inspection of the Ohio river before congress meets. He will start from Pittsburgh and go to Cincinnati, informing himself of the needs of the river and enabling him to make comparisons of that stream with the waterways he inspected in Europe.

Mr. Burton today made very interesting observations and the most significant was that in which he says that "the situation increases the strength of the argument for imposing upon specific localities part of the expense, unless the sentiment of the country will cordially sustain a large increase in federal appropriations."

Mr. Burton said: :

"There are rumors of an effort to prevent the passage of a river and harbor bill at the next session of congress. I do not know what strength the movement has gained. On the other hand, there has never been a time when the pressure for river and harbor appropriations was so great. Almost every paper I have examined since my return contains an article in advocacy of some expensive project.

"The customary appropriation will not meet the increasing demands. Congress should establish a consistent policy and adhere to it. Several methods might be pursued. One way would be to engage in improvements in a manner similar to that purposed by France. This would necessitate multiplying appropriations at least three or four times.

"Another way would be to limit appropriations to even smaller sums than at present, selecting such improvements as will afford a prompt return and assure a greatly increased traffic. A third way would be to divide the expenses between the general government and the localities especially benefited. This last method has had many advocates, but it is by no means free from difficulty.

"In Europe money for harbor and waterway improvement is expended much more generously than it is here. Of course, the policy is so different that it is difficult to make comparisons. For instance, almost all the government municipalities or private companies which improve the harbors over there not only dredge channels and construct breakwaters as we do by congressional appropriation in this country, but they also construct basins to provide anchorages under all conditions of the tide, and adjacent quays and often warehouses and railway terminals, for which they receive reimbursement in tolls from the shipping using the harbors so created and maintained."

GOING TO LAKEWOOD.

Cleveland Family Will Occupy Cottage Once Known as the Little White House.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Former President and Mrs. Cleveland have taken a cottage at Lakewood and will spend much of the winter season at that resort. Mrs. Cleveland has not regained her strength since the birth of the baby, Francis Grover, and the family physician decided that a stay among the pines would be beneficial.

The cottage that Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland have taken is the one they occupied during the winter of 1892-93 prior to the second inauguration of Mr. Cleveland as president. It is situated in a thicket of pines. There are no other cottages near it.

During Mr. Cleveland's previous occupancy it was known as "The Little White House," and this name has clung to it ever since.

MIFFLIN CHURCH AT GILL HALL CELEBRATES ITS CENTENNIAL

FORMER MEMBERS REUNITED

Handsome New Building at Gill Hall Is Scene of Morning and Afternoon Exercises of Praise and Thanksgiving. History of the Congregation.

A century of successful church work was fittingly celebrated by the pastor, congregation and friends of the Mifflin United Presbyterian church at the church building in Gill Hall, north of Dravosburg yesterday.

The congregation is one of the oldest in Western Pennsylvania and the centennial celebration yesterday was attended by many from distant points who were former members of the congregation. Early yesterday morning wagons and carriages started to arrive at the church, and a reunion of the congregation and former members and old friends was held on the spacious grounds surrounding the building. Former pastors and two sons of the congregation who are in the ministry were among those present.

Ladies of Church Are Hosts.

The exercises proper commenced in the church at 10:30 o'clock and the following program was rendered: Anthem, "Praise the Lord;" invocation, the Rev. W. H. Knox; reading of Scripture, the Rev. David Barclay; prayer, the Rev. J. N. Wallace; anthem, "King of Glory;" greeting from Presbytery, the Rev. J. K. McClurkin; reminiscenses, J. M. Wallace.

Dinner was then served by the ladies of the church and another opportunity was given the congregation to renew old acquaintances until 1:30 o'clock, when the closing exercises began. The afternoon program included the following: Greeting by former pastors, the Revs. H. C. McFarland, C. B. Hatch and A. R. VanFossen; "Breaking in a Green Preacher" was the subject of a lecture by the Rev. Pressly Thompson, also a former pastor of the congregation. The Rev. William Weir and the Rev. S. A. Livingston, former members of the church and now in the ministry, delivered addresses. Neighboring pastors then spoke and the benediction was given by the Rev. David Barclay.

Known as the "Red Bud" Church.

The Mifflin congregation was organized 100 years ago yesterday. For nearly 20 years the church was known as the "Red Bud Associate Reformed congregation," the name being taken from the Red Bud spring, on the property owned by the congregation. The first services were held in a tent that was used as a meeting place from 1800 to 1805, when a log house was erected. The building was 40x45 feet, and had seats along the side, with an aisle in the center. The seats were of hewed puncheon, and were so high that the shorter members could not touch the floor with their feet while seated on them. This house served as a place of worship until 1844, when it was sold to a farmer nearby who moved the building and used it for a dwelling for 47 years. It was destroyed by fire in 1901.

Present Home a Year Old.

In 1844 the congregation built a red brick church building which had a seating capacity of 400. The building was used until 1902, when it was removed and the present beautiful brick building erected. The present building is modern in every respect. It is of buff brick and has a number of handsome art glass windows. The building contains a lecture room, auditorium, dining room and other apartments.

The congregation during its existence has had nine pastors, including the present pastor, the Rev. S. P. Montgomery, who has had charge of the congregation since June, 1896. The former pastors were the Revs. Joseph Kerr, Samuel Weir, J. J. Buchanan, H. C. McFarland, J. D. Glenn, C. B. Hatch, J. C. Hunter and A. R. Van Fossen. The congregation now numbers about 75 members.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT TAKES STAND ON RACE QUESTION

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—President Kane of the Wabash college took a stand today against discrimination against the negro. A young negro named Gordon is a member of the Wabash college football team, and a few days ago the Rose Polytechnic team of Terre Haute notified Wabash that they would not play the game scheduled for Saturday unless Gordon was dropped. President Kane decided that Gordon would play with the team or the team would not play at all, and Saturday's game has been declared off.

DONEGAL'S NEW HEIR.

Brother's Hope of Succeeding to Title Ruined by Birth of a Son.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Behind the bald announcement made in today's papers that Lady Donegal had given birth today to a son is a concealed story which might have been taken from a three volume novel. The fifth and present marquis of Donegal was born in 1822 and is consequently 80 years of age. Burke's peerage records that he married in 1865 a lady who died in 1901, leaving no child and that an heir presumptive to the title is the Lord Henry Fitzwarren Chichester, brother of the aged marquis.

It has long been an open secret that the marquis and his heir are not on the best of terms and there was only a mild surprise, mingled with some amusement, when a little over a year ago the announcement was made that the marquis had contracted a second marriage. Considering Lord Donegal's age, his brother's chances of not succeeding to the title were held to be but slightly affected by the marquis' second marriage. Now, however, the unexpected has happened. The marquis of Donegal is the proud father of a son.

DOCTORS AT THE SMOKER.

West Penn Hospital Ex-Residents Enjoyed Themselves at the Henry.

The association of West Penn hospital ex-residents, an organization composed of physicians who have held the position of interne at the hospital since 1876, observed the first gathering of the year by a smoker at the Hotel Henry last night. Of the 150 physicians who are members of the association, about 60 attended and joined in the revelry. Seven meetings are held annually, three of which are for the discussion of scientific subjects.

At the hospital there are 10 resident physicians elected each year after a competitive examination. From the ranks of these men who enter during their student days come some of the most prominent physicians in the profession, and they are now scattered through half the states in the Union. Among the number are Dr. James Ewing, professor of pathology at Cornell university; Dr. E. C. Dudley of Cincinnati and Dr. Adolph Koenig, publisher of the Pennsylvania Medical Journal, of this city. Dr. M. C. Marsh is president and Dr. Joseph M. Jackson is secretary of the organization.

CHICAGO CLEANS HOUSE.

Mayor Harrison's Charges of "Graft" in City Hall to Be Investigated.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The hunt for graft in the city hall is on. After organizing at noon today the special aldermanic investigating committee at once took up its work of endeavoring to stamp corruption out of the municipal government. Every department in the city hall is rit by evidence or "tips" already in the hands of the committee. Every department and bureau of the civic government is to be swept from end to end.

Witnesses contend that certain high officials have gathered in tens of thousands of dollars during the last few years by using their official power to secure interests in public contracts and to force contractors to buy certain kinds of material through them. The board of education, too, may come under the microscope. Charges have been made that one plumbing firm has benefited to the extent of $100,000 in school contracts.

PLATT IS CHARMED.

Receives Letter of Felicitation from Depew on Approaching Marriage.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Among the many messages received by Senator Platt containing expressions of congratulations upon his approaching marriage to Miss Lillian T. Janeway, is one written by Senator Depew, and with which the prospective bridegroom is greatly pleased. In speaking of the letter Senator Platt said it expressed his view of the situation in a charming manner. The letter reads:

My Dear Platt: You have done the right thing. I speak from knowledge. It is the prevalent idea that in the evening of life, when friends are dropping away and infirmities narrowing, a man should flock by himself. These croakers practically preach that youth is the period of companionship and age for solitude.

There is no period when home and domestic bliss are so necessary to preserve youth and its realities and illusions as when one has passed 60. Cheerfulness is the secret of happy longevity, and sympathy to surroundings increases with the years.

Cordial congratulations, and long, healthy and joyous lives for you both, is the hearty wish of Mrs. Depew and myself. Faithfully yours,

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW.

The Second Round Is Played.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The second round of match play in the invitation golf tourney given by Mrs. C. A. Griscom at the Merion Cricket club was concluded here today. The best match of the day was between Miss Rhoda Adair, the British champion, and Miss Margaret Curtis of Boston. The cards:

Miss Curtis	6	7	5	5	7	6	4	5	5	—52

Star Course to Begin.

The tenth season of the Allegheny Star lecture and musical course will open in Allegheny Carnegie Music hall on Friday, October 23. The attractions for the course this year will, it is thought, exceed those of any other season. The Boston Ladies' orchestra will appear on the opening night. Among others who have been engaged for the course are Congressman Charles E. Littlefield of Maine, Dr. N. Dwight Hillis and Leland T. Powers. The reserved seat sale will open October 17 at Miller's, No. 800 Federal street.

PROF. LANGLEY IS STILL CONFIDENT

Failure of His Airship to Fly Due to Defective Balancing.

ACCIDENTS ARE EXPECTED

Releasing Mechanism Failed to Let Go at the Proper Time, Throwing the Machine Into the Water—Important Parts Are Practically Uninjured.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Speaking of yesterday's experiment at Widewater with his aerodrome, Prof. Langley said today that he was not an eye-witness of the experiment, having been detained in Washington by business, but he added that on the report of Mr. Manly who was immediately in charge he is able to say that the latter's first impression that there had been defective balancing was corrected by a minuter examination when the clutch which held the aerodrome on the launching ways and which should have released at the instant of the fall, was found to be injured.

Prof. Langley continued: "The machinery was working perfectly and giving every reason to anticipate a successful flight, when this accident, due wholly to the launching ways, drew the aerodrome abruptly downward at the moment of release and cast it into the waters near the houseboat. The statement that the machine failed for lack of power to fly was a mistaken one.

"The engine, the frame, and all the more important parts, were practically uninjured. The engine is actually in good working order. The damage done was confined to the slighter portions like the canvas wings and propeller.

"The belief of those charged with the experiments in the ultimate successful working of the machine is in no way affected by this accident which is one of the large chapter of the accidents that beset the initial stages of experiments so novel as the present ones. It is chiefly unfortunate as coming near the end of the season when outdoor work of this sort is possible.

"Whether the experiments will be continued this year or not has not yet been determined."

FAIRLY SUCCESSFUL.

International Exchange Commission Makes Report to President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The president today received a call from the members of the international exchange commission, who were presented by Secretary Hay. Secretary Shaw also was present. The commission returned recently from an extended trip to Europe, where it was in conference with the financial authorities of several governments with a view to arranging a common basis of money exchange. The verbal report of the commission indicated that its mission was reasonably successful. A formal report will be submitted to congress. It will contain some recommendations as to necessary legislation to carry into effect the tentative agreements reached by the commission with the foreign governments.

At the conference with the president it was decided that Prof. J. W. Jenks of the commission should proceed to China to lay before the Chinese government a recommendation that it adopt the gold exchange standard. He will sail for China about October 27.

Bitter Rivalries Fostered

"There was hardly a man at the head of any department of the Carnegie concerns whose flanks were not ripped open in the fierce race for supremacy."

In connection with his description of "The system of unfriendly competition which Andrew Carnegie originated and fostered" Mr. Bridge quotes the following:

"Carnegie did not roost in the tree * * * He would sit afar off, on the rail fence, apparently idly watching * * * Presently he would descend from his rail perch, catch up a great club and lay frantically about him. Bruised skulls here; broken skulls there; corpses yonder; fellows with raw heads and aching bones crawling rapidly in the cover of the tall grass; imprecations filling the air. A scene of peaceful industry transformed into a shambles. Grinning quietly at his club, Carnegie would stroll back to his rail perch—usually Skibo."

TRADE TREATY IS SIGNED IN CHINA

THE LIKIN TAX IS ABOLISHED

New System of Collection Will Facilitate Operations of Americans Trading in That Country—Two Additional Ports Opened.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The state department was informed today that the American-Chinese commercial treaty has been signed at Shanghai and that the Japanese-Chinese treaty will be signed this afternoon. The cablegram announcing the signing of the treaty was sent from Shanghai and was signed by Minister Conger, Consul General Goodnow and Minister Seaman, the three commissioners who negotiated the instrument. An imperial decree by the Chinese government has made the treaty effective so far as that government is concerned, but it must be ratified by the United States senate.

Great satisfaction is expressed at the state department, as the outcome makes it certain that the two ports in Manchuria will be opened to the United States no matter what the outcome as to the negotiations for the evacuation of that country by Russia may be.

The assurance that Russia has previously given and upon which this government would insist, is that the treaty arrangements made with China covering Manchurian ports will be binding upon the Russian government.

Articles 1, 2 and 3 refer to the rights and privileges of diplomatic officers, consuls and citizens of the United States in China and embody a number of changes which have been sanctioned by usage in China since the treaty of 1858.

Change in Tax Sysem.

Article 4 is the most important of the treaty. By it the Chinese government, recognizing that the present system of levying dues upon goods in transit and especially the system of taxation known as likin, impedes the free circulation of commodities to the general injury of trade, undertakes, after the ratification of the treaty and at a date to be mutually agreed upon, to abandon the levy of likin and other transit dues throughout the empire and to abolish all the barriers and tax stations maintained for their collection. The United States, in consideration of this change, agrees, if all other powers having treaties with China do likewise, to pay at the port of entry on all its imports into China a surtax of one and one-half times the tariff import duty. By this payment they shall secure complete immunity from all other taxation whatsoever within the empire. Exports from China shall pay 7½ per cent ad valorem (as at present), the whole amount of the duty being collected at the port of exportation.

These are the salient points of this article, which officials believe may bring about a complete and salutary reform in the fiscal administration of the empire and enable the central government to derive much larger sums from the internal taxes than it now does when the cost of collection is perhaps 50 per cent of the whole.

Cheapens Cost of Collection.

The remaining provisions of article 4 relate to the method to be followed in abolishing the present internal tax levying system; it limits the places where native custom houses can be maintained, provides for certificates of identification for foreign imports, the treatment of Chinese merchandise goods, which are to enjoy a rebate on the import tax and exemption from export tax. Finally it provides the method of investigation of complaints and declares that an imperial edict shall be issued at a date to be hereafter fixed setting forth the abolition of likin taxation and charging the various high officials of the empire with carrying it out. By another article the Chinese government agrees to the establishment of bonded warehouses by citizens of the United States at the open ports of China.

By article 7 the Chinese government, "recognizing that it is advantageous for the country to develop its mineral resources, and that it is desirable to attract foreign as well as Chinese capital to embark in mining enterprises," agrees within a year from the signing of the treaty to conclude the revision of its mining regulations so that citizens of the United States may be able to carry on in Chinese territory mining operations and other necessary business connected therewith.

Article 9 provides for the protection of trade marks in China. Article 10 provides for the protection of patents and article 11 for the protection of copyrights.

Protection for Christians.

By article 13 the Chinese government agrees to take the necessary steps to provide for a uniform national coinage which shall be a legal tender throughout the empire.

Article 14 relates to Chinese Christians and to missionaries. It insures to the former the free exercise of their religion and protects them against the injustice of the native officials, while not, however, removing them from their jurisdiction or claiming for American missionaries the right to interfere with the exercise of the native authorities of their jurisdiction over the nationals. To the missionaries it secures what they have sought for for years, a recognition of their right to rent and lease in perpetuity such property as their societies may need in all parts of the empire.

At the request of the Chinese government an article has been incorporated in the treaty by which the United States consents to the prohibition of the importation into China of morphia and instruments for its injection.

Another article of the treaty provides for the opening to international trade in the same conditions and manner as other places now opened to like trade in China of the cities of Feng-Tien-Fu (Mukden) and Antung, the first the capital of the Manchurian province of Sheng Ching and the latter a port on the Yalu river on the road between Mukden and Wiju in Corea.

ENDS CENTURIES OF STRIFE

[Associated Press Cable To The Gazette.]

PARIS, Oct. 8.—It was learned in authoritative quarters this evening that the terms of the general treaty of arbitration between France and Great Britain have been concluded between Foreign Minister Delcasse and the authorities in London.

All the substantial features of the treaty have now been settled. There only remain minor questions of detail and the signing of the treaty. These formalities are so far advanced that the treaty is considered to be an accomplished fact today.

The advanced stage of the negotiations has not yet been communicated to the public. The treaty follows the general lines of the Hay-Pauncefote arbitration treaty, which to a considerable extent served as a model. It is pointed out that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, although rejected by the United States senate, now serves the useful purpose of giving a basis for this important Anglo-French treaty. The officials also view the negotiations as evidence of the sympathetic attitude of the United States, France and Great Britain on the practical adoption of the theory of arbitration.

The treaty is mainly significant in being the culmination of the rapprochement between France and Great Britain after centuries of warfare, the maintenance of defensive armaments, and the recent animosities growing out of the Fashoda incident and the South African war. It is also significant of the tendency toward rearrangement of the European political alliances.

The treaty is mainly the outcome of the exchange of visits between King Edward and President Loubet and the visit of Baron D'Estournelle de Constant and the French parliamentarians to London. Official pourparlers followed.

The French feeling heretofore has been rather sceptical over the practical realization of the treaty, and when its advanced stage is known it will occasion widespread attention and discussion in France and throughout the rest of Europe.

LONDON ARTILLERY AT HOME IN THE FOG

Visit to New York Made Memorable by Long Round of Hospitality.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Scotch whisky weather prevailed in this city today and offered ideal conditions for the interchange of convivial amenities between the Old Guard and their guests, the Honorable Artillery Company of London, who are making a tour of the country under the chaperonage of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston. A breakfast, an era of story-telling and swift flashes of repartee rounded out a day of absorbing interest.

Although fog shut in the city, the Londoners seemed to feel perfectly at home, and none ventured to suggest that it was even a wet day. They breakfasted lightly at 8 o'clock this morning and an hour later they were walking about the corridors of the Waldorf-Astoria in smart fatigue uniforms, carrying whips and silver-headed canes.

They started at 11:30 this morning for an automobile drive, and though the floodgates of the skies were opened, the ruddy young artillerists merely smiled. They were hurried through Central park and up Riverside drive. The earl of Denbigh, colonel of the company, and Lady Denbigh, paid a visit to the tomb of Gen. Grant.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The Honorable Artillery Company of London and their American hosts, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston, will meet with a warm reception tomorrow on their arrival from New York. The war department has designated troop E, Second cavalry to act as escort. The Minute Men of Washington will also act as an escort and will be the special hosts of both the London and Boston organizations.

The day will be spent in sight-seeing. Saturday morning a trip will be made to Mount Vernon and on the return in the afternoon the distinguished visitors will be received by the president at the White House.

ANTICS OF CRANKS TO BE KEPT OUT OF PRINT

Another Harmless Lunatic Visits White House to Warn the President.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Because members of the White House staff believe information concerning the arrest of demented persons seeking the president has the effect of inviting others to similar missions, Secretary Loeb and John E. Wilkie, chief of the secret service, today gave notice that news of cranks and crankism is not to be made public. The command is made forceful with suggestions as to the fate of men who disobey.

Another crank called at the White House today, but he was not of the dangerous kind. His name is William Doherty, and he lives at 214 John Marshall Place, Washington. The purpose of his visit was to warn the president against murderers and to suggest the manner in which he can protect himself against them. Doherty made no demonstration and when informed that he could not see the president went away quietly. From the White House he went to police headquarters, where he was taken in custody and will be examined as to his sanity. He had this letter addressed to the chief executive:

"I am sorry to read in today's papers that another murderer by the name of Elliott came to this city to kill his excellency, our dear and noble president. You are the gentleman who can catch such scoundrels.

"I am sir,

"WILLIAM DOHERTY,
"Pensioner."

SHANGHAIED NEGRO LAD REACHES AMERICA AGAIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Moses Smallwood, a colored boy from Georgia, who claims to have been shanghaied on board a Russian bark in Savannah last July, came back on the White Star steamer Majestic, which arrived today. Customs Inspector Sagel was detailed to meet the ship down the bay and take Smallwood before the district attorney here who will see that he is sent back to Savannah to testify against the two boarding house keepers whom he charges with shanghaiing him.

BLAME IS PLACED ON WHITE MAN

LYNCHING IS DIABOLICAL

Desire of Baser Element Is to Deprive Some Unfortunate Wretch of That Which They Cannot Restore—Black Race Will Not Emigrate.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The Rev. J. Francis Blair, colored, in a lecture in his church in Brooklyn, declared the "White man is the negro's burden." He said in part:

"If the emancipation of the negro was a failure, the white man is responsible for it. If the negro submits to re-enslavement, the negro bears the blame. If a wardship is to be exercised over him, who is willing to run the risk of life in the performance of his duty?

"One of the most damnable and inhuman burdens foisted on the negro is that of mob law and lynching. This is a burden born in hell and heaped upon a helpless people by the agents of the infernal regions.

"We do not mean to say that all white men are such agents. We believe that in north, south, east and west there are many white men whose sense of right and wrong, whose humanity and Christian integrity would not permit them to stoop so low as to commit so diabolical a wrong.

"While there are those of the white race who will not do such fiendish things, there are hundreds of the baser element whose only desire is to take from the poor unfortunate wretch that which they cannot give. No one of this race is free from the burden. If the mob has the opportunity to lynch an intelligent negro or race leader so much the more it rejoices.

"If the negro is a burden to the white man, why doesn't the white man get out from among the negroes? I declare the negro will not follow. If there is to be any emigration, our cousins will have to do the going. In fact, they are the logical ones to go, according to their own reasoning.

"Are they not aware of the fact that if the negro must go they will have to bear the expense? The colored man is here by the providence of God and is here to stay, for wherever the Lord stations him He is able to keep him there."

MRS. WILLIAM VANKIRK REWARDED FOR SERVICES

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

READING, PA., Oct. 8.—At today's session of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church (Philadelphia branch,) Mrs. William Vankirk of Pittsburgh, conference secretary, presented a report. She stated that over $9,000 had been raised during the year. Of this, $8,043 was raised by the thank offerings of the auxiliaries. Mrs. Vankirk has served in this position for 20 years, and a poem written by Miss Wightman of Pittsburgh, in her honor, was read.

Next the wife of Bishop Cyrus D Foss, president of the branch society, presented her, on behalf of the Pittsburgh delegates with a splendid bouquet of 20 roses and 20 $5 gold pieces. Mrs. Vankirk made a suitable reply.

Mrs. Foss declined to serve another year as president, and these officers were elected: President, Mrs. Webster H. Pierce, Philadelphia; assistant secretary, Mrs. Darlington, Philadelphia; recording secretary, Mrs. Amos Wakelin, Philadelphia; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas H. Wilson, Philadelphia.

MERGER CASE UP AGAIN.

Weidenfeld Appeal from Northern Pacific Road Decision Being Argued.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 8.—Arguments were begun today in the United States court of appeals in the case of Camille Weidenfeld against the Northern Pacific railroad. This is the original Peter Power case, the first attempt made to defeat the merger before it had completed its gigantic deal for control of two railroad systems. The arguments are made on an appeal by Weidenfeld from the order of the United States circuit court dismissing the bill of complaint against the railroad two years ago.

The original action was brought to enjoin the Northern Pacific from retiring $75,000,000 of preferred stock, the first move in the merger game. The attorneys for Weidenfeld insist that the case involves directly the entire merger question, while the appellee declares it does not.

MITCHELL PROMOTED.

Commissioned Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court to Fill Vacancy.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 8.—Gov. Pennypacker today commissioned Justice James T. Mitchell of Philadelphia to be chief justice of the Pennsylvania supreme court to succeed the late Chief Justice J. Brewster McCullom. Justice Mitchell served as acting chief justice during the two years that Chief Justice McCullom was unable to actively perform his duty on account of the illness which terminated in his death last Saturday night.

Lyman D. Gilbert of this city, who is said to have been recommended by Senator Quay for the appointment of the vacancy in the supreme court, returned today from a visit to Philadelphia. He declined to discuss the report that he will be appointed after the senator's return from the Maine woods.

SOCIETY

MR. AND MRS. STARLING WINston Childs, since their wedding in Lynn, Mass., a couple of weeks ago, have been spending their honeymoon in Northern New England. This week they are in the Green mountains in Vermont, where they will spend a few days before going for a short visit to Mrs. Childs' father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coffin. They are expected in Pittsburgh October 20, and will be, for a while at least, with Mr. Childs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Childs, in Amberson avenue, Shadyside. A number of handsome entertainments will be given for this popular young couple after their arrival, for which no definite arrangements have been made yet.

In November will occur the wedding of Miss Virginia Johnston and Harry Frazer Harris of Philadelphia. Through her mother, Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., Miss Johnston is connected with the Blair, Shaw, Edwards and Childs families, and since her debut has been one of the most popular girls in the inner circles of Pittsburgh society. Last spring Miss Johnston was a member of the bridal party at the wedding of Miss Ruth Hanna and Mr. McCormick in Cleveland. She is a Pennington graduate and has traveled extensively. The wedding will be one of the smartest social events of the winter in Pittsburgh. Mr. Harris is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Harris of Philadelphia, and a graduate of Princeton university. He has been in Pittsburgh several times with the glee clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., spent the early part of the week in New York on their way home to Pittsburgh. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Childs returned a week ago from the east, having gone to Lynn, Mass., for the wedding of their son and Miss Jennie Coffin.

Boothe-Rankin.

Richly hued autumn leaves predominated in the decorations for the wedding of Miss Emily B. Boothe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Boothe, and Harry Howard Rankin last evening. The wedding was one of the pretty home events of the early fall, taking place at 7:30 o'clock, with the Rev. William L. McEwan as officiant. Miss Blanche McConnell of Salem, O., in a gown of pink voile, attended the bride as maid of honor. Pink roses formed her bouquet, while that of the bride was a shower of roses and valley lilies. The bridal gown was of white crepe de chine and the veil was fastened with a plumed aigrette. Little Ruth Rankin, a niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl in a dainty little frock of white and carrying a basket of roses. Samuel Kier was best man, and the ushers were John Rankin and Willis Boothe.

The mantels in all the rooms were banked with ferns and the ceremony was performed before a screen of palms. On the piano, at which Miss Fisher presided, were two tall vases of roses and carnations, while trailing vines, the stairway and doors were leaves typical of the season. The bride's table presented a pretty appearance with a centerpiece of white roses. Numerous vases and hardy sprays of blossoms were placed about the rooms. A number of out-of-town guests was present, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dickinson of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Baxter of Cleveland, Mrs. Samuel Neely of Gettysburg, Miss Balz and Miss French of Salem. Mr. and Mrs. Rankin left at a late hour last evening for an eastern trip, at the conclusion of which they will be at home for a time with the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Boothe, in Murray Hill avenue.

Silver Wedding Celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kirk of Sheridan avenue, East End, have issued invitations for the celebration of their silver wedding anniversary on Saturday, October 17. Prior to her marriage, in 1878, Mrs. Kirk was Miss Katherine Lee Gregg, a daughter of Col. and Mrs. John N. Gregg of Monongahela. About 250 invitations have been issued for the celebration, one of them going to the Rev. Thomas Lawrence, D. D., of Asheville, N. C., by whom Mr. and Mrs. Kirk were married. The wedding was very quiet, taking place at the home of the bride's parents, and among the guests at the celebration will be several members of the family who were present at the wedding.

The three children of Mr. and Mrs. Kirk, Miss Mary Idesta, Miss Marion Jean and Charles L. Kirk, will receive with their parents on the night of the celebration, and completing the receiving party will be the parents of Mr. Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kirk, who themselves celebrated their golden wedding a few years ago. Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kirk have but lately removed to Sheridan avenue from Shadyside, where they had lived from the conclusion of their wedding trip until six months ago.

Kramer—Parker.

The Rev. Appleton Bash, D. D., of Beaver, officiated last evening at the wedding of Miss Clara Kramer of the East End and Herbert G. Parker of Allegheny. The wedding was held at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alfred Burke of Ellsworth avenue. The bride was gowned in a lace robe made over white taffeta and chiffon and she carried a cluster of white roses. The guests included only the relatives and most intimate friends. The decorations were carried out wholly in green. In the parlor the ceremony was performed before a tall bower of palms. Dainty ferns were placed on the mantel and on the fireplace, each plant being fenced in with large pieces of bark. Palms were placed in the hallway and in the library and dining room ferns were grouped and hung in baskets. After the supper the young couple departed for their wedding trip. At home cards issued yesterday announce Thursdays in November in Fremont street, Allegheny, as at home days.

Elks Held Dance and Euchre.

The social season of the Pittsburgh lodge, No. 11, B. P. O. Elks, opened last night with an informal dance and euchre. It is the intention of the house committee to hold these social evenings every Thursday night. The prize winners last night were: Ladies, Mrs. T. Quinn, first prize, a pearl crescent; Mrs. L. Boehm, second, scarf pin; Mrs. I. Rosser. Mrs. M. F. O'Leary and Mrs. L. G. James, tied for third prize, which was a hat pin. Dr. H. B. Orr won the first prize for gentlemen, a pair of Elk cuff buttons, and T. L. Kleppick won the second prize, a watch fob. Dancing was enjoyed by the large company until 1:30. A country fair will be given in the club house, Fifth avenue and Jumonville street, the first week in November. The affair will last three nights and promises to be an interesting event in the Elks' social season. The house committee consists of F. H. McCarthy, W. W. Robinson, Saul Susman, I. W. Morrow and E. J. Joyce.

Miss Cropsey and Her Bridesmaid.

Miss Indie Van Dusen of the Iroquois apartments gives a linen shower on Tuesday next in honor of Miss Pearl Cropsey, whose wedding to Alton Birge of Sherman, Tex., will be one of the early November events. The honors will be shared by Miss Carrie Rucker of Sherman, who is to act as Miss Cropsey's maid of honor, and who is now the house guest of Miss Van Dusen. Mr. Birge's best man will be Sidney Irwin of Sherman, the maid of honor and the best man being the only attendants. Mr. and Mrs. John Liggett will entertain the members of the bridal party at the rehearsal dinner on the wedding eve, November 9.

Miss Mary Henderson, whose wedding is dated for next month, will be honor guest at a linen shower which Miss Van Dusen will give within the next two weeks.

Miss. Kennard's Wedding Plans.

The only attendants will be Master Carl Martin as page and Miss Beulah Martin and Katherine Gasch, a niece of Mr. Hayes, as flower girls. The wedding will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Stephen Martin in Walnut street at 9 o'clock in the evening. Following a wedding trip, Mr. Haynes and his bride will be at home in Vincennes, Ind., after November 15.

Handsome Reception in Beaver.

One of the largest and most elaborately appointed social affairs ever given in the Beaver valley was the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. John H. Galey at "Windyghoul," their summer residence, near Beaver, at 8 o'clock last evening. The house is a large brick dwelling, situated on a high bluff overlooking the Ohio river and the Beaver valley for miles in every direction. The mansion presented a brilliant appearance, with nearly 200 electric lights. More than 200 people were present from Beaver, Rochester and Bridgewater. The large porches were enclosed with canvas and the decorations were in white, pink and green. Mr. and Mrs. Galey were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Galey's father, Judge Tebbetts, and sister, Mrs. M. T. Banes, Samuel Galey of the East End, Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Thomas Coleman of Harrodsburg, Ky.

Both young people are well known in Sewickley, where they will live.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

THE annual meeting of the board of managers of the public washhouse and bath was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the Twentieth Century club house. The progress on the building, which is being erected in Thirty-fifth street, Lawrenceville, was discussed and is so encouraging, with prospects that it will be completed before the contracted time, January 1, that chairmen were yesterday appointed for a large number of committees which will have charge during the next year of the furnishing and the work which will be conducted in each department.

The former officers were re-elected and include Mrs. D. C. Clapp, president; Mrs. John Brown Herron, first vice president; Mrs. Alfred Arundel, second vice president; Miss Edsall, treasurer; Mrs. Columbus Wilson, recording secretary; Mrs. Henry B. Birch, corresponding secretary. Mrs. D. C. Clapp was re-elected treasurer of the building fund. The building committee which has had charge of the work thus far, selecting the plans and arranging the various details, consists of Mrs. John B. Herron, chairman; Mrs. H. B. Birch, Mrs. J. H. McIlvaine, Mrs. Wenman A. Lewis and Mrs. Theodore Tonnelle.

The chairmen appointed were as follows: House committee, Mrs. Harry M. Doubday, chairman; men's club rooms, Mrs. William Thompson and Mrs. Alfred Arundel; women's club rooms, Mrs. A. W. Wall; laundry, Mrs. Louis Rott; sewing, Mrs. S. B. Douglass; store rooms, Mrs. S. P. Rowand and Mrs. S. A. Burns; entertainments, Mrs. W. La Fickes; day nursery, Miss Kate Smith and Miss Edsall; printing, Mrs. John McClurg.

The building is now under roof and the rooms are large, light and airy. On Wednesday a number of the managers went out to see how the work is progressing. The trailing of silk skirts over the rough floors and up and down the steep ladders which serve for stairways was a most unusual sight. At present the strike of the plumbers is causing a delay in the work. The public washhouse and bath embraces more features of benevolent work under one roof than any other institution in the city. Founded on the record and experience gained in conducting the household and clothing bureau several years ago in St. James' Protestant Episcopal church, it now embraces in its scope the public laundry and baths, the clothing and household bureau, club rooms for men and for women, a gymnasium, an assembly hall, where entertainments will be given, a day nursery where mothers may leave their little ones through the day while they are out at work, and a reading room.

Thursday Afternoon Club Opens Year.

Music was a prominent feature of the program of president's day of the Thursday Afternoon club of Wilkinsburg. The club was entertained yesterday afternoon by Miss Mary Goldie and her cousin, Miss Jean Hunter, at Miss Goldie's home in Trenton avenue. There was a large number of guests from other clubs, including club presidents and friends of the members of the Thursday Afternoon club. The program which was presented was short and very interesting. Short and clever addresses were made by Miss Ida Carmack, the retiring president, and by Mrs. Curtis A. Graham, newly elected, to that office. Miss Emma B. McCracken, the chairman of the social committee, made the opening address. Miss Louise Lyon sang exquisitely a couple of songs entitled "You and I," by Liza Lehmann, and "Little Doris," by DeKoven. Miss Lyon studied in New York last winter, but expects to remain at home this season. "In Der Marznacht," by Taubert, and "Sing, Sweet Bird," by Gounod, were charmingly rendered by Miss Ethel Rawsthorne. Miss Nina Eaton played several enjoyable violin solos, and the program was concluded with an impromptu piano number by Miss Olive Bolger. A humorous reading, "Story of a Goose-Leg," by Hopkinson Smith, was given by Miss Helen Pershing.

After the program refreshments were served in the dining room, where pretty decorations in green and white, the club colors, prevailed. Miss Bessie Goldie presided over the punch bowl in the inclosed porch leading from the dining room.

After a pleasant social time a brief business meeting of the club was held, when Mrs. Frank Gordon was elected the club's delegate to Carlisle. As Mrs. Gordon is going, no alternate was chosen.

Hockey Introduced Into Thurston School.

Under the supervision of Miss Sanderson, daughter of Prof. Sanderson of Yale, hockey is to be introduced in the physical training department of the Thurston Preparatory school. Hockey is an outdoor game that for a long time has been popular among women in England and is played at all English girls' schools. The Thurston school now has under consideration several large lots in the Shadyside district where the pupils can receive instruction and play hockey and other outdoor games under the care of Miss Sanderson, who considers hockey one of the best possible games for girls, as it can be played without apparatus or a special uniform, is easily learned and is a splendid exercise not only for the muscles but for self-control and quick mental action. Hockey has recently been taken up by women's athletic clubs and by the women members of several field and country clubs in the east and in Chicago.

Carnegie Round Table Organized.

A meeting of business and professional men of Braddock was held last night, called by George H. Lamb, Carnegie librarian, and the "Carnegie Round Table" was organized. Over 125 attended, and after the business meeting there was a banquet. Toasts were responded to by the Rev. William G. Reagle and Grant Norris. The Round Table is organized for discussions of civic reform, and will meet the second Friday in each month. These officers were elected: President, Grant Norris; vice presidents, James K. Mills and ex-Burgess Harry C. Shellenberger; secretary, George A. Todd; treasurer, George C. Watt.

Club Notes.

The Woman's club of Carnegie will meet today in the Carnegie library. The meeting will be led by Mrs H. C. Young.

The Vassar Students' Aid society will hold its October meeting today.

Tuesday, October 13, will be president's day of the Woman's club of Wilkinsburg.

PUT AWAY FOR SOCIETY'S GOOD

Samuel Anderson Got 16 Years for Attacking Two Little Girls.

$500,000 IS LEFT BY M'KNIGHT

Standard Steel Car Company Objects to Decree—W. P. Jutte Will Appeal Coal Case—Mandamus Refused Against Mayor Hays.

Samuel Anderson pleaded guilty to two charges of felony made by Superintendent M. H. Campbell of the Allegheny police and was sentenced to serve 16 years in the Western penitentiary, eight years on each charge. The charges were made on behalf of Margaret Dale and Alice Prescott, minor children, of Allegheny. In sentencing Anderson, Judge Rodgers said:

"You are a menace to society and should be put away."

The will of Ebenezer McKnight, a contractor who died at his home in South Highland avenue last Sunday, was filed and disposes of a $500,000 estate. His widow is bequeathed the homestead and the personal property therein. The residue of the estate is left in the hands of William T. McKnight, his son, and Mrs. Annie Caldwell, a daughter, who are named as executors, until the death of Mrs. McKnight, when the estate is to be divided into five parts, R. J., W. T. and George McKnight, Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Mazie Thompson, the testator's children, to share equally. Attorney C. C. Lee represents the executors.

The will of John Ablez, late of Homestead, has been probated and gives his estate, valued at $11,750, to his widow, with the provision that if she remarries she is required to divide one-half of the estate among their children.

Another provision permits her to divide with the children at her own volition, but if she does so she is required to retain $4,000 which cannot be divided during her natural life, to provide for her old age.

Isabella Kerr, late of Plum township, after making several bequests of $200 among her children, one of that amount to the Logans Ferry United Presbyterian church, leaves the residue of an $18,000 estate to children, William John Kerr, Mrs. Elizabeth Munnis and Mrs. Melissa A. Alter.

In the suit of the Pressed Steel Car Company against the Standard Steel Car Company, the defendant filed suggestions in the nature of exceptions to the form of a decree drafted and submitted by the plaintiff company. The defendant company avers the decree is too sweeping and indefinite and that it should be limited to giving relief to the plaintiff only, as to the specific blue prints originating in the works of the plaintiff company and admitted to be in the possession of the defendant company, to the alleged copies of certain blue prints of the plaintiff of tracings made by railroads, and to any copies of blue prints in the two classes mentioned, if any such copies have been made by the defendants.

Steps preparatory to taking an appeal to the supreme court were taken in the suit of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company against William C. Jutte. A recent decree in accordance with the opinion of Judge John D. Shafer was made restraining the defendant, his employes, etc., from engaging in the coal business in any manner for the 10-year period embodied in the agreement made between the litigants when the company absorbed Jutte's interests.

On the petition of the defendants' attorney the court made an order fixing bail in the sum of $15,000 for a supersedeas upon an appeal to the supreme court.

A mandamus was refused in the suit of the Improved Street Sweeper Company against the city of Pittsburgh, Mayor William Hays and Director E. M. Bigelow, of the department of public safety. The company declared that under bids opened February 25 for push brooms, natural corn, etc., it was the lowest bidder. The contract was never signed and a mandamus to compel the city to sign the papers was asked. The bids were opened while Jas. McCandless was director of the department.

Judge R. S. Fraser, who refused to grant the mandamus, filed an opinion giving an exhaustive history of the case. The original award of February 25 had been signed by Recorder J. O. Brown, in May new advertisements for bids were published and in June the contract was awarded to another firm, and duly signed. The court finds that Recorder Brown and Director McCandless, not having signed the contract, no award was made, and the court cannot compel Mayor Hays and Director Bigelow to do something their predecessors in office evidently thought ought not to be done.

B. F. JONES' ESTATE.

Inventory of Personal Property Alone Shows Over $17,000,000.

The inventory of the personal estate of the late B. F. Jones, the steel manufacturer, has been filed, the appraisement being made by W. C. Moreland and C. B. McVay. The aggregate of the personality is $17,256,663, of which $14,870,416 is in stock values, $1,649,057 in bonds, $349,499 84 in notes, and $56,710 82 amounts due from certain persons. The real estate holdings of the deceased are separate from the personal estate and are not included in the inventory.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

In the divorce suit of Sadie F. Jones against James W. Jones, the master has recommended a decree on the grounds of infidelity.

Julius Splath has entered a trespass suit against Matt Loos for injuries said to have been done to his reputation by being charged with larceny by the defendant before Alderman Lang. The plaintiff says the alderman found him not guilty.

Cornelius Buckley, a driver, entered suit against the Pittsburgh Railways Company for $5,000 damages. A car hit a patrol wagon and he was knocked out on to the pavement. He says he was rendered unconscious. He says the patrol wagon he was driving had right of way under a city ordinance.

In the matter of Boyd G. Cubbage against the Pittsburgh Coal Company the court has made an order permitting the plaintiff's civil engineer to enter the defendant's mines at Carnegie to examine the condition and location of the mine under plaintiff's property, in the proceedings the plaintiff seeks to restrain the defendant from constructing a ventilator on his property.

In the suit of William E. Bennett against William L. Kann an affidavit of defense was filed. It is an action on the balance for a contract for the erection of a stone and brick residence on Dithridge street. The contract price was $20,250. The defendant avers that plaintiff owes him money for work he had done by another contractor instead of him owing the defendant.

The following executions were issued yesterday: Charles K. Barnhart vs. Mike Sharrak, $117 86; Mrs. E. J. Border vs. Charles S. Kevan, $200; Somers, Tiller & Clark, Ltd., vs. Henry Ulrich, $302 28; Charles K. Barnhart vs. A. C. Armstrong, $312 35; Charles W. Houston vs. R. M. Schaffer et al., $150; Keystone Bank of Pittsburgh against Pittsburgh Auto Company, $8,036.

Found Poker Game in Progress.

Inspector P. F. Kelly and Policeman Charles McAfee raided an alleged gambling room at No. 29 South Twenty-ninth street shortly after noon yesterday. A big poker game was in progress in a room on the third floor and the police got in, they said, because the sentinels who guarded the place were away to their dinner. The alleged proprietor, Stanko Lovitch, and 10 visitors were taken to the South Side police station.

Meyersdale Man in Trouble.

J. Everett Miller of Meyersdale, Pa., an agent for the Pittsburgh Phonograph Company, was committed to jail yesterday on a charge of embezzlement. It is claimed he received goods amounting to $284 which he sold and only returned $50 to the firm. Miller was arrested at his home in Meyersdale.

SLUMP IN STOCKS LEADS TO SUICIDE

RESOURCES WERE EATEN UP

After an Interview With Mrs. Baker He Goes and Kills Himself With Revolver. Is Said to Have Been Long on the Steel Market.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Daniel Kellogg Baker, a general agent of the Equitable Life Insurance Company, shot and killed himself in a room at the Everett House today. Mr. Baker was 50 years old and lived at No. 109 West Forty-fifth street with his wife. He was one of the ablest insurance men in the country. It is said his loss in United States Steel was the cause of the suicide.

Before going to the Everett House Mr. Baker had visited his apartments in the St. James, where he had a two hours' conference with his wife. Then he went directly to the Everett and remained there until he ended his life. Mr. Baker has been married but four years and his wife is 15 years younger than he.

Manager Dickinson of the St. James hotel, when notified of Mr. Baker's suicide this afternoon, said that he believed that the dead man had lost a great deal of money speculating in steel stocks lately.

"I understand," said Mr. Dickinson, "that Mr. Baker was long on the entire market. During the long continued slump he had exhausted every resource in keeping up his margins and finally when steel reached low water mark last week his margins were wiped out completely."

Mrs. Baker, when told of her husband's death was completely prostrated. When she recovered sufficiently to talk she said she did not know anything about Mr. Baker's business, nor had she known that he was in financial difficulties. Lately he seemed to be ill.

Several of Mr. Baker's friends confirmed the statement of Mr. Dickinson that he had been speculating heavily in the stock market. They thought, however, that he was a man of considerable wealth, his losses were not such as to cause any grave alarm let alone drive him to the desperate act of taking his life. He left a statement which is held by the coroner.

CRASH IN HOG MARKET WILL AFFECT FARMERS

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—With a crash that recalled the days of 1893, the hog market broke today and the wildest excitement prevailed. A break of from 50 cents to 60 cents on light grades and from 40 cents to 50 cents on other grades was registered during the day. It is the first step to put hogs on a 4½-cent basis. It means a loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars to the shippers and farmers.

Since Monday there has been a steady decline, which foreshadowed the break of today. Since Monday morning the whole market has broken from 70 cents to 90 cents on heavy heads and an even $1 on light weights. Furthermore there were 11,000 hogs unsold when the market closed today.

The condition of the hog market has not been so bad since the Cudahy failure in 1893. It is the direct result of the closing of the lard and ribs corner operated by Swift & Co. In cleaning up that deal it was necessary to hold up the high prices which have prevailed in the past year. During that time hogs sold as high as $8 and ranged between that price and $6. Now it is the intention, it is declared, to put the market on a firm $4 50 basis.

In the market today Swift bought heavy packing hogs for $4 75 to $4 80, while Cudahy bought them for $4 75. At that rate it means a loss of $100 to $150 a car to shippers who bought at the old rates. This will entail a heavy loss on farmers if the plan succeeds. They have reaped a harvest from the high prices in the past year or two, and the whole country has gone crazy over the hog market. The country, it is said, is filled with hogs being fattened to take advantage of the high prices.

CONSOLIDATED DIRECTORS FIGURE ON ANOTHER PLAN

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Directors of the subsidiary companies of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company met at the offices of the consolidated company here today to construct a new proposition looking toward saving the property for the stockholders. Prior to the meeting conferences were in progress, both at the offices of the company and at the law offices of counsel for the stockholders. It was admitted that those conferences were for the purpose of discussing the new proposition.

The proposition, it is said, involves no abandonment of the reorganization plan as already given to the stockholders, but embraces new conditions that have been imposed by Speyer & Co. to insure that plan being carried into effect.

It is believed the proposition has already been assented to by counsel for the stockholders and counsel for Speyer & Co. If it shall be indorsed by the directors of the subsidiary companies it will be announced to the stockholders without loss of time.

It is said that the payment of the $250,000 for wages, on which the first extension of the Speyer loan was conditioned, is not to be exacted under the new arrangement, and that the proposition does not involve the immediate raising of funds, but if accepted, the sale of the properties will be deferred long enough to give an opportunity to complete the reorganization of the company.

WALL STREET IS AGAIN INCLINED TO PESSIMISM

Break in Amalgamated Copper and Decline in Steel Encourage the Bears to Renewed Activity—New Low Record for Crucible Preferred.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

A pessimistic feeling pervaded Wall street yesterday. This was due not so much to any new developments in the financial or industrial situation, as it was to what Secretary Shaw would probably describe as the activity of a psychological microbe. Some of the more conservative bankers and brokers ascribed the change in sentiment to the revelations made in connection with the legal proceedings relating to the ill-fated United States Shipbuilding Company affairs. These revelations were certainly not conducive to a restoration of confidence in the newer securities that have come on the market, although the testimony is not conclusive that similar methods of financiering and market manipulations were applied to all the recently organized companies. The inflation of values in this instance, however, and the implication that the interest of the great underwriting financiers ceased with the successful marketing of securities received for the use of their names, would naturally arouse doubts in the minds of investors. The public is in the mood to go to the extreme opposite to that occupied three years ago, and now as then there will be bold operators who will make the most of the situation.

London quotations were lower all around, due to the developments in Manchuria, and there was no recovery in the foreign market, prices closing weak at the lowest. The bears in Wall street took advantage of the feeling abroad and almost from the beginning hammered values. They selected Amalgamated Copper as the most vulnerable stock, because the directors are scheduled to meet within the next two weeks to take action on the quarterly dividend. The price of copper declined both here and in London, and this, together with the action of the Steel directors on the common stock dividend, gave a plausibility to rumors that the Amalgamated directors would pass the dividend on this stock. The Rockefeller interests have been credited with opposition to any dividend on Steel common. The same interest controls Amalgamated Copper, and could therefore give an example in conservatism in passing the dividend on Amalgamated. This was the argument, and it seemed to be effective for Amalgamated finally sold down to 35%, the lowest price in the history of the company, and closed at 35¾. Anaconda Copper declined 3¾ per cent to 66. The ease with which Amalgamated Copper was depressed aided the efforts of the bears to create the impression that the dominating interest in the street is still opposed to a bull market. The weakness in the Steel issues only intensified the growing pessimism. The common sold down to and closed at 14⅝, the previous low point. Since the cut in the dividend the market value of the stock has declined the equivalent of a year and a half's dividends at the new rate. The preferred stock sold off from 95 to 82¾ and closed only a fraction above the lowest. The new bonds declined from 73 to 70¾ and closed at 71¼. Smelting was another weak feature, declining to 40⅜ and closing at 40½. Tenness e Coal & Iron made a new record by breaking to 29, closing at 29⅜. General Electric broke nearly 4 points to 140½. Sugar broke 2 per cent to 108½ and closed at the lowest.

While the tone of the railroad list was heavy throughout, the losses were smaller. Pennsylvania sold off to 117⅛, New York Central to 115¼, St. Paul to 135½ and Northwest to 157. The middle class stocks like Missouri Pacific, Louisville & Nashville, Baltimore & Ohio, Union Pacific and Atchison declined 1 to 1½ per cent, while the Readings, Eries and Rock Island were 1 to 2 per cent lower. There was no rallying power at the close, which was at or near the lowest prices of the day. The sales reached 616,000 shares.

It has invariably happened during the past three months when there were periods of inexplicable depression that rumor has taken liberties with the names of individuals who were known to be or who were supposed to be largely interested in the stock market. Yesterday was no exception, but so far as known there was no more foundation for yesterday's stories than for others which events have disproved. It was the consensus of opinion that the bulk of yesterday's selling was for short account; there was none of that tumbling out of stocks which accompanies the liquidation of bank loans, and there was nothing in money market rates to indicate hardship to borrowers. Call loans opened at 2½ per cent, which was the highest for the day, and at the close declined to 1½ per cent.

The governors of the Bank of England made no change in the minimum rate of discount, but the weekly report of the bank showed a further loss in reserve. Loans decreased more than $16,000,000, and the percentage of reserve to liability declined to 42.89 per cent. This is within 5 per cent of the lowest reserve reported for the year, and 15.07 per cent below the highest reported last July. The weekly report of the Bank of France showed a contraction in bills discounted of $5,700,000, and a decrease in gold of about $5,400,000. While the New York banks have thus far this week gained $1,300,000 through sub-treasury operations, it is expected that the statement tomorrow will reflect heavy shipments of currency to the interior. Still, the present and prospective condition of the money market is not likely to be an important factor in the stock market. The indications are that time money will continue to grow easier.

The tone of the local stock market yesterday was decidedly heavy, and with one unimportant exception everything on the list closed at net declines. The most active stock and at the same time the weakest was Crucible Steel, preferred, which broke 3¾ per cent to 54⅝, the lowest ever quoted. The common sold down to and closed at 6⅜. United States Steel was also active, but the market here merely reflected conditions and prices in Wall street. Late in the session Pittsburgh Coal developed considerable weakness, and on very light sales the common broke to 22 and the preferred to 71¼, both closing at the lowest. River Coal preferred closed unchanged at 33. There was some pressure against National Fire Proofing common, which broke to and closed at 16¼. There were no transactions in the preferred, which closed nominally unchanged at 29@29½. Manufacturers Light & Heat was active, but declined from 30¾ to 30, closing at 30¼. Westinghouse Electric was weak, declining to and closing at 69½. Airbrake was also off a point, selling at 135. The only change in the banking group was a further decline of 3½ per cent in Allegheny Trust to 150. There was nothing doing in bonds.

BARGE STAGE LOOKED FOR.

Many Much-Needed Empties Are Being Brought Into the Harbor.

A barge stage in the local rivers is looked for by many rivermen. The rivers have been steadily rising and it is probable that 8 feet may be reached by tomorrow. More rain is looked for. Crews were sent to several of the boats which are lying in the upper Ohio river, and they will come in the harbor, bringing many empties. Empty coal boats and barges are scarce, and some of the mines have been forced to shut down on account of a lack of empty craft. This will be remedied when said boats and men will be busy for some time. There are 18 local steamers tied up along the upper Ohio river.

The needles were taken out of the Davis island dam yesterday and 30 wickets were lowered. The water is coming as usual from the Allegheny river. The little towboat Charles Turner, which had been aground at Duff's, was released yesterday and came into harbor. The steamer Little Fred, which has been aground in the trap for several weeks, will probably be got off today.

Should the rivers reach a stage of eight feet several tows of light barges will be sent down the river. There are many tows made up at the landings, and some of these are light barges.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 5.1 feet and the river was rising.

News of the Rivers.

The annual convention of the Ohio River Improvement association opens in Evansville, Ind., next Wednesday. Several prominent rivermen will represent local interests.

The Pittsburgh and Wilmot were inspected by the local inspectors, George H. Atkinson and Isaac B. Williams, yesterday. The Bertha will be inspected today at Browns station.

Capt. Dana Scott of the Lorena is in this city on a business trip. He reports that business is good on the Muskingum river. The Lorena, which has been running in the Zanesville and McConnellsville trade, will resume her trips to Pittsburgh if there comes sufficient water for navigation in the Ohio river.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

According to brokers, the weakness in the local stock market yesterday was due largely to the liquidation of bank loans. The necessity for such liquidation was hardly apparent, inasmuch as the local money market is easier. Nearly 2,000 shares Crucible Steel preferred came out at prices ranging from 57¾ to 54⅞, the latter the lowest ever quoted. The selling was well scattered among three or four leading houses. When one house had apparently completed a selling order, another would start, and the price continued to decline to the close of the market. The weakness in Crucible was responsible for the decline in some of the other specialties. The break in Pittsburgh Coal did not occur until near the close of the session, when a selling order for 100 shares broke the common to 22. The preferred sold off 1¾ per cent on the marketing of 175 shares. The buying of the general list was necessarily of a good character, for the reason that brokers are still discouraging margin business.

The selling "for account of whom it may concern" of several blocks of investment securities, aggregating a market value of more than $60,000, was generally supposed to represent the liquidation of a bank loan, and tended to increase the waiting attitude of investors. The stocks sold were 100 shares Westinghouse Airbrake, 200 shares Colorado Fuel & Iron, 200 shares of Chicago & Northwestern, 35 shares Diamond Match and 50 shares United States Steel preferred. McFarland was the buyer of the lot, which brought full market prices. Today at noon there will be sold on the exchange for account ten $1,000 bonds of the American Clay Manufacturing Company, 1,588 shares of the preferred stock and 694 shares of the common of the same company.

Manufacturers Light & Heat continues to be well supported around 30. The stock sold up to 30½ and down to 30, but was in demand at the latter price.

Philadelphia Company common sold to the extent of 100 shares at 37. Considering the amount of the issue outstanding the stock has been holding well.

The feeling on the local exchange yesterday was gloomy enough to indicate that a favorable change was near at hand.

Three cents more was added to the price of oil yesterday, bringing the Pennsylvania product up to $1.65 a barrel, the highest of the year.

The Realty Corporation of Pittsburgh yesterday paid an initial dividend of 4 per cent out of the earnings to October 1. The officers of this company are W. D. George, president; D. H. Wallace, vice president; F. S. Guthrie, secretary, and C. P. Chubb, treasurer.

The Rio Tinto Mining Company has declared dividend of 32s 6d, an increase of 5s from the May payment.

The liberal extracts published yesterday from testimony elicited in the hearing of the legal proceedings connected with the United States Shipbuilding Combination, created a profound impression throughout Wall street. The details there set forth of the process of corporation promotion, underwriting, and stock flotation, gave rise to disturbing analogies with a large mass of industrial securities, which have come into the market in the last few years and are now lying there in a practically water-logged position. The assumptions growing out of these disclosures were of so grave a character, and applied to such important quarters as to unsettle the mind of the financial public over the future conditions. The gravity of the occasion received its recognition in the unusual course of the public statement issued later in the day, formally disclaiming the implications of the incident by J. P. Morgan & Co.

J. Pierpont Morgan's denial that he personally or his firm ever had any connection with United States Shipbuilding affairs or ever owned any of the securities of that corporation which was put out a few minutes before 3 o'clock, came too late to have any effect on the market, but it may serve to restore confidence today.

The eastern bond market behaved better than stocks and showed some evidence of investment absorption. Total sales par value $3,552,000. United States 2s declined ¼ per cent on the last call.

The National Fire Proofing directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable October 23.

Directors of the Fidelity Title & Trust Company have declared a quarterly dividend of 3 per cent, payable December 1 to stockholders of record November 10. The dividend is payable on the $1,000,000 old stock, as the new stock did not become fully paid until September 30, and until that time was on an interest-paying basis. The dividend declared is an increase of 1 per cent for the quarter, and places the stock on a 16 per cent basis.

"Once more the tape is victorious. It is an old saying that the tape always tells the true story. Jay Gould used to say that the tape was the only thing in Wall street that never lied," said a prominent banker yesterday, "and the story of the passing of the dividend by the Virginia-Carolina Chemical and the United States Realty. The tape told the story of the collapse of the Consolidated Lake Superior and the United States Shipbuilding bond before it was suspected that either of these companies would have to undergo a reorganization. The tape has now told the story of the cutting of the dividend on Steel common, in the face of emphatic statements by leading directors that there would be no change in the dividend rate on the common stock, there was a steady and persistent shrinkage in the market value of the stock, indicating that insiders were unloading their holdings. The action of the Steel directors in cutting in half the dividend on the common stock vindicated the tape."—New York Commercial.

Philadelphia News Bureau: "W. P. Snyder of Pittsburgh, president of the Clairton Steel Company, was in New York yesterday to confer with officials of the Steel Corporation relative to payment of money pledged in connection with the Clairton plant. The pledge was made last July. There has been called 45 per cent of the total amount of $6,000,000 pledged, which would make the corporation's share $1,800,000. It is understood that $900,000 has been paid yet, the company being financed through the credit of the people who agree to stand back of the stock when the deal was made. It was understood at the time that the money was not to be paid at once, but if or when it was needed. The $900,000 of money being pledged has so far enabled the officers to carry the company along."

TLETT STREET OUSE PURCHASED

is C. Phelan Secures Fine Squirrel Hill Residence for $45,000.

iberty Avenue Residence Brings $30,000 in a Trade—East End Transactions. Active Buying in Hill District—Other Sales.

The residence of Henry E. Askin of the G. McClure Company, just being finished on the south side of Bartlett street, between Wightman street and Murray avenue, has been sold for a price approximating $45,000 through the Real Estate Trust Company. The property is one of eight that are commonly known as the "Squirrel Hill colony," the owners having bought the lots two years ago and agreed upon plans of buildings and neighborhood improvements. Mr. Askin's residence is a 9-room stone house, finished throughout in hardwood and standing on a lot 100x250 feet. It is one of the most handsome properties in this part of the Twenty-second ward and was designed originally for Mr. Askin's home. The buyer is Alexis Phelan, a son of W. D. Phelan, and a prominent contractor who is in charge of one of the sections of the Wabash railroad. For five years Mr. Phelan has resided in New York, but he will occupy the property just bought as a home next month. The seven members of the colony who still live in Bartlett street are J. Leslie Gloninger, John J. O'Connor, John E. Russell, Thomas S. McClure, Dr. G. A. Mueller Joseph A. Weldin and Frank J. Lanahan.

More Developments Down the Ohio.

The Riverview Land Company, which has bought a tract of over 200 acres on the west side of the Ohio river, between Aspinwall boats and Shannopin stations, on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, is preparing to lay out a town site of 50 acres in the spring. The land to be plotted embraces parts of the Musgrave, Langfitt and Jordan farms and is situated on the level plateau overlooking Coraopolis and the Sewickley valley. The property is admirably adapted for building sites and the company expects to start the improvements by building at least 20 houses. Three manufacturing firms are now negotiating for sites along the company's river frontage which has been platted 725 feet. An offer of $5,000 an acre was lately refused for a portion of this frontage, which lies 42 feet above the high water mark of 1884. As the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad crosses the property 500 feet back from the river and the public road runs through it 800 feet farther back, it is easily accessible for either business or manufacturing purposes. With the immense plant of the Ritter-Conley Manufacturing Company and the steel works of the American Bridge Company, both nearly across the river, and the improvements promised for this property, the Ohio valley will be entirely transformed in another year.

Exchange Deal of $45,000.

The W. R. Patterson residence at the southwest corner of Liberty and Winebiddle avenues, Twentieth ward, has been sold through the office of A. Z. Byers & Co. for $40,000, the transaction being in the form of an exchange. The residence is a 14-room colonial brick house, with all modern improvements, and the lot measures 84x150 feet. The buyer is a prominent local professional man who secured the property for a home. In part payment for it he tendered a farm of 115.5 acres on the Steubenville pike road in Robinson township. This farm, on which is erected a brick house and two large barns, was put into the deal at $15,000.

It develops that the same firm handled the sale of the Sarah E. Hipple property at the intersection of McClure avenue and the Ohio Connecting railroad, Allegheny, which was mentioned in Thursday morning's Gazette. It was bought by the Granite Improvement Company for $40,000.

Jacob Beurcher has sold to Annie Wolfson a residence property, 24x100 feet, on the north side of Center avenue, Eleventh ward, for $11,000.

Trust Companies Sell Two Properties.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company has disposed of two East End properties for $11,497 and $8,100, respectively. George H. Shideler was the buyer of the larger plot, which consisted of 225x137 feet on the north side of Hermitage street, in the Homewood Driving Park plan of lots, Tenth ward. The other property, 123x93 feet, in Upland street, same ward, was sold to Jacob D. and John Martsolf.

The hill district is coming into favor again with buyers, judging by the amount of dealing there recently. During the past 10 days four properties in Wylie avenue have been marketed for a total consideration of $32,000. These were No. 705 Wylie avenue, $24,000; Wylie avenue and Logan street, $11,500; Wylie avenue and Duff street, $9,200; Wylie avenue and Benton street, $8,000. In addition to these sales three other deals amounting to $28,500 have been made for neighboring properties in the Thirteenth ward within the same time. In the Sixth ward six sales totaling $26,500 have been reported since October 1, most of them cash transactions. Last spring, when the "hill" boom was on in earnest, it was predicted that there would be a decided slump in trading in that section this fall, but indications point to a brisk market for good renting properties.

Elk's Clubhouse at McKeesport.

The McKeesport Lodge of Elks No. 186 has appointed a committee to secure plans for the clubhouse which they propose to erect on a $25,000 site in Market street, near Fifth avenue, which they recently bought. The proposed building will cost about $75,000. It is to be a six-story structure, containing storerooms, offices, assembly auditorium, library, parlors, billiard rooms and bowling alleys. Work will be started as soon as the plans are accepted.

Boggs & Buhl have been granted a permit to build a two-story brick stable in Washington street, near Cedar avenue, Fourth ward, Allegheny, at a cost of $45,000.

Hughes & Patterson, Real Estate Savings and Trust Company sold for Samuel Buckley of Cleveland to William J. Josenhans, No. 728 Rebecca street, First ward, Allegheny, a two-story frame dwelling, 24x60, for $2,500.

Mt. Washington—L. D. Statler sold for Capt. J. Carroll to David G. Hood No. 53 Maple terrace, Mt. Washington, a 10-room frame house, lot 35x117 feet, for $5,900.

Hastings street—The Union Realty Company sold for Harry L. Boriand to Isabella Barr 30x62 feet in the northwest side of Hastings street, near Dunlevy street, Twenty-second ward, for $2,000, and to Annie C. Miller 25x80.5 feet in the same street for $2,000.

Sylvania street—Robert J. Cox sold to Minnie Meyer an improved lot, 25x102.5 feet, on the south side of Sylvania street, Thirty-eighth ward, for $1,800.

B. & O. Gets Another Property.

Second avenue—William J. Green sold to the Schurlkill Improvement Land Company an improved lot, 20x100 feet, adjoining the plant of the Elvin Ice and Fuel Company in Second avenue, Twenty-third ward, for $6,500.

Eugenia street—Edward M. Segners sold to Leonard A. Carrozza an improved lot, 23x100 feet, at the southwest corner of Eugenia street and Myrtle avenue, Thirty-eighth ward, for $2,500.

Hope street—G. C. Hartman sold to George M. Harton an improved lot 30x77 feet, on the northwest side of Arbor street, Twenty-first ward, for $2,200.

Homestead—The Homestead Baking Company has bought from Frederick Espy a lot 35x110 feet in Sixth avenue, Homestead, for $9,200 through the agency of J. W. Barnes. On the lot the company will erect a $7,000 addition to its present plant. The same broker also sold to Jennie J. Madigan an eight-room brick house, 35x110 feet, in Dixon street, Swissvale, for $3,400.

ANOTHER DECLINE IN REFINED SUGAR

Navy Bean Prices Advance. Dried Peas Lower— Oats Market Easier.

Refined sugar went lower yesterday, following a decline which refiners ordered on Wednesday. The reduction amounts to 5 points and affects the entire list of quotations. Demand at present is only moderate, and jobbers here express the opinion that further declines are not improbable before bottom is reached. As has been frequently stated, the request for sugar all summer was disappointing, and the volume of the haul is not likely this month. Refiners have not disposed of as much of their product as they expected to sell, and there is now a determined struggle on foot to secure trade. Coffee continues firm, the demand increasing as the season advances. Flour maintains its former position, with quotations nominally unchanged, while selling is done at a concession of 5 cents a barrel where the haul is short and order desirable. Navy beans are very stiff, and prices have again advanced, the range now being $2 50 to $2 60, with the market firm at those figures. There has been but a limited supply of navy beans for some time, owing to poor crops, and the stiffness of quotations is not surprising. Dried peas, on the other hand, are in plentiful supply, and quotations show a downward trend.

While there is still a large demand for canned goods of nearly all descriptions, there seems to be an inclination on the part of the trade to hold off pending the early fall run, which is very strong. Jobbers are holding lists as they were, but there is less firmness shown in most lines, and tomatoes are weak.

Potatoes have begun to come unusually to arrive in plentiful quantity, and prices remain at the range to which they were advanced 10 days ago. While there is no expectation of a shortage in the potatoes, there are not enough out as well as could be desired, and it does not look as though there would be any oversupply. Sweets are coming in freely, and the situation is unchanged. Onions continue plentiful, and there is no advance in prices, actual sales being rather under than above quoted figures.

Bananas are lower in price than they were, more on account of the poor quality of the majority of the offerings than because of any great increase in receipts. Grapes were in rather improved supply yesterday, and there was a temporary easing in price until some large stocks were sold. Peaches continue to arrive in fair quantity, but not of fancy grade, and prices are just holding their own.

Notwithstanding the large receipts of hay which have been coming in, the market has been held steady by an excellent demand, dealers asserting they could use much larger quantities of timothy and clover if they could be secured. Oats were down early Monday and quotations went of a half cent. Corn is unchanged and millfeed sells at former figures.

Butter, cheese and egg prices remain as last quoted. Poultry is quiet. Poultry sale continues at quotations which have ruled all week, with receipts fair.

GRAINS ONCE MORE ARE ON THE UPWARD TRACK

Wheat, Corn and Oats Yesterday Closed Strong in the Chicago Market.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Active buying of December wheat by commission houses and brokers caused a strong tone in that grain and as a result of this urgent demand the nearby delivery rose to the level of the May option. December wheat opened firm at the close, December being unchanged to 1c higher, at 77¾@77¾c to 77⅞@77⅝c. There was a disposition on the part of the general trade to regard the day's strength as a joke, and wouldbe sold on the advance on expectation of a reaction. But the firmness did not yield, and the character of the buying seemed to indicate support from one of the most prominent bulls. As a result shorts covered freely on the market advanced with the session. The big advances at St. Louis and Minneapolis, together with the small primary receipts and the large premiums offered for the cash article were held before late in the day, and gave a continued strong up to the close. Primary receipts were 889,000 bushels, against 1,057,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 506 cars, which, with local receipts of 316 cars, would make the total receipts for the three points of 822 cars, against 666 last week and 819 cars a year ago.

Corn ruled strong with wheat and a greater inclination to buy, which manifested on the part of local traders, while shorts also were quite active on that side of the market. Sunday's report of the primary crop movement was favorable to the bulls, the kernels giving evidence of the recent cold snap. Local receipts were 281 cars, with 35 of contract grade.

Oats followed other grains in their upward course, and after a slight reaction at the opening prices ruled firm. There was little pressure to sell, and a fair demand caused an firm shorts. Local receipts were 120 cars.

There were breaks all along the line in provisions during the session, influenced by the previous heavy selling, with little demand. The severe decline in hog prices during the week was the principal depressing influence. Prices held off about 10@12½c from the top of the day, January pork closing at $12 60; January lard was off 12½c at $6 60, while ribs were down 10@12c at $7 37½. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 90 cars; corn, 320 cars; oats, 130 cars; hogs, 16,000 head.

Dickinson's Eloquent Argument Has Much Weight With the Boundary Commission.

CLOSES WITH LOVE FEAST

John W. Foster Thanks British Government for Courtesy and Lord Alverstone Pays Tribute to American Counsel—Will Deliberate on Decision.

[Associated Press Cable To The Gazette.]

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The arguments in the Alaska boundary arbitration were finished today. Mr. Dickinson concluded with an eloquent peroration, dealing with the bonds of amity between the United States and Great Britain. The wives and families of the commissioners and of counsel were present.

John W. Foster, the agent of the United States, thanked the British government in the name of the American government, for its courtesy. Lord Chief Alverstone paid a tribute to Mr. Dickinson, and the sessions broke up.

The closing moments were marked by an intensity of interest hitherto lacking in the proceedings. As Mr. Dickinson finished his argument and commenced his reference to international relations and the possible effect of the verdict thereon, the members of the tribunal and the other listeners appeared to grasp the true import of the proceedings which had almost been lost sight of through the puzzling technical details in which they had been shrouded.

"The tribunal," declared Mr. Dickinson, "is unique and the treaty will entirely miscarry unless at least one member shall decide against the contention of his own people. The faith thus manifested by the government of Great Britain and America that judgment and justice will be exalted above the plane where the sympathies that move men have sway, challenges the attention of mankind and distinguishes this tribunal.

"It does not follow that a failure to reach a decision will show that such faith was in any degree misplaced, but if a settlement is reached it will be a triumphant epoch in history, the struggle of humanitarian principles for the substitution of something better than war as the sole court determining international differences. What could give higher inspiration to those laboring for the peace of the world than the settlement of these issues so pregnant of possibilities? If the tribunals should render judgment practically unanimous it would be the strongest assurance yet given to humanity that the Christian nations are tending to the only practical realization of the poet's dream of a parliament of nations and a confederation of the world."

Mr. Dickinson also paid a tribute to opposing counsel and Lord Chief Justice Alverstone's fairness.

Lord Alverstone said he had heard many leaders of the American bar speak in arbitration and other cases, but Mr. Dickinson's argument equalled anything he had ever heard, and he had not suffered by the fairness and impartiality with which he had presented his arguments.

Mr. Foster said: "Having approached the end of the open sessions, I desire in the name of the government of United States and behalf of my associates and myself to make public recognition of the extreme friendliness and consideration with which we have been received by the British government and by its representatives. Not only has every facility and convenience been afforded us for the dispatch of the business which brought us to this capital, but these acts have been attended by marked courtesy and kindness.

"In making this acknowledgment, it is especially pleasant to recall the fact that during our prolonged session not a harsh word has been spoken, nor has an unpleasant incident occurred to mar the harmony of our interior. May this be an indication of the character of the decision to be rendered by this tribunal, which both nations await with so much interest."

Lord Alverstone replied feelingly, saying that his majesty's government would doubtless deeply appreciate such an expression of friendship and thanks. Attorney General Findley entertained the commissioners and counsel at dinner tonight.

The commission on Monday will hold its first private session to consider its verdict.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—Representatives of the plate association, which includes all the principal steel plate manufacturers, are conferring over the price schedule. It is said that there is small likelihood of any important reductions. The present schedule, which the pool is expected to reaffirm, includes: Flange and boiler steel, $1 70 per 100 pounds; tank plate, quarter-inch, at mill, $1 60; firebox plates, $1 80; locomotive firebox, $2 10. The better condition of the market is expected to hold prices at the present schedule for at least the last quarter.

MUSICAL BURGLAR IS CAST INTO NEW YORK JAIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The strains of a violin issuing from the barber shop of John de Grazia at No. 117 East One Hundred and Nineteenth street about 2 o'clock this morning attracted the attention of Detective Breneke. His trained ear told him the music was a part from "Die Walkure." The detective surprised two men, one of whom was seated in a barber's chair playing while the other was rummaging the drawers. The men were held for trial on a charge of burglary.

EMPLOY OVER 6,000 MEN
AND PAY OUT IN WAGES OVER HALF A MILLION DOLLARS A MONTH.

FREE RAILROAD EXCURSION AND SALE
OF SOUTH SHARON PLAN OF LOTS
TOMORROW, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10.

During the past three years five plans of lots have been put on the market in South Sharon---and sold. These lots have all increased in value faster than any lots in any other town on the face of the earth. Men have doubled their money many times over. One man bought two lots for $500 three years ago. Last year he was offered $7,000 for them, but refused, believing that they will be worth $10,000 by spring. And such is the history of the town. Everybody whoever bought a lot in South Sharon has made money on it.

This new plan represents the best available property in the town. As a home site for workingmen it is ideal, being within easy walking distance of the mills and convenient to other important points.

The lots are larger than the usual run, being 30 to 50 feet front by 125 to 155 feet deep, while the prices are lower. We want to close out the entire plan in one day and have made the prices low in order to accomplish that. We do not guarantee to maintain present prices after the opening sale should any lots be left.
